This document comprises a base prospectus with different categories of securities pursuant to Art. 22 para. (6) of the Commission Regulation (EC) No. 809/2004 of 29 April 2004 (the "Regulation") regarding non-equity securities within the meaning of Art. 22 para. (6) no. (4) of the Regulation (the "Base Prospectus").

BASE PROSPECTUS RELATING TO DERIVATIVE SECURITIES
5 September 2008

Warrant and Certificate Programme

Under the Warrant and Certificate Programme described in this Base Prospectus (the "Programme"), HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG (the "Issuer"), subject to compliance with all relevant laws, regulations and directives, may from time to time issue warrants (the "Warrants") and certificates (the "Certificates") (as specified in the relevant Final Terms) (together the "Derivative Securities").

The Bundesanstalt für Finanzdienstleistungsaufsicht ("BaFin") as competent authority under the Prospectus Directive (as defined herein) has approved this Base Prospectus pursuant to § 13 paragraph (1) sentence 2 of the German Securities Prospectus Act (Wertpapierprospektgesetz), which requires the scrutiny of the Base Prospectus in relation to its completeness, coherence and comprehensibility.

This document contains the binding English language version of the Base Prospectus, including a German and French and Italian language translation of the Summary Note.

The Issuer has requested BaFin to provide each of the competent authorities in France and in Italy with a certificate of approval attesting that this Base Prospectus has been drawn up in accordance with the German Securities Prospectus Act, which implements Directive 2003/71/EG of the European Parliament and the Council of November 4, 2003 (the "Prospectus Directive") into German law. The Issuer may request BaFin to provide competent authorities in other Member States within the European Economic Area with such certificate of approval.

Application may, in the future, be made to list Derivative Securities of any series on a regulated market of any Stock Exchange in Germany, France, Italy or any other Member State within the European Economic Area, or to trade Derivative Securities on an open market (Freiverkehr) segment of any Stock Exchange in Germany or on an equivalent market of a Stock Exchange in any other Member State within the European Economic Area, or Derivative Securities may not be so listed or so traded at all, in each case as specified in the relevant Final Terms.

The Derivative Securities and the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or with any securities regulatory authority of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States and trading in the Derivative Securities has not been approved by the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act, as amended. The Derivative Securities will be issued in bearer form and may be subject to certain U.S. tax law requirements. The Derivative Securities and the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. persons. The Derivative Securities are being offered and sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons pursuant to Regulation S under the Securities Act of 1933 ("Regulation S") and may not be legally or beneficially owned at any time by any U.S. person.

Interests in a Temporary Global Security, if any will be exchangeable, in whole or in part, for interests in a Permanent Global Security on or after the date 40 days after the later of the commencement of the offering of the Derivative Securities and the relevant issue date (the "Exchange Date"), upon certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership.

An exercisable Derivative Security with physical settlement may not be exercised by or on behalf of any U.S. Person unless registered under the Securities Act or an exemption from registration is available.

ANNEX 3: UNAUDITED INTERIM REPORT OF THE ISSUER AS OF 30 JUNE 2008 ..... C-1

Summary

The following summary must be read as an introduction to this base prospectus (the "Base Prospectus"). This summary is qualified in its entirety by, and is subject to, information contained elsewhere in this Base Prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein and any supplement hereto. Therefore, any decision to invest in the Derivative Securities should not only be based on this summary but on a consideration of the Base Prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference, as well as the applicable Final Terms and any supplement to the Base Prospectus, if applicable, which are published in connection with the issuance of Derivative Securities.

Liability will be attached to HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG on the basis of this summary, only if the summary is misleading, inaccurate or inconsistent when read together with the other parts of this Base Prospectus.

Where a claim relating to the information contained in this Base Prospectus is brought before a court, the plaintiff may, under the national legislation of the state where the claim is brought, be required to bear the costs of translating the Base Prospectus before the legal proceedings are initiated.

Summary relating to the Issuer

The Issuer is conducted in the form of a stock corporation (Aktiengesellschaft, "AG") and its registered office is located in Königsallee 21/23, 40212 Düsseldorf, Federal Republic of Germany. There are branches in Baden-Baden, Berlin, Frankfurt am Main, Hamburg, Munich and Stuttgart. The Issuer is represented in foreign countries by subsidiary institutions in Luxembourg, HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt (International) SA and HSBC Trinkaus Investment Manager SA, as well as in Hong Kong with HSBC Trinkaus Investment Management Ltd.

As a credit institution (Kreditinstitut) within the meaning of § 1 of the German Banking Act (Kreditwesengesetz) the Issuer offers all services usually provided by a universal bank (Universalbank). The main fields of activity are primarily focused on the German market and other German-speaking markets within Europe.

The Issuer is a part of the HSBC Group, the top company of which is HSBC Holdings plc, London, which in turn holds indirectly 78.60 % of the shares in the Issuer. Landesbank Baden Württemberg, Stuttgart, indirectly holds a participation of 20.31% of the shares in the Issuer.

Summary of Risk Factors

The purchase of Derivative Securities issued under the Programme is associated with the risks summarised below. The specific risks in relation to the relevant underlying may be set out in the respective Final Terms, which must therefore always be taken into account in assessing the risks associated with an investment in such Derivative Securities. In this respect, investors should apart from the other information on the Issuer and the Derivative Securities contained in this Base Prospectus and in the Final Terms also consider the description of risks for their investment decision.

Investors in the Derivative Securities offered hereby should consider their current financial circumstances and investment objectives before deciding whether to invest in the Derivative Securities and always consult their own financial, legal and tax advisers with regard to the risks entailed by an investment in Derivative Securities and the suitability of such Derivative Securities in light of their particular circumstances.

Should one or more of the circumstances described below occur, this could lead to a material and long-term decline in the price of the Derivative Securities or, in extreme cases, to a total loss of interest and/or of the amount invested by the investor. Investors investing in Derivative Securities may incur a total or partial loss of the amount invested if the risk involved in the underlying(s) is realised in whole or in part.

Risks relating to the Issuer

As is the case with all companies existing under private law, there is a general risk of insolvency for the Issuer. The realisation of this risk would have the consequence that the Issuer would not be able to fulfil its payment obligations under any issued securities owed to the holders, and the holders would only be able to register their claims in accordance with the German Insolvency Code (Insolvenzordnung). There is the risk for the investor in the case of insolvency of the Issuer that there will be a total loss of the capital expended for the acquisition of any securities issued by the Issuer (purchase price plus other costs associated with the purchase).

Risks relating to the Derivative Securities

General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities

- Holding Derivative Securities involves a high degree of risk, which may include interest rate, corporate, market, foreign exchange, time value and/or political risks.
- Derivative Securities may expire worthless or be redeemable without any payment.
- The value of Warrants tends to decline over time, even if all other factors are held constant and Warrants may become worthless when they expire (except to the extent of any minimum expiration value).
- An investment in Derivative Securities will always include the risk that the invested capital may be lost in whole or in part and that no interest or premium will be paid.
- Investors in Derivative Securities face the risk of potentially incurring losses arising from features of the respective product which the investor did not consider prior to the investment due to a lack of knowledge of the relevant product and its mechanics. An investment requires exact knowledge of the circumstances of the transaction. Investors should have adequate knowledge of and experience in financial and business matters and be experienced with investments in the underlyings (e.g. structured interest rates, shares (including Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares), indices, currencies, commodities, investment funds or baskets of such underlyings) and know the associated risks.

- The underlying or basket of underlyings may be subject to significant changes during the term of the Derivative Securities due to various circumstances including fluctuations in its components.
- A Derivative Security referring to more than one underlying may have a cumulative or even leveraged risk compared to a security which is only related to one underlying.
- Investors may not be able to secure themselves against these different risks with regard to Derivative Securities.
- A material market disruption could lead to a substitution of the underlying or an early redemption or termination of the Derivative Security, so that the original assessment of risks may no longer apply or the investor would be exposed to reinvestment risk.

The value of the Derivative Securities, as it is dependent on one or several underlyings, will accordingly be subject to cumulative risks in a secondary market. The performance of the respective underlying is subject to a series of associated factors, including economic, financial and political events beyond the control of the Issuer.

If the formula used to determine the amount of principal, premium and/or interest payable with respect to Derivative Securities contains a multiplier or leverage factor or maximum/minimum interest or repayment limits, the effect of any change in the applicable underlying will be increased with regard to the amount payable.

The historical performance of the underlying may not be regarded as significant for the future performance during the term of Derivative Securities.

Risk Factors relating to Payments on the Securities

- Derivative Securities are unsecured obligations.
- Derivative Securities with derivative and structured interest and/or payment components bear the specific risks associated with the underlying:
    - Fluctuations in the value of the relevant underlyings or interest rates will affect the value of the Derivative Securities linked to such underlyings or interest rates.
    - The absence of last sale information and the limited availability of quotations for the relevant underlying may make it difficult for investors to obtain timely, accurate data for the price or yield of such underlyings.
    - The underlyings may be subject to change or substitution following the occurrence of certain events set out in the Final Terms, in particular if the underlyings cease to exist or are subject to a material change or modification.
    - A market disruption may have an adverse effect on the value of the Derivative Securities or the determination of the level or price of underlyings and/or may delay settlement in respect of the Derivative Securities.
    - Subsequent corrections of levels or prices of underlyings published by the relevant issuer, index sponsor or price source may be excluded.
- Foreign currency Derivative Securities expose investors to foreign-exchange risks.
- As a consequence of extraordinary early termination of the Derivative Securities, the amount to be paid in the case of such an early termination may be lower than the nominal amount or issue price per Certificate or the purchase price for Warrants paid by the Holder. In the event of early termination there is a reinvestment risk, which means that an investor may not be able to purchase another investment, which, at the time of such early redemption, has a pay out structure and risk profile equivalent to those of the terminated Derivative Securities.

- Prospective investors should be aware that any determination made by the Calculation Agent may have an impact on the value and financial return of the Derivative Securities.

Market Risks

- The trading market for debt securities may be volatile and may be adversely affected by various circumstances.
- An active trading market for the Derivative Securities may not develop, even if the Derivative Securities are listed or traded on a stock exchange.

Special Investment Risks

- The actual pay out on the Derivative Securities may be reduced from the stated pay out by transaction costs.
- Holders may not rely upon being able to enter into transactions which may exclude or limit loss exposure to the Derivative Securities during the term of the Derivative Securities.
- Margin lending, where it is permitted, can materially increase the risk of non-performance of the Derivative Securities to a Holder.
- An actual premium, profit or income generated by the Derivative Securities may be reduced by any tax payable in respect of the Derivative Securities.

Conflicts of Interests

- The Issuer and its subsidiaries or affiliates may from time to time engage in transactions and activities relating to the Derivative Securities or any underlyings. Such activities could be conducted in circumstances where the interest of Holders of the Derivative Securities may be in conflict with the interests of the Issuer or those of any of its subsidiaries or affiliates and such transactions and activities may adversely affect the value of the Derivative Securities.

Additional Risks in the case of Redemption by Physical Delivery

Prospective investors should note that the Final Terms may provide that the Derivative Securities will be redeemed by physical delivery of a given number of underlyings and not by cash, except in special circumstances specified in the Final Terms. It follows that:

- By purchasing the Derivative Securities prospective investors are also making a potential investment decision with respect to the underlyings.
- The Final Terms may provide that no fractions of underlyings will be delivered and for the payment of a cash amount in view of undeliverable fractions of underlyings.
- The value of the delivered underlyings might be significantly less than the capital invested by the investor and may, in extreme cases, even be zero.

- If the delivered underlyings are denominated in a currency other than the Specified Currency of the Derivative Securities, Holders are exposed to the risk of exchange rate fluctuations.
- The delivered underlyings may not be liquid at all or only to a limited extent.
- Investors may be required to bear all costs, fees, expenses and taxes associated with the delivery of the underlyings.
- Delivery of the underlyings may be impossible or delayed due to various circumstances including the occurrence of a settlement disruption event. Such settlement disruption event may have the consequence that the delivery of the specified underlyings may be replaced by payment of the cash amount or by other deliverable assets specified in the Final Terms.

Additional Risks relating to Warrants

- The time value of the Warrants – which influences the Cash Settlement Amount and the Physical Settlement Amount – is influenced by the price and/or level of the underlying, as well as by a number of other interrelated factors, including the length of the period remaining to expiration and expectations concerning the value of the underlying.
- The exercise of Warrants may be subject to a minimum or maximum number of Warrants exercisable on any day.
- There may be a time lag between the time a Holder gives instructions to exercise and the time the applicable Cash Settlement Amount (in the case of Cash Settled Warrants) or the Physical Settlement Amount (in the case of physically settled Warrants) relating to such exercise is determined.
- If the dividend rates on the underlying, where applicable, increase, the trading value of a Put Warrant or similar Security (a "Put Security") is expected to increase and the trading value of a Call Warrant or similar Security (a "Call Security") is expected to decrease.

Additional Risks relating to Certificates having no Maturity Date

- The return on such Certificates depends, inter alia, on the prevailing price of the relevant underlying and the date on which the relevant Holder exercises its Certificates. Apart from exercising the Certificate on the specified exercise dates Holders may only realise their investment on the secondary market (if such market exists).
- The Final Terms may specify a minimum amount of Certificates to be exercised by a Holder. If a Holder holds less than the required minimum amount, such Holder cannot exercise its Certificates and may either sell its Certificates or buy additional Certificates up to the required minimum amount on the secondary market (if such market exists).
- There may be a time lag between the time a Holder gives instructions to exercise its Certificates and the time the applicable Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Amount relating to such exercise is determined.

Summary of the Offering Programme in relation to the Derivative Securities

Reasons for the Issue

Under the Programme, the Issuer may issue bearer Derivative Securities (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) the terms and conditions of which are governed by German law, including Derivative Securities without a denomination.

Issue Statistics and Prospective Timetable

The Issuer may from time to time and at any time during the term of this Base Prospectus issue Derivative Securities pursuant to the Programme. The conditions and timetable of each issue of Derivative Securities shall be subject to the relevant final terms within the meaning of Art. 26 No. 5 of the Commission Regulation (EC) No. 809/2004 of 29 April 2004 (the "Final Terms").

Use of Proceeds

The reasons for the offer and use of proceeds are making profit and/or the hedging of certain risks.

Details of the Programme in relation to the Derivative Securities

Issuer:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG
Type of Programme:	Programme for the issue of bearer Derivative Securities (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) the terms and conditions of which are governed by German law. Under the Programme, the Issuer may inter alia issue Derivative Securities in the form of Warrants and non-interest bearing or interest bearing Certificates having fixed or floating rates and/or derivative and structured interest. Any payment upon exercise or redemption, as the case may be, of the Derivative Securities will be determined by reference to one or more underlyings.
Distribution:	The Derivative Securities will be distributed through the Issuer or such other entities as may be set out in the relevant Final Terms.
Offer:	The Issuer may offer Derivative Securities to the public or place the Derivative Securities privately with or without an applicable subscription period. The details relating to each offer will be set out in the relevant Final Terms.
Issue Price:	The Issue Price for the Derivative Securities issued under any tranche will be specified in the relevant Final Terms.
Issue Currency:	EUR or any currency specified in the relevant Final Terms in relation to any Series, in each case in compliance with applicable statutory provisions and exchange controls.

Maturities/Exercise:	Certificates may have either (1) a fixed term in which case the Certificates will be deemed as automatically exercised and redeemed on the redemption date set out in the Final Terms or (2) no designated maturity date ("Certificates without designated maturity") in which case any Certificate will be due and payable upon a duly exercise by the relevant Holder or upon a redemption at the option of the Issuer. In addition, the Final Terms may provide that Certificates shall be redeemed early following an Automatic Early Redemption Event or a Knock-Out Event as specified in the Final Terms. Warrants will become due and payable and will be settled upon a duly exercise of respective Holders on the dates specified in the Final Terms and, if applicable pursuant to the relevant Final Terms, upon an Automatic Exercise on the Expiration Date. Warrants expire on the Expiration Date, if they are not exercised or automatically exercised. In addition, Warrants will be deemed to be exercised following a Knock-Out Event as specified in the Final Terms. The Final Terms will set out the Exercise Dates or Exercise Periods, as the case may be, and exercise time applicable to Warrants and Certificates without designated maturity. Upon the exercise of a physically settled Warrant or Certificate without designated maturity, the Holder is required to provide a certification that the beneficial holder is not a U.S. person as defined in Regulation S.
Denomination:	The Derivative Securities will be issued as no-par value securities in units.
Interest in the case of Certificates:	The Programme may provide for Certificates not bearing periodic interest, Certificates with fixed or floating rates or fixed or floating interest amounts, Certificates with a derivative interest or payment structure linked to one or more underlyings (interest linked to underlyings such as structured interest rates (including by reference to (a) a fixed income security, to (b) a futures contract/rate, or to (c) a swap or option contract/rate, e.g. a reference to a Constant Maturity Swap (CMS) Rate), shares (including Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares), indices, currencies, commodities (including by reference to a futures contract/rate), investment funds, baskets and/or calculations of any of the above underlyings), and with maximum or minimum interest, as specified in the relevant Final Terms. Different types of interest or structures may be combined for different interest periods of a Certificate.
Interest in the case of Warrants:	Warrants do not bear interest.

Redemption	The Cash Settlement Amount or Physical Settlement Amount, as the case may be, of the Derivative Securities is determined by reference to underlyings to which the Derivative Securities are linked. Due to the link to an underlying, investors may receive less than their amount invested or, in extreme cases, suffer a total loss of their amount invested. There may be a limit to the degree in which the underlying affects the Derivative Security. The specific relation between the relevant underlying and the Derivative Securities is specified in the relevant Final Terms. The Final Terms may provide that Derivative Securities may be settled by delivery of certain underlyings or securities linked to certain underlyings (against payment of a strike price in the case of Warrants). In addition, the Final Terms may provide for the Issuer option to switch the relevant settlement basis. If the Physical Settlement Amount comprises fractions of underlyings or securities, the Final Terms may provide for the payment of a cash amount equal to the value of such fraction. Under certain circumstance as provided in the Final Terms, the Issuer will not be obliged to deliver the underlyings or securities. In such case, the Issuer will pay an amount in cash as specified in the Final Terms.
Underlyings:	Underlyings may include structured interest rates (including (a) a fixed income security, to (b) a futures contract/rate, or (c) a swap or option contract/rate, e.g. a reference to a Constant Maturity Swap (CMS) Rate), shares (including Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares), indices, currencies, commodities (including a futures contract/rate), investment funds, baskets, calculations and/or combinations of any of the above underlyings, as specified in the relevant Final Terms.
Early Redemption rights in the case of Certificates :	The Issuer may not redeem the Certificates early and the Holders may not require early redemption of the Certificates, unless the Final Terms provide for an early redemption right (Kündigungsrecht). The applicable early redemption rights and any other termination events, including an early redemption upon occurrence of an Automatic Redemption Event or Knock-Out Event, are specified in the relevant Final Terms. The Final Terms may provide that the Automatic Early Redemption Amount or Knock-Out Amount, as the case may be, in such circumstances will be zero. Certificates may be redeemed early at the Early Settlement Amount for tax reasons, following the occurrence of an Event of Default or any other additional termination event set out in the Final Terms. The Final Terms may provide that the Early Settlement Amount in such circumstances shall be equal to the fair market value of the Certificates, adjusted to account for any reasonable expenses and costs of unwinding any related hedging and funding arrangements of the Issuer.

Extraordinary Termination Events in the case of Warrants	Warrants may be subject to an early termination at the Early Settlement Amount following the occurrence of an Event of Default or any additional termination event set out in the Final Terms. The Final Terms may provide that the Early Settlement Amount in such circumstances shall be equal to the fair market value of the Warrants, adjusted to account for any reasonable expenses and costs of unwinding any related hedging and funding arrangements of the Issuer.
Status and Ranking:	The Derivative Securities will constitute senior unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer ranking pari passu amongst themselves and with any other senior unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer except for any obligation preferred by operation of law.
Credit Ratings	As of the date of approval of this Base Prospectus, the Issuer has received the following ratings from the rating agency set out below: Long-Term (LT) Issuer Default Rating (IDR): Fitch Ratings Ltd.: AA Short-Term Rating: Fitch Ratings Ltd.: F1+ Rating information is merely an aid for investors for the purposes of decision-making and cannot replace an individual assessment as to the suitability of an investment to be made by the investor and may not be taken as a recommendation to purchase or sell certain Derivative Securities. Ratings are merely intended as a support when making an investment decision and are only one of the factors relevant to an evaluation, which factor must be seen and weighted in the context of other factors. As ratings often are amended only after the creditworthiness of an issuer has changed, investors have to make their own judgments although a rating may exist.
Final Terms:	The final terms will in each case be specified in the relevant Final Terms which will be made available to investors in accordance with Section 14 of the German Securities Prospectus Act (Wertpapierprospektgesetz). The relevant Final Terms should be read in conjunction with this Base Prospectus and its supplements and the documents incorporated by reference.
Withholding Tax:	All payments of principal and interest will be made free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for, any taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by the Federal Republic of Germany or any political subdivision or any authority of the Federal Republic of Germany that has power to tax. If with respect to Derivative Securities such withholding or deduction is required by law, the Final Terms will provide that the Issuer will not be obliged to pay any additional amounts under the Derivative Securities or that the Issuer will – subject to the exemptions set out in § 6 of the Terms and Conditions of the Derivative Securities – pay such additional amounts as a Holder would have received if no such withholding or deduction had been required. However, the Issuer is entitled in this case to redeem the Derivative Securities early.

Form of the Derivative Securities:	The Derivative Securities will be issued as bearer securities (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) governed by German law. Derivative Securities in bearer form will be issued in accordance with TEFRA C or in accordance with TEFRA D, or in circumstances in which the Derivative Securities will not constitute "registration required obligations" for U.S. federal income tax purposes (which circumstances will be referred to in the relevant Final Terms as a transaction to which TEFRA is "not applicable"). Bearer securities of any particular tranche or series issued in accordance with TEFRA C, as specified in the Final Terms, and bearer securities of any particular tranche or series to which TEFRA is not applicable will be represented by a Permanent Global Security. Bearer securities of a particular tranche or series issued in accordance with TEFRA D, as specified in the Final Terms, will initially be represented by a Temporary Global Security and, subsequently, after the expiry of 40 days from the relevant issue date, by a Permanent Global Security. Definitive securities will not be issued, unless the Final Terms provide for the issue of definitive securities.
Stock Exchange Listing and Trading:	Application may, in the future, be made to list Derivative Securities on a regulated market of any Stock Exchange in Germany, in France, in Italy or any other Member State within the European Economic Area, or to trade Derivative Securities on an open market (Freiverkehr) segment of any Stock Exchange in Germany or on an equivalent market of a Stock Exchange in any other Member State within the European Economic Area, or Derivative Securities may not be so listed or so traded at all, in each case as specified in the relevant Final Terms.
Issuance in Series:	Derivative Securities will be issued in Series (each also an "Issue"). Each Issue may comprise one or more tranches ("Tranches" and each a "Tranche") issued on different issue dates. The Derivative Securities of each Issue will all be subject to identical terms, except that the issue date, the issue price and the amount of the first payment of interest may be different in respect of different Tranches.
Terms and Conditions of the Securities:	The Terms and Conditions may be prepared at the Issuer's choice in consolidated or supplemented form. The relevant Final Terms shall contain all information to be specified pursuant to this Base Prospectus and the Terms and Conditions, either in consolidated form or supplemented form. If the Issuer prepares consolidated conditions it may include a table into the Final Terms before the Terms and Conditions summarising the material economic terms.
Basis of Authorisation:	The Derivative Securities will be issued within the scope of the Issuer's banking and finance business as set out in its articles of association pursuant to an internal resolution of the Issuer.
Paying Agent:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG or any other agent specified in the relevant Final Terms.
French Paying Agent	BNP Paribas Securities Services or any other agent specified in the relevant Final Terms.

French Issuing Agent	BNP Paribas Securities Services or any other agent specified in the relevant Final Terms.
Italian Paying Agent	The Italian Paying Agent, if any, specified as such in the relevant Final Terms.
Italian Listing Agent	The Italian Listing Agent, if any, specified as such in the relevant Final Terms.
Italian Issuing Agent	The Italian Issuing Agent, if any, specified as such in the relevant Final Terms.
Calculation Agent:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG or any other agent specified in the relevant Final Terms.
Selling Restrictions:	Each issue of Derivative Securities will be made in accordance with the laws, regulations and legal decrees and any restrictions applicable in the relevant jurisdiction. Any offer and sale of Derivative Securities is subject to the selling restrictions in particular in the member states to the Agreement on the European Economic Area (EEA), in the United States, in the United Kingdom, in France and in Italy. Further restrictions applicable to any issue of Derivative Securities may be set out in the relevant Final Terms and must be observed, irrespective of the description in the Final Terms.
Governing Law and Jurisdiction:	The Derivative Securities are governed by German law.
Custody:	For the duration of their term, the Derivative Securities will be deposited as Global Securities at Clearstream Banking AG (Neue Börsenstraße 1, D-60487 Frankfurt am Main, Germany), Frankfurt am Main, or a depositary common to Clearstream Banking, société anonyme, Luxembourg (42 Avenue JF Kennedy; L-1855 Luxembourg; Luxembourg), Euroclear Bank SA/NV, Brussels (1 Boulevard du Roi Albert IIB - 1210 Brussels, Belgium) and/or Euroclear France S.A. (115, rue Réaumur, F-75081 Paris Cedex 02, France) and/or will be cleared through Monte Titoli S.p.A. (Via Mantegna 6, 20154, Milan, Italy) by means of its bridge accounts with another clearing system or another clearing system specified in the Final Terms.

Zusammenfassung der Risikofaktoren

Der Erwerb von unter dem Angebotsprogramm begebenen Derivativen Wertpapieren ist mit den im Folgenden zusammengefassten Risiken verbunden. Die konkreten Risiken hinsichtlich der Basiswerte können in den jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen dargestellt werden. Diese müssen daher immer mit in die Betrachtung der mit einer Anlage in die Derivativen Wertpapiere verbundenen Risiken einbezogen werden. In diesem Zusammenhang sollten Anleger neben den übrigen in diesem Basisprospekt und in den die Emission betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen enthaltenen Informationen über die Emittentin und die Derivativen Wertpapiere auch die Beschreibung der Risiken für ihre Anlageentscheidung heranziehen.

Anleger sollten vor der Entscheidung über einen Erwerb von Derivativen Wertpapieren zunächst ihre jeweilige finanzielle Situation und ihre Anlageziele berücksichtigen und die Risiken im Zusammenhang mit einer Anlage in Derivative Wertpapiere und die Eignung solcher Derivativen Wertpapiere angesichts ihrer persönlichen Umstände mit ihren persönlichen Finanz-, Rechts- und Steuerberatern erörtern.

Sollte einer oder sollten mehrere der unten beschriebenen Umstände eintreten, könnte es zu wesentlichen und nachhaltigen Kursrückgängen der Derivativen Wertpapiere oder im Extremfall zu einem Totalverlust der Zinsen und/oder des vom Anleger eingesetzten Kapitals kommen. Anleger, die in Derivative Wertpapiere investieren, können ihr eingesetztes Kapital ganz oder teilweise verlieren, wenn sich das Risiko aus dem Basiswert (bzw. den Basiswerten) ganz oder teilweise realisiert.

Risiken betreffend die Emittentin

Wie bei allen Gesellschaften des privaten Rechts besteht auch bei der Emittentin grundsätzlich das Insolvenzrisiko. Der Eintritt dieses Risikos hätte zur Folge, dass die Emittentin ihre Zahlungsverpflichtungen aus den Derivativen Wertpapieren gegenüber den Inhabern nicht erfüllen könnte und die Inhaber ihre Ansprüche nur noch nach Maßgabe der Insolvenzordnung zur Insolvenztabelle anmelden könnten. Im Falle der Insolvenz der Emittentin besteht für den Anleger das Risiko des Totalverlustes des für den Erwerb der Derivativen Wertpapiere aufgewendeten Kapitals (Kaufpreis zuzüglich sonstiger mit dem Kauf verbundener Kosten).

Risiken betreffend die Derivativen Wertpapiere

Generelle Risiken betreffend Derivative Wertpapiere

- Der Erwerb von Derivativen Wertpapieren ist mit einem hohen Grad an Risiko verbunden, welches u.a. Zinsrisiken, Geschäftsrisiken, Marktrisiken, Wechselkursrisiken, Zeitwert- und/oder politische Risiken umfassen kann.
- Derivative Wertpapiere können wertlos verfallen oder der Rückzahlungsbetrag kann Null betragen.
- Der Wert von Optionsscheinen tendiert dazu, mit dem Zeitablauf zu sinken, auch wenn alle anderen Faktoren konstant gehalten werden und die Optionsscheine können bei Verfall wertlos werden (abgesehen von einem etwaigen Mindestrückzahlungswert).
- Eine Investition in Derivative Wertpapiere beinhaltet immer das Risiko, dass es zu einem vollständigen oder teilweisen Verlust des eingesetzten Kapitals kommt und keine Zinsen oder Prämien gezahlt werden.
- Anleger in Derivative Wertpapiere sind dem Risiko möglicher Verluste ausgesetzt, die sich aus den Eigenschaften des jeweiligen Produkts ergeben können und die der Anleger vor seiner Anlageentscheidung aufgrund mangelnder Kenntnisse des jeweiligen Produkts und seiner Funktionsweise nicht bedacht hat. Eine Investition erfordert die genaue Kenntnis der Funktionsweise der Transaktion. Anleger sollten über hinreichendes Wissen und die erforderliche Erfahrung in finanziellen und geschäftlichen Angelegenheiten verfügen und Erfahrung mit der Anlage in Basiswerte (insbesondere strukturierte Zinssätze, Aktien (einschließlich Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts oder ähnlicher Instrumente, die die Wertentwicklung von Aktien widerspiegeln), Indizes, Währungen, Rohstoffe, Fonds oder Körbe solcher Basiswerte) haben und die damit verbundenen Risiken kennen.

- Der Basiswert oder Korb von Basiswerten kann sich während der Laufzeit der Derivativen Wertpapiere auf Grund verschiedener Umstände - einschließlich Wertschwankungen seiner Bestandteile - wesentlich ändern.
- Ein Derivatives Wertpapier, das auf mehr als einen Basiswert bezogen ist, hat möglicherweise ein kumuliertes oder sogar potenziertes Risiko gegenüber einem Wertpapier, das nur auf einen Basiswert bezogen ist.
- Anleger sind möglicherweise nicht in der Lage, sich gegen diese verschiedenen Risiken in Bezug auf Derivative Wertpapiere abzusichern.
- Eine wesentliche Marktstörung könnte dazu führen, dass der Basiswert ersetzt oder das Wertpapier vorzeitig zurückgezahlt oder gekündigt wird, so dass die ursprüngliche Einschätzung der Risiken möglicherweise nicht länger zutrifft oder die Anleger dem Wiederanlagerisiko ausgesetzt sind.

Der Wert der Derivativen Wertpapiere ist auf Grund der Abhängigkeit von einem oder mehreren Basiswerten zusätzlich am Sekundärmarkt auch entsprechend kumulierten Risiken ausgesetzt. Die Wertentwicklung des jeweiligen Basiswertes hängt von einer Reihe zusammenhängender Faktoren ab, darunter volkswirtschaftliche, finanzwirtschaftliche und politische Ereignisse, über die die Emittentin keine Kontrolle hat.

Falls die Formel zur Ermittlung von auf Derivative Wertpapiere fällige Kapitalbeträge, Aufschläge und/oder Zinsen darüber hinaus einen Multiplikator oder Hebelfaktor, Zins- oder Rückzahlungsober- oder -untergrenzen enthält, wird die Wirkung von Veränderungen bei dem jeweiligen Basiswert für den zu zahlenden Betrag verstärkt.

Die historische Wertentwicklung des Basiswertes kann nicht als aussagekräftig für die künftige Wertentwicklung während der Laufzeit von Derivativen Wertpapieren angesehen werden.

Risikofaktoren hinsichtlich der Zahlungen auf die Wertpapiere

- Die Derivativen Wertpapiere sind unbesicherte Verpflichtungen.
- Derivative Wertpapiere mit derivativen und strukturierten Zins- und Rückzahlungskomponenten beinhalten die spezifisch mit dem Basiswert verbundenen Risiken:
    - Schwankungen im Wert der maßgeblichen Basiswerte oder der maßgeblichen Zinssätze beeinträchtigen den Wert der Derivativen Wertpapiere, die an diese Basiswerte oder Zinssätze gebunden sind.
    - Das Fehlen von Informationen über zuletzt getätigte Verkäufe und die eingeschränkte Verfügbarkeit von Bewertungen in Bezug auf den maßgeblichen Basiswert können es Anlegern erschweren, rechtzeitig präzise Angaben über den Preis oder die Rendite solcher Basiswerte einzuholen.

- Die Basiswerte können sich aufgrund des Eintritts bestimmter Ereignisse, die in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegt sind, ändern oder ersetzt werden; insbesondere wenn die Basiswerte wegfallen oder einer wesentlichen Änderung oder Anpassung unterliegen.
- Eine Marktstörung kann sich nachteilig auf den Wert der Derivativen Wertpapiere oder die Bestimmung des Kurses oder Preises der Basiswerte auswirken und/oder kann zu Verzögerungen bei der Abwicklung der Derivativen Wertpapiere führen.
- Nachträgliche Korrekturen der seitens der maßgeblichen Emittentin, des maßgeblichen Index-Sponsors oder der maßgeblichen Preisquelle veröffentlichten Kurse oder Preise der Basiswerte können ausgeschlossen sein.

- Anleger in auf eine fremde Währung lautende Derivative Wertpapiere sind dem Devisenkursrisiko ausgesetzt.
- Eine außerordentliche vorzeitige Kündigung der Derivativen Wertpapiere kann dazu führen, dass der im Falle einer solchen vorzeitigen Kündigung zu zahlende Betrag unter dem Nennwert pro Zertifikat oder dessen Ausgabepreis liegen oder geringer sein kann als der durch den Gläubiger gezahlte Kaufpreis für Optionsscheine. Im Falle der vorzeitigen Kündigung der Derivativen Wertpapiere besteht ein Wiederanlagerisiko, was bedeutet, dass Anleger im Zeitpunkt der vorzeitigen Kündigung möglicherweise nicht in der Lage sind, wieder in eine Kapitalanlage zu investieren, die eine gleichwertige Zahlungsstruktur bzw. ein entsprechendes Risikoprofil wie die gekündigten Derivativen Wertpapiere aufweist.
- Potenzielle Anleger sollten sich darüber bewusst sein, dass jede Festsetzung durch die Berechnungsstelle Auswirkungen auf den Wert und den Ertrag der Derivativen Wertpapiere haben kann.

Marktrisiken

- Der Markt für Anleihen kann volatil sein und von einer Vielzahl von Faktoren negativ beeinflusst werden.
- Möglicherweise entwickelt sich kein aktiver Markt für den Handel mit den Derivativen Wertpapieren, selbst wenn diese an einer Börse gelistet oder zum Handel zugelassen sind.

Besondere Investitionsrisiken

- Tatsächlich fällige Zahlungen auf die Derivativen Wertpapiere können infolge von Transaktionskosten niedriger sein als die angegebenen Zahlungen.
- Gläubiger sollten nicht darauf vertrauen, dass sie während der Laufzeit der Derivativen Wertpapiere Geschäfte abschließen können, durch deren Abschluss sie in der Lage sind, die Gefahr eines Verlustes im Zusammenhang mit den Derivativen Wertpapieren auszuschließen oder zu reduzieren.
- Wird der Erwerb der Derivativen Wertpapiere mit Kredit finanziert, so kann sich das Risiko für einen Gläubiger, dass mit den Derivativen Wertpapieren kein Erfolg erzielt wird, beträchtlich erhöhen.
- Tatsächlich im Zusammenhang mit den Derivativen Wertpapieren auszuschüttende Prämien, Gewinne oder Erträge können durch im Hinblick auf die Derivativen Wertpapiere zu zahlende Steuern verringert werden.

Interessenkonflikte

- Die Emittentin und ihre Tochtergesellschaften und verbundenen Unternehmen sind berechtigt, von Zeit zu Zeit mit den Derivativen Wertpapieren oder Basiswerten verbundene Geschäfte abzuschließen oder auf andere Weise mit Bezug auf diese tätig zu werden. Im Umfeld dieser Tätigkeiten bestehen möglicherweise bestimmte Konflikte zwischen den Interessen der Gläubiger der Derivativen Wertpapiere und den Interessen der Emittentin und ihrer Tochtergesellschaften oder mit ihr verbundener Unternehmen, und solche Transaktionen und Tätigkeiten können den Wert der Derivativen Wertpapiere nachteilig beeinträchtigen.

Zusätzliche Risiken im Falle der Rückzahlung durch physische Lieferung

Potenzielle Anleger sollten beachten, dass die Endgültigen Bedingungen im Fall von Derivativen Wertpapieren vorsehen können, dass die Rückzahlung außer unter bestimmten, in den Endgültigen Bedingungen näher beschriebenen Umständen durch physische Lieferung einer festgelegten Anzahl an Basiswerten und nicht durch Zahlung erfolgt. Daraus ergibt sich Folgendes:

- Durch den Erwerb von Derivativen Wertpapieren treffen potenzielle Anleger zugleich eine potentielle Anlageentscheidung in die betreffenden Basiswerte.
- Die Endgültigen Bedingungen können die Lieferung von Bruchteilen von Basiswerten ausschließen und die Zahlung eines Barbetrages im Hinblick auf die nichtlieferbaren Bruchteile von Basiswerten vorsehen.
- Der Wert der zu liefernden Basiswerte kann den vom Anleger eingesetzten Kapitalbetrag weit unterschreiten und im Extremfall können die Basiswerte wertlos sein.
- Falls die zu liefernden Basiswerte auf eine andere Währung als die Festgelegte Währung der Derivativen Wertpapiere lauten, sind die Gläubiger dem Risiko von Wechselkursschwankungen ausgesetzt.
- Die zu liefernden Basiswerte sind möglicherweise überhaupt nicht oder nur in begrenztem Umfang disponibel.
- Anleger müssen möglicherweise sämtliche im Zusammenhang mit der Lieferung der Basiswerte entstehenden Kosten, Gebühren, Provisionen und Steuern tragen.
- Die Lieferung der Basiswerte kann unmöglich sein oder sich durch verschiedene Umstände verzögern, unter anderem durch den Eintritt einer Abwicklungsstörung. Eine solche Abwicklungsstörung kann dazu führen, dass anstelle der zur Lieferung vorgesehenen Basiswerte andere in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Basiswerte geliefert werden oder ein Barausgleich stattfindet.

Zusätzliche Risiken in Bezug auf Optionsscheine

- Der Zeitwert der Optionsscheine – der den Abrechnungsbetrag und den Physischen Lieferungsbetrag beeinflusst – wird durch den Preis und/oder Kurs des Basiswertes, sowie durch eine Reihe anderer verbundener Faktoren beeinflusst, u.a. die Länge des Zeitraums bis zum Verfall und Erwartungen hinsichtlich des Wertes des Basiswertes.
- Es können Beschränkungen hinsichtlich der Ausübung und Abwicklung von Optionsscheinen vorhanden sein, wie z.B. eine Begrenzung der Anzahl an Optionsscheinen, die an einem Tag ausgeübt werden können oder mindestens ausgeübt werden müssen.

- Zwischen dem Zeitpunkt, an dem ein Gläubiger seine Optionsscheine ausübt und dem Zeitpunkt, an dem der jeweilige Abrechnungsbetrag (im Falle von Optionsscheinen, die in bar ausgeglichen werden) oder der Physische Lieferungsbetrag (im Falle von Optionsscheinen, die physisch geliefert werden) einer solchen Ausübung bestimmt wird, kann ein zeitlicher Abstand bestehen.
- Falls die Dividendensätze im Zusammenhang mit einem Basiswert (falls einschlägig) steigen, ist davon auszugehen, dass der Handelswert eines auf diesen bezogenen Put-Optionsscheins oder eines vergleichbaren Wertpapiers ("Put-Wertpapier") steigt und der Handelswert eines entsprechenden Call-Optionsscheins oder vergleichbaren Wertpapiers ("Call-Wertpapier") sinkt.

Zusätzliche Risiken in Bezug auf Zertifikate ohne feste Laufzeit

- Der Ertrag solcher Zertifikate ist unter anderem vom bestehenden Preis des jeweiligen Basiswerts und dem Zeitpunkt der Ausübungsentscheidung des Gläubigers abhängig. Gläubiger können vor den vorgesehenen Ausübungspunkten ansonsten der Wert der Zertifikate nur im Wege des Verkaufs auf dem Sekundärmarkt erzielen, sofern ein solcher existiert.
- Die Endgültigen Bedingungen können eine Mindestanzahl der durch einen Gläubiger ausübbaren Zertifikate vorsehen. Soweit ein Gläubiger über weniger als diese Anzahl an Zertifikaten verfügt, kann er seine Zertifikate nicht ausüben und muss seine Zertifikate entweder verkaufen oder auf dem Sekundärmarkt (sofern ein solcher existiert) zusätzliche Zertifikate bis zur erforderliche Mindestanzahl erwerben.
- Zwischen dem Zeitpunkt, an dem ein Gläubiger seine Zertifikate ausübt und dem Zeitpunkt, an dem der jeweilige Abrechnungsbetrag oder der Physische Lieferungsbetrag einer solchen Ausübung bestimmt wird, kann ein zeitlicher Abstand bestehen.

Zusammenfassung des Angebotsprogramms hinsichtlich der Derivativen Wertpapiere

Gründe für das Angebot

Das Angebotsprogramm dient der Emittentin zur Begebung von derivativen Inhaberschuldverschreibungen einschließlich solcher ohne Nennbetrag, deren Anleihebedingungen deutschem Recht unterliegen.

Angebotsstatistiken und voraussichtlicher Zeitplan

Die Emittentin kann zu jeder Zeit während der Geltungsdauer dieses Basisprospektes unter dem Angebotsprogramm fortlaufend Derivative Wertpapiere begeben. Die Konditionen und der Zeitplan jeder Emission von Derivativen Wertpapieren ergeben sich aus den jeweiligen endgültigen Bedingungen im Sinne des Art. 26 Ziff. 5 Verordnung (EG) Nr. 809/2004 der Kommission vom 29. April 2004 enthaltenden Dokument (jeweils "Endgültige Bedingungen").

Erlösverwendung

Die Emissionserlöse aus der Begebung von Derivativen Wertpapieren dienen allgemeinen Geschäftszwecken der Emittentin einschließlich Absicherungsgeschäften.

Einzelheiten zum Angebotsprogramm hinsichtlich der Derivativen Wertpapiere

Emittentin:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG
Programmtyp:	Angebotsprogramm zur Begebung von derivativen Inhaberschuldverschreibungen, deren Emissionsbedingungen deutschem Recht unterliegen. Das Programm ermöglicht unter anderem die Emission von Derivativen Wertpapieren in Form von Optionsscheinen und nicht verzinslichen oder verzinslichen Zertifikaten mit festen oder variablen Zinssätzen und/oder derivativer und strukturierter Verzinsung. Zahlungen bei Ausübung oder Rückzahlung der Derivativen Wertpapiere sind von einem oder mehreren Basiswerten abhängig.
Vertrieb:	Die Derivativen Wertpapiere werden durch die Emittentin oder eine andere in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Stelle vertrieben.
Angebot:	Die Emittentin kann Derivative Wertpapiere öffentlich oder privat sowie mit oder ohne Zeichnungsfrist anbieten. Die Einzelheiten eines Angebotes ergeben sich jeweils aus den betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen.
Ausgabepreis:	Der Ausgabepreis für die unter einer Tranche begebenen Derivativen Wertpapiere wird durch die jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegt.
Emissionswährungen:	EUR oder jede für eine Serie in den jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Währung, jeweils unter Beachtung der einschlägigen gesetzlichen Bestimmungen und Devisenvorschriften.
Laufzeiten/ Ausübung:	Zertifikate können entweder (1) eine feste Laufzeit haben, in welchem Fall am in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegten Fälligkeitstag als automatisch ausgeübt gelten und zurückgezahlt werden, oder (2) keine feste Laufzeit haben ("Zertifikate ohne feste Laufzeit"), in welchem Fall sie nach ordnungsgemäßer Ausübung durch den jeweiligen Gläubiger oder aufgrund einer Rückzahlung nach Wahl der Emittentin fällig und zahlbar werden. Zudem können Zertifikate nach Eintritt eines in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegten Automatischen Vorzeitigen Rückzahlungsereignisses oder Knock-Out Ereignisses zurückgezahlt werden. Optionsscheine werden nach ordnungsgemäßer Ausübung durch die betreffenden Gläubiger an den in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegten Tagen und, falls nach den Endgültigen Bedingungen einschlägig, bei einer Automatischen Ausübung am Verfalltag fällig, zahlbar und abgewickelt. Wenn Optionsscheine nicht ausgeübt oder nicht automatisch ausgeübt werden, verfallen sie am Verfalltag. Zudem können Optionsschein bei Eintritt eines in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegten Knock-Out Ereignisses einer automatischen Ausübung unterliegen. Die Ausübungstage bzw. Ausübungszeiträume für Optionsscheine und Zertifikate ohne feste Laufzeit werden in den Endgültigern Bedingungen festgelegt. Bei Ausübung eines Optionsscheins oder Zertifikats ohne feste Laufzeit mit Physischer Lieferung hat der Gläubiger nachzuweisen, dass der begünstigte Inhaber keine U.S. Person (wie in der Regulation S definiert) ist.

Stückelung:	Die Derivativen Wertpapiere werden ohne festen Nennbetrag in Stück ausgegeben.
Verzinsung bei Zertifikaten:	Unter dem Programm können, je nach Festlegung in den jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen, Zertifikate ohne periodische Verzinsung, Zertifikate mit festem oder variablem Zinssatz oder Zinsbetrag, Zertifikate mit einem von einem oder mehreren Basiswerten abhängigen strukturierten Zins- oder einer von einem oder mehreren Basiswerten abhängigen Zahlungsstruktur (Abhängigkeit der Verzinsung oder der Zahlungen z.B. von strukturierten Zinssätzen (einschließlich durch Bindung an (a) ein festverzinsliches Wertpapier, an (b) einen Terminkontrakt/-satz, oder (c) einen Swap oder Optionsvertrag/-satz, z.B. eine Bindung an einen Constant Maturity Swap (CMS) Satz), Aktien (einschließlich Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts oder ähnlicher Instrumente, die die Wertentwicklung von Aktien widerspiegeln), Indizes, Währungen, Rohstoffen (einschließlich durch Bindung an einen Terminkontrakt/-satz), Fonds, Körben und/oder Berechnungen oder eine Kombination bestehend aus den vorgenannten Basiswerten) sowie mit Zinsobergrenzen oder Zinsuntergrenzen ausgegeben werden. Verschiedene Arten der Verzinsung oder Zinsstruktur können für unterschiedliche Zinsperioden eines Zertifikats kombiniert werden.
Verzinsung bei Optionsscheinen:	Optionsscheine werden nicht verzinst.
Rückzahlung:	Der Abrechnungsbetrag (Cash Settlement Amount) bzw. physische Lieferungsbetrag (Physical Settlement Amount) der Derivativen Wertpapiere hängt von Basiswerten ab, auf die die Derivativen Wertpapiere Bezug nehmen. Die Bindung an einen Basiswert kann dazu führen, dass ein Anleger sein eingezahltes Kapital nicht in voller Höhe zurückerhält oder im Extremfall einen Totalverlust des eingesetzten Kapitals erleidet. Der Einfluss des Basiswertes auf die Derivativen Wertpapiere kann der Höhe nach begrenzt sein. Der konkrete Zusammenhang zwischen dem betreffenden Basiswert und den Derivativen Wertpapieren wird in den betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegt. Die Endgültigen Bedingungen können vorsehen, dass Derivative Wertpapiere durch Lieferung von Basiswerten oder von auf bestimmte Basiswerte bezogenen Wertpapieren getilgt werden (im Fall von Optionsscheinen gegen Zahlung eines Bezugspreises). Zusätzlich können die Endgültigen Bedingungen dabei der Emittentin ein Wahlrecht zwischen den Tilgungsmöglichkeiten einräumen. Enthält der Physische Lieferungsbetrag Bruchteile von Basiswerten oder Wertpapieren, können die Endgültigen Bedingungen die Zahlung eines Geldbetrages in Höhe des Wertes dieses Bruchteiles vorsehen. Unter bestimmten in den Endgültigen Bedingungen vorgesehenen Voraussetzungen ist die Emittentin nicht zur Lieferung dieser Basiswerte bzw. Wertpapiere verpflichtet. Die Emittentin zahlt in diesem Fall den in den Endgültigen Bedingungen vorgesehenen Barbetrag.

Basiswerte:	Basiswerte können, je nach Festlegung in den betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen, strukturierte Zinssätze ((a) ein festverzinsliches Wertpapier, (b) ein Terminkontrakt/-satz, oder (c) ein Swap oder Optionsvertrag/-satz, z.B. ein Constant Maturity Swap (CMS) Satz), Aktien (einschließlich Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts oder ähnlicher Instrumente, die die Entwicklung von Aktien widerspiegeln), Indizes, Währungen, Rohstoffe (einschließlich durch Bindung an einen Terminkontrakt/-satz), Fonds, Körben und/oder Berechnungen oder eine Kombination bestehend aus den vorgenannten Basiswerten sein.
Kündigungsrechte bei Zertifikaten:	Die Emittentin darf die Zertifikate nur dann vorzeitig zurückzahlen und die Gläubiger dürfen eine vorzeitige Rückzahlung der Zertifikate nur dann verlangen, wenn die betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen ein Kündigungsrecht vorsehen. Die Kündigungsgründe und etwaige sonstige Beendigungsgründe, einschließlich der Eintritt eines in den Endgültigen Bedingungen vorgesehenen Automatischen Rückzahlungsereignisses oder Knock-Out Ereignisses, werden in den betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegt. Die Endgültigen Bedingungen können vorsehen, dass der in diesem Zusammenhang zu zahlende Automatische Vorzeitige Rückzahlungsbetrag bzw. Knock-Out Betrag Null beträgt. Zertifikate können aus Steuergründen, nach Eintritt eines Kündigungsgrundes oder eines anderen in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegten zusätzlichen Kündigungsereignisses vorzeitig zurückgezahlt werden. Die Endgültigen Bedingungen können vorsehen, dass der in diesem Zusammenhang zu zahlende Vorzeitige Abrechnungsbetrag der marktgerechte Wert der Zertifikate ist, der angepasst wurde, um etwaigen angemessenen Aufwendungen und Kosten bei der Auflösung von damit in Zusammenhang stehender Absicherungs- und Finanzierungsvereinbarungen der Emittentin Rechnung zu tragen.
Außerordentliche Beendigungsgründe bei Optionsscheinen	Optionsscheine können nach Eintritt eines Kündigungsgrundes oder eines anderen in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegten zusätzlichen Kündigungsereignisses vorzeitig zum Vorzeitigen Abrechnungsbetrag zurückgezahlt werden. Die Endgültigen Bedingungen können vorsehen, dass der in diesem Zusammenhang zu zahlende Vorzeitige Abrechnungsbetrag der marktgerechte Wert der Optionsscheine ist, der angepasst wurde, um etwaigen angemessenen Aufwendungen und Kosten bei der Auflösung von damit in Zusammenhang stehender Absicherungs- und Finanzierungsvereinbarungen der Emittentin Rechnung zu tragen.
Status und Rang:	Die Derivativen Wertpapiere begründen nicht-nachrangige und unbesicherte Verpflichtungen der Emittentin, die untereinander und mit anderen nicht-nachrangigen Verbindlichkeiten der Emittentin (mit Ausnahme von kraft Gesetzes bevorrechtigten Verbindlichkeiten) im gleichen Rang stehen.
Ratings	Zum Zeitpunkt der Billigung dieses Basisprospektes hat die Emittentin von der nachfolgenden Ratingagentur die folgenden Ratingnoten erhalten: Rating langfristig (Long-Term (LT) Issuer Default Rating (IDR)): Fitch Ratings Ltd.: AA Rating kurzfristig:

Fitch: F1+

Ratinginformationen sind für Anleger lediglich eine Entscheidungshilfe und ersetzen nicht die eigene Urteilsbildung eines Anlegers hinsichtlich der Geeignetheit einer Anlage und sind nicht als Kauf- oder Verkaufsempfehlung für bestimmte Derivative Wertpapiere zu verstehen. Das Rating soll lediglich bei einer Anlageentscheidung unterstützen und ist nur ein Faktor in der Beurteilung, der neben anderen gesehen und gewichtet werden muss. Da das Rating oft erst dann geändert wird, wenn sich die Bonität eines Emittenten bereits verändert hat, müssen Anleger sich trotz vorhandenen Ratings ein eigenes Urteil bilden.

Endgültige Bedingungen: Die endgültigen Bedingungen werden jeweils in den betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegt, die den Anlegern gemäß § 14 Wertpapierprospektgesetz zugänglich gemacht werden. Die jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen sind im Zusammenhang mit diesem Basisprospekt und seinen Nachträgen und den darin durch Verweis einbezogenen Dokumenten zu lesen.

Quellensteuer: Zahlungen von Kapital und Zinsen werden ohne Einbehalt oder Abzug von Steuern, Abgaben, Festsetzungen oder behördlichen Gebühren jedweder Art geleistet, die von der Bundesrepublik Deutschland oder einer Gebietskörperschaft oder Behörde der Bundesrepublik Deutschland mit der Befugnis zur Erhebung von Steuern auferlegt, erhoben, eingezogen, einbehalten oder festgesetzt werden.

Wird im Hinblick auf Derivative Wertpapiere ein solcher Einbehalt oder Abzug gesetzlich vorgeschrieben, sehen die Endgültigen Bedingungen entweder vor, dass die Emittentin in einem solchen Fall nicht zur Zahlung von zusätzlichen Beträgen auf die Derivativen Wertpapiere verpflichtet ist oder, dass die Emittentin - vorbehaltlich der in § 6 der Emissionsbedingungen genannten Ausnahmen - diejenigen zusätzlichen Beträge zahlen wird, die erforderlich sind, so dass die Gläubiger die Beträge erhalten, die sie ohne Einbehalt oder Abzug erhalten hätten. Die Emittentin ist in diesem Fall berechtigt, die Derivativen Wertpapiere vorzeitig zurückzuzahlen.

Form der Derivativen Wertpapiere:	Die Derivativen Wertpapiere werden als Inhaberschuldverschreibungen nach deutschem Recht ausgegeben. Derivative Wertpapiere in Form von Inhaberschuldverschreibungen werden in Übereinstimmung mit TEFRA C, in Übereinstimmung. mit TEFRA D oder unter Umständen ausgegeben, die für U.S. Bundeseinkommensteuerzwecke nicht zu einer Einordnung der Schuldverschreibungen als "registrierungspflichtige Verbindlichkeiten" ("registration required obligations") führen. In diesem Fall werden diese Ausgabe und ihre Umstände in den betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen als eine nicht TEFRA unterliegende Transaktion bezeichnet. Schuldverschreibungen einer bestimmten Tranche oder Serie, die gemäß TEFRA C, wie in den Endgültigen Bedingungen bestimmt, ausgegeben werden oder Schuldverschreibungen einer bestimmten Tranche oder Serie, deren Ausgabe und ihre Umstände eine nicht TEFRA unterliegende Transaktion darstellt, werden in einer Dauer-Globalurkunde verbrieft. Inhaberschuldverschreibungen einer bestimmen Tranche oder Serie, die gemäß TEFRA D, wie in den Endgültigen Bedingungen bestimmt, ausgegeben werden, werden zunächst in einer temporären Globalurkunde und nach Ablauf von 40 Tagen nach dem jeweiligen Ausgabetag in einer Dauer-Globalurkunde verbrieft.Effektive Stücke werden nicht ausgegeben, sofern nicht in den betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen die Ausgabe effektiver Stücke vorgesehen ist.
Börsenzulassung und Börsenhandel:	Die Emittentin kann zukünftig die Notierung der Derivativen Wertpapiere an einem organisierten Markt einer Börse in Deutschland, in Frankreich, in Italien oder einem anderen Mitgliedsstaat der Europäischen Wirtschaftsgemeinschaft, oder der Handel im Freiverkehr einer Börse in Deutschland oder einem entsprechenden Marktsegment einer Börse in einem anderen Mitgliedsstaat der Europäischen Wirtschaftsgemeinschaft beantragen, oder sie kann von einer Notierung bzw. einem Handel der Derivativen Wertpapiere absehen. Betreffende Angaben werden in den jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen enthalten sein.
Emission in Serien	Die Derivativen Wertpapiere werden in Serien begeben (jeweils eine "Emission"). Jede Emission kann eine oder mehrer Tranchen einschließen ("Tranchen" und jeweils eine "Tranche"), die an verschiedenen Ausgabetagen ausgegeben werden. Die unter jeder Emission begebenen Derivativen Wertpapiere unterliegen grundsätzlich den gleichen Bedingungen, mit der Ausnahme, dass der Ausgabetag, des Ausgabepreis und der Betrag der ersten Zinszahlung in Bezug auf verschiedene Tranchen unterschiedlich sein können.
Emissionsbedingungen:	Die Emissionsbedingungen können nach Wahl der Emittentin entweder in ergänzter Form oder in konsolidierter Form erstellt werden. Die jeweils Endgültigen Bedingungen enthalten alle in diesem Basisprospekt noch zu konkretisierenden Angaben sowie die Emissionsbedingungen entweder in konsolidierter oder in ergänzter Form. Erstellt die Emittentin konsolidierte Emissionsbedingungen kann sie in den Endgültigen Bedingungen eine Tabelle mit den zusammengefassten wesentlichen wirtschaftlichen Daten der Emission vor die Emissionsbedingungen stellen.

Ermächtigungsgrundlage:	Die Derivativen Wertpapiere werden im Rahmen der satzungsmäßigen Bank- und Finanzgeschäfte auf Grundlage eines internen Beschlusses der Emittentin begeben.
Zahlstelle:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG oder eine andere in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Zahlstelle.
Französische Zahlstelle	BNP Paribas Securities Services oder eine andere in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Zahlstelle.
Französische Emissionsstelle	BNP Paribas Securities Services oder eine andere in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Emissionsstelle.
Italienische Zahlstelle	Die ggf. in den jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Zahlstelle.
Italienischer Listing Agent	Der ggf. in den jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Listing Agent.
Italienische Emissionsstelle	Die ggf. in den jeweiligen Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Emissionsstelle.
Berechnungsstelle:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG oder eine andere in den Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegte Berechnungsstelle.
Verkaufsbeschränkungen:	Jede Wertpapieremission wird in Übereinstimmung mit den in der betreffenden Jurisdiktion geltenden Gesetzen, Vorschriften und Rechtsakten sowie den dort anwendbaren Beschränkungen erfolgen. Angebot und Verkauf der Derivativen Wertpapiere unterliegen Verkaufsbeschränkungen insbesondere in den Vertragsstaaten des Europäischen Wirtschaftsraums, in den Vereinigten Staaten von Amerika, im Vereinigten Königreich von Großbritannien, in Frankreich und in Italien. Weitere auf eine Wertpapieremission anwendbare Beschränkungen können in den betreffenden Endgültigen Bedingungen dargelegt werden und sind unabhängig von der Darlegung in den Endgültigen Bedingungen einzuhalten.
Anwendbares Recht und Gerichtsstand:	Die Derivativen Wertpapiere unterliegen deutschem Recht.
Verwahrung:	Die Derivativen Wertpapiere werden für die Dauer ihrer Laufzeit in globalverbriefter Form bei Clearstream Banking AG, Frankfurt am Main (Neue Börsenstraße 1, D-60487 Frankfurt am Main, Deutschland) oder bei einer gemeinsamen Verwahrstelle für Clearstream Banking, société anonyme, Luxemburg (42 Avenue JF Kennedy; L-1855 Luxemburg; Luxemburg), Euroclear Bank SA/NV, Brüssel (1 Boulevard du Roi Albert IIB - 1210 Brüssel, Belgien) und/oder Euroclear France S.A. (115, rue Réaumur, F-75081 Paris Cedex 02, Frankreich) und/oder Monte Titoli S.p.A. (Via Mantegna 6, 20154, Milan) im Wege der Verbindungskonten bei einem anderen Clearingsystem oder bei einem anderen, in den Endgültigen Bedingungen bezeichneten Verwahrer hinterlegt.

Résumé des Facteurs de Risques

L'achat Instruments Dérivés émis dans le cadre du Programme est associé à certains risques résumés ci-dessous. Les risques spécifiques relatifs au sous-jacent concerné peuvent être mentionnés dans les Conditions Définitives, qui, par conséquent, doivent toujours être prises en compte dans l'évaluation des risques d'investissement dans ces Instruments Dérivés. A cet égard, les investisseurs doivent aussi prendre en considération dans leurs décisions d'investissement, en plus de l'information sur l'Émetteur et sur les Instruments Dérivés contenus dans le Prospectus de Base et dans les Conditions Définitives, la description des risques.

Les investisseurs dans les Instruments Dérivés proposés doivent prendre en compte leur situation financière et leurs objectifs en matière d'investissement avant de décider d'investir dans des Instruments Dérivés et doivent toujours consulter leurs conseillers financiers, légaux et fiscaux au regard des risques afférents à un investissement dans les Instruments Dérivés et du caractère approprié ou non de ces Instruments Dérivés à la lumière de leur propre situation.

Si une ou plusieurs des situations décrites ci-dessous survenai(en)t, cela pourrait entraîner une baisse substantielle et prolongée du prix des Instruments Dérivés ou, dans les cas les plus extrêmes, la perte totale des intérêts et/ou des montants investis par l'investisseur. Les investisseurs qui investissent dans des Instruments Dérivés peuvent subir une perte totale ou partielle du montant investi si les risques attachés aux sous-jacents se réalisent en totalité ou en partie.

Risques relatifs à l'Émetteur

Comme c'est le cas pour toutes les sociétés de droit privé, il existe un risque général d'insolvabilité pour l'Émetteur. La réalisation de ce risque aurait pour conséquence de rendre l'Émetteur incapable de remplir ses obligations relatives à tous titres détenus par les porteurs, et le seul recours des porteurs serait de faire enregistrer leur créance conformément à la loi allemande sur l'insolvabilité (Insolvenzordnung). Il y un risque pour l'investisseur, en cas d'insolvabilité de l'Émetteur, de perte totale du capital dépensé pour l'acquisition de ces titres émis par l'Émetteur (soit le prix d'achat additionné à d'autres coûts liés à l'achat).

Risques liés aux Instruments Dérivés

Risques Généraux liés aux Instruments Dérivés

- Être titulaire d'Instruments Dérivés implique un haut degré de risques, qui peut inclure des risques de taux d'intérêt, sociaux, de marché, de changes, de valeur temps et/ou politiques.
- Les Instruments Dérivés peuvent n'avoir plus aucune valeur à échéance ou être remboursables sans donner droit à aucun paiement.
- La valeur des Bons d'Option a tendance à diminuer avec le temps, même si tous les facteurs restent constants et les Bons d'Option peuvent perdre toute valeur à leur échéance (sauf si une valeur minimale à l'échéance a été prévue).
- Un investissement dans les Instruments Dérivés comportera toujours le risque que le capital investi soit perdu en totalité ou en partie et qu'aucun intérêt ou prime ne soit versé.
- Les investisseurs dans les Instruments Dérivés encourent le risque de pertes potentielles liées aux caractéristiques du produit qu'ils n'ont peut-être pas pris en considération préalablement à l'investissement à cause d'un manque de connaissance dudit produit et de ses mécanismes. Un investissement nécessite la connaissance exacte des circonstances de la transaction. Les investisseurs doivent avoir une connaissance et une expérience adaptées dans les domaines de la finance et des affaires, et doivent avoir de l'expérience en matière d'investissement dans les sous-jacents (par exemple, les taux d'intérêt structurés, les actions (y compris des Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, ou instruments similaires reflétant la performance des actions), indices, devises, contrats à terme, fonds d'investissements ou paniers de ces sous-jacents) et doit connaitre les risques qui y sont associés.
- Le sous-jacent ou le panier de sous-jacents peut subir des changements importants tout au long de la durée de vie des Instruments Dérivés en raison de différentes circonstances y compris la fluctuation de ses composants.
- Un Instrument Dérivé lié à plusieurs sous-jacents peut comporter un risque cumulatif ou multiplié à la différence d'un titre qui n'est lié qu'à un seul sous-jacent.
- Les Investisseurs peuvent ne pas être capables de se garantir contre ces différents risques afférents aux Instruments Dérivés.
- Une perturbation substantielle du marché peut aboutir à une substitution du sous-jacent ou à un remboursement anticipé ou à une extinction de l'Instrument Dérivé, de telle sorte que l'évaluation initiale des risques n'est plus applicable ou que l'investisseur est exposé à des risques de réinvestissement.

La valeur des Instruments Dérivés, qui dépend d'un ou de plusieurs sous-jacent(s), sera, par conséquent, sujette à des risques cumulatifs sur le marché secondaire. La performance des sous-jacents respectifs est soumise à une série de facteurs associés, incluant des évènements économiques, financiers et politiques sur lesquels l'Émetteur n'exerce aucun contrôle.

Si la formule utilisée pour déterminer le montant en principal, les primes et/ou les intérêts payables au titre des Instruments Dérivés, contient un facteur multiplicateur ou un effet de levier ou un intérêt minimum/maximum ou des limites au remboursement, tout changement relatif au sous-jacent applicable aura un effet multiplié sur le montant payable.

Les performances passées du sous-jacent ne doivent pas être considérées comme significatives pour les performances à venir pendant la durée de vie des Instruments Dérivés.

Facteurs de Risques Liés au Paiement des Instruments Dérivés

- Les Instruments Dérivés sont des obligations non garanties.
- Les Instruments Dérivés avec intérêts et/ou éléments de paiement dérivés et structurés comportent des risques spécifiques associés aux sous-jacents :
    - Les fluctuations de valeur des sous-jacents concernés ou des taux d'intérêt affecteront la valeur des Instruments Dérivés liés à ces sous-jacents ou à ces taux d'intérêt.
    - L'absence d'information relative à la dernière vente et la disponibilité limitée des cotations pour le sous-jacent concerné peut rendre difficile pour les investisseurs l'obtention dans les délais des données précises quant au prix ou au rendement de ces sous-jacents.
    - Les sous-jacents peuvent être soumis à des changements ou à substitution à la suite de la survenance de certains évènements mentionnés dans les Conditions Définitives, en particulier si les sous-jacents cessent d'exister ou sont soumis à des changements ou modifications substantielles.
    - Une perturbation de marché peut avoir un effet défavorable sur la valeur des Instruments Dérivés ou sur la détermination du niveau ou du prix des sous-jacents et/ou peut retarder un règlement relatif aux Instruments Dérivés.
    - Les corrections subséquentes des niveaux ou des prix des sous-jacents publiés par l'émetteur concerné, l'agent de publication de l'indice ou la source du prix peuvent être exclues.
- Les Instruments Dérivés libellés en devises étrangères exposent les investisseurs à des risques de change.
- En conséquence de l'extinction anticipée extraordinaire des Instruments Dérivés, le montant à payer peut être plus faible que le montant nominal ou que le prix d'émission par Certificat ou que le prix d'achat des Bons d'Options payé par le porteur. Dans le cas d'une extinction anticipée, il y a un risque de réinvestissement, ce qui signifie qu'un investisseur peut ne pas être capable d'acheter un autre placement, qui, au moment de cette extinction anticipée, a une structure de paiement ou un profil de risque équivalent à celui des Instruments Dérivés éteints.
- Les investisseurs potentiels doivent être conscients que toute décision de l'Agent de Calcul peut avoir un impact sur la valeur ou le rendement des Instruments Dérivés.

Risques de Marché

- Le marché pour les produits de dettes peut être volatile et peut être affecté défavorablement par certaines circonstances.
- Un marché actif pour les Instruments Dérivés peut ne pas se développer, même si les Instruments Dérivés sont cotés ou négociés en Bourse.

Risques d'Investissement Spéciaux

- Le rendement réel des Instruments Dérivés peut être diminué des coûts de la transaction.
- Les porteurs ne peuvent pas se fier à leur capacité de conclure des transactions qui pourraient exclure ou limiter les risques de perte associés aux Instruments Dérivés pendant toute la durée de vie des Instruments Dérivés.
- Les prêts de couverture, quand ils sont permis, peuvent augmenter le risque de non performance des Instruments Dérivés pour le Porteur.
- Une prime, un bénéfice ou un revenu généré par les Instruments Dérivés peut être réduit par toute taxe à payer au titre des Instruments Dérivés.

Conflits d'Intérêt

- L'Émetteur ou ses filiales ou ses membres peuvent être amenés à s'engager dans des transactions et des activités relatives aux Instruments Dérivés ou à tout sous-jacent. Ces activités peuvent être menées dans des circonstances où l'intérêt des Porteurs d'Instruments Dérivés peut être en conflit avec les intérêts de l'Émetteur ou de l'une quelconque de ses filiales ou membres et de telles transactions ou activités peuvent affecter défavorablement la valeur des Instruments Dérivés.

Risques Supplémentaires en cas de Remboursement par Livraison Physique

Les investisseurs potentiels doivent noter que les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir que les Instruments Dérivés seront remboursés par livraison physique d'un certain nombre de sous-jacents et non en espèces, sauf en cas de circonstances spéciales précisées dans les Conditions Définitives. Par conséquent :

- En achetant des Instruments Dérivés, les investisseurs potentiels prennent également une décision d'investissement potentiel dans les sous-jacents.
- Les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir qu'aucune fraction des sous-jacents ne sera livrée et qu'un paiement en espèces sera effectué pour toutes les fractions non livrables de sous-jacents.
- La valeur des sous-jacents livrés peut être légèrement inférieure au capital investi par les investisseurs et peut, dans les cas extrêmes, être nulle.
- Si les sous-jacents livrés sont libellés dans une devise étrangère autre que la Devise Spécifique des Instruments Dérivés, les Porteurs s'exposent alors à un risque de fluctuations des taux de change.
- Les sous-jacents livrés peuvent ne pas être liquides ou seulement de manière limitée.
- Il peut être exigé des investisseurs de supporter tous les coûts, frais, dépenses et taxes associés à la livraison des sous-jacents.

- La livraison des sous-jacents peut être impossible ou reportée pour différentes raisons incluant la survenance d'un événement perturbant le règlement. Si un tel évènement survient, la livraison du sous-jacent concerné peut être remplacée par le paiement d'une somme en espèces ou par la livraison d'un autre bien indiqué dans les Conditions Définitives.

Risques Supplémentaires liés aux Bons d'Options.

- La valeur temps des Bons d'Options – qui influe sur le Montant de Règlement en Espèces et le Montant de Règlement Physique – est influencée par le prix et/ou par le niveau des sous-jacents, ainsi que par plusieurs autres facteurs interdépendants, incluant la longueur de la période restant jusqu'à expiration et les prévisions quant à la valeur des sous-jacent.
- L'exercice de Bons d'Option peut être soumis à un nombre minimum ou maximum de Bons d'Options exerçables chaque jour.
- Il peut y avoir un décalage entre le moment où le Porteur donne les instructions pour exercer et le moment où le Montant de Règlement en Espèces (dans le cas de Bons d'Options Réglés en Espèces) et le Montant de Règlement Physique (dans le cas de Bons d'Options Réglés Physiquement) est déterminé.
- Si le taux d'intérêt des sous-jacents, quand il est applicable, augmente, le prix de négociation d'un Bon d'Option de vente ou d'un Instrument similaire (un « Instrument de Vente ») est supposé augmenter et le prix de négociation d'un Bon d'Option d'achat ou d'un Instrument similaire (un « Instrument d'Achat ») est supposé diminuer.

Risques Supplémentaires relatifs aux Certificats n'ayant pas de Date d'Échéance

- Le rendement de ce type de Certificats dépend, entre autres, du prix dominant du sous-jacent concerné et de la date à laquelle le Porteur exerce ses Certificats. Sauf exercice des Certificats aux dates d'exercice prévues, les Porteurs peuvent seulement réaliser leurs investissements sur le marché secondaire (si un tel marché existe).
- Les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir un montant minimum de Certificats pouvant être exercés par le Porteur. Si un Porteur détient moins que le montant minimum requis, ce Porteur ne peut exercer ses Certificats et devra soit vendre ses Certificats soit acheter des Certificats supplémentaires pour atteindre le montant minimum nécessaire sur le marché secondaire (si un tel marché existe).
- Il peut y avoir un décalage entre le moment où le Porteur donne les instructions pour exercer et le moment où le Montant de Règlement en Espèces ou le Montant de Règlement Physique est déterminé.

Résumé du Programme d'Offre relatif aux Instruments Dérivés

Raisons de l'Émission

Dans le cadre du Programme, l'Émetteur peut émettre des Instruments Dérivés au porteur (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) dont les modalités sont régies par le droit allemand, incluant les Instruments Dérivés sans dénomination.

Statistiques d'Émission et Calendrier Prévisionnel

L'Émetteur peut à tout moment pendant la durée de validité du présent Prospectus de Base émettre des Instruments Dérivés dans le cadre du Programme. Les conditions et le calendrier de chaque émission d'Instruments Dérivés seront soumis aux Conditions Définitives y afférentes, au sens de l'Article 26 Alinéa 5 du Règlement No. 809/2004/CE de la Commission du 24 avril 2004 (les "Conditions Définitives").

Utilisation du Produit

Les raisons de l'offre sont, et le produit des émissions sera utilisé afin de, dégager des profits et/ou couvrir certains risques.

Détail du Programme relatif aux Instruments Dérivés

Émetteur :	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG
Type de Programme :	Programme d'émission d'Instruments Dérivés au porteur (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) dont les modalités sont régies par le droit allemand. Dans le cadre du programme, l'Émetteur peut notamment émettre des Instruments Dérivés sous la forme de Bons d'Options et de Certificats ne portant pas intérêt ou portant intérêt, à taux fixe ou taux variable et/ou à intérêt dérivé et structuré.
Distribution :	Les Instruments Dérivés seront distribués par l'Émetteur ou pas toute autre entité telle qu'indiqué dans les Conditions Définitives.
Offre :	L'Émetteur peut offrir les Instruments Dérivés au public ou effectuer des placements privés avec ou sans période de souscription applicable. Les détails relatifs à chaque offre seront précisés dans les Conditions Définitives.
Prix d'Émission :	Le Prix d'Émission des Instruments Dérivés sera précisé pour chaque tanche dans les Conditions Définitives.
Devise d'Émission :	En euros ou en toute devise spécifiée dans les Conditions Définitives relatives à toute Série, dans chaque cas conformément aux dispositions statutaires applicables et à la réglementation des changes.
Échéance/Exercice :	Les Certificats peuvent avoir soit (1) une échéance fixe et dans ce cas le Certificat sera réputé automatiquement exercé et sera remboursé à la date de remboursement prévue dans les Conditions Définitives soit (2) aucune date d'échéance (« Certificat sans date d'échéance ») auquel cas chaque Certificat sera dû et payable en cas d'exercice par le porteur concerné ou par extinction sur option de l'Émetteur. De plus, les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir que les Certificats seront remboursés par anticipation en cas d'Événement de Remboursement Anticipé Automatique ou d'Événement de Knock-Out conformément aux Conditions Définitives. Les Bons d'Options seront dus et payables et seront réglés une fois exercé par les Porteurs respectifs aux dates prévues dans les Conditions Définitives, et, si cela est prévu dans les Conditions Définitives, en cas d'Exercice Automatique à la Date d'Échéance. Les Bons d'Options expirent à la Date d'Échéance s'ils ne sont pas exercés ou automatiquement exercés. En outre, les Bons d'Options seront considérés exercés à la suite d'un Évènement de Knock-Out conformément aux Conditions Définitives. Les Conditions Définitives préciseront la Date d'Exercice et les Périodes d'Exercice, le cas échéant, et le temps d'exercice applicable aux Bons d'Option et aux Certificats sans date d'échéance. Au moment de l'exercice d'un Bon d'Option à remboursement physique ou d'un Certificat sans date d'échéance, le Porteur doit fournir une confirmation que le Porteur bénéficiaire n'est pas un résident américain (U.S. person) tel que défini dans la Regulation S.

Dénomination :	Les Instruments Dérivés seront émis par unités.
Intérêt dans le cas des Certificats :	Le Programme peut prévoir des Certificats ne portant pas intérêt sur une base périodique, des Certificats à taux fixe ou variable ou à montants d'intérêts fixes ou variables, des Certificats avec un intérêt dérivé ou une structure de paiement liée à un ou plusieurs sous-jacent(s) (intérêt lié à des sous-jacents tels que des taux d'intérêt structurés (y compris par référence (a) à un titre à revenu fixe, (b) à un taux/contrat à terme, ou (c) à un contrat/taux d'un swap ou d'une option (ex: par référence au taux d'un Constant Maturity Swap (CMS))), des actions (y compris des Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, ou des instruments similaires reflétant la performance des actions), des indices, des devises, des marchandises (y compris par référence à un taux/contrat à terme), des fonds d'investissement, des paniers et/ou calculs de tout type de sous-jacents mentionnés ci-dessus), et avec un intérêt maximum ou minimum, tel que précisé dans les Conditions Définitives. Différents types d'intérêt ou structures peuvent être combinés pour les différentes périodes d'intérêt d'un Certificat.
Intérêt dans le cas de Bons d'Option :	Les Bons d'Option ne portent pas intérêt.
Remboursement :	Le Montant de Règlement en Espèces ou le Montant de Règlement Physique, selon le cas, des Instruments Dérivés est déterminé en référence aux sous-jacents auxquels les Instruments Dérivés sont liés. En raison du lien au sous-jacent, les investisseurs peuvent recevoir un montant inférieur à celui qu'ils ont investi ou, dans des cas extrêmes, subir une perte totale du montant investi. Il peut y avoir une limite du degré d'impact des sous-jacents sur l'Instrument Dérivé. La relation particulière qui existe entre le sous-jacent concerné et les Instruments Dérivés est précisée dans les Conditions Définitives. Les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir que les Instruments Dérivés peuvent être réglés par livraison de certains sous-jacents ou titres liés à certains sous-jacents (contre paiement d'un prix d'exercice dans le cas de Bons d'Option). De plus, les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir pour l'Émetteur une option lui permettant de changer de base de règlement. Si le Montant de Règlement Physique comprend des fractions de sous-jacents ou de titres, les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir le paiement d'une somme en espèces égale à la valeur d'une telle fraction. Dans certaines circonstances mentionnés dans les Conditions Définitives, l'Émetteur ne sera pas obligé de livrer les sous-jacents ou les titres. Dans ce cas, l'Émetteur paiera une somme en espèces comme prévu dans les Conditions Définitives.
Sous-jacents :	Les sous-jacents peuvent inclure des taux d'intérêt structurés (y compris par référence (a) à un titre à revenu fixe, (b) à un taux/contrat à compris par référence (a) à un titre à revenu fixe, (b) à un taux/contrat à terme, ou (c) à un contrat/taux d'un swap ou d'une option (ex: par référence au taux d'un Constant Maturity Swap (CMS))), des actions (y compris des Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, ou des instruments similaires reflétant la performance des actions), des indices, des devises, des marchandises (y compris par référence à un taux/contrat à terme), des fonds d'investissement, des paniers, calculs et/ou combinaisons de tout type de sous-jacents mentionnés ci-dessus), tel que précisé dans les Conditions Définitives.

L'Émetteur ne rembourse pas les Certificats par anticipation et les Porteurs ne peuvent pas exiger le remboursement anticipé des Certificats, à moins que les Conditions Définitives ne prévoient un droit de remboursement anticipé (Kündigungsrecht). Les droits de remboursement anticipé et tout autre évènement d'extinction applicables, en cas de survenance d'un Cas de Défaut, d'un Évènement de Remboursement Automatique ou d'un Évènement de Knock-Out sont précisés dans les Conditions Définitives. Les Conditions Définitives pourront prévoir que le Montant de Remboursement Anticipé Automatique ou le Montant de Knock-Out, le cas échéant, sera dans ces circonstances égal à zero.

Les Certificats peuvent être remboursés par anticipation au Montant de Remboursement Anticipé pour des raisons fiscales, en cas de survenance d'un Cas de Défaut ou de tout autre évènement prévu dans les Conditions Définitives. Les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir que, dans ces circonstances, le Montant de Remboursement Anticipé sera égal à la juste valeur de marché des Certificats, ajusté afin de prendre en compte toutes les dépenses raisonnables et les coûts de dénouement de tout accord de couverture ou de financement conclu par l'Émetteur relativement aux Instruments Dérivés.

Évènements d'Extinction Extraordinaires pour les Bons d'Options :

Les Bons d'Options peuvent être soumis à une extinction anticipée au Montant de Remboursement Anticipé, en cas de survenance d'un Cas de Défaut ou de tout autre évènement d'extinction prévu dans les Conditions Définitives. Les Conditions Définitives peuvent prévoir que, dans ces circonstances, le Montant de Remboursement Anticipé sera égal à la juste valeur de marché des Certificats, ajusté afin de prendre en compte toutes les dépenses raisonnables et les coûts de dénouement de tout accord de couverture ou de financement conclu par l'Émetteur relativement aux Instruments Dérivés.

Rang :

Les Instruments Dérivés constitueront des obligations non subordonnées et non assorties de sûretés de l'Émetteur venant au même rang entre elles et avec toutes autres obligations non subordonnées de l'Émetteur à l'exception de toute obligation préférentielle selon la loi.

Notation de Crédit :

A compter de la date d'approbation de Prospectus de Base, l'Émetteur a reçu les notations suivantes des agences de notation:

Notation long-terme

Fitch : AA

Notation court-terme

Fitch : F1+

La notation constitue uniquement une aide pour les investisseurs dans la prise de décision et ne peut en aucun cas remplacer une évaluation individuelle du caractère approprié de l'investissement fait par l'investisseur et ne doit pas être considérée comme une recommandation d'achat ou de vente. La notation est uniquement un élément parmi d'autres pour la prise de décision d'investissement, cet élément devant être évalué au regard d'autres facteurs. Les notations n'étant modifiées qu'après un changement de la qualité de crédit d'un émetteur, les investisseurs doivent se faire leur propre jugement quelle que soit la notation existante.

Conditions Définitives : Les conditions définitives seront précisées dans chaque cas dans les Conditions Définitives concernées qui seront mises à la disposition des investisseurs conformément à la Section 14 de la loi allemande sur les Prospectus (Wertpapierprospektgesetz). Les Conditions Définitives concernées devront être lues conjointement avec le Prospectus de Base et ses suppléments et les documents incorporés par référence.

Retenue à la source : Tous les paiements de principal et d'intérêts seront fait libres de, et sans aucune retenue à la source ou déduction de tout impôt, droit ou charge gouvernementale quel qu'il soit, imposé, prélevé, collecté, retenu, ou calculé par la République Fédérale d'Allemagne ou toute subdivision politique ou toute autorité de la République Fédérale d'Allemagne qui a un pouvoir d'imposition.

Si, relativement aux Instruments Dérivés, de telles retenues à la source ou déductions sont imposées par la loi, les Conditions Définitives prévoiront que l'Émetteur ne sera pas tenu de payer de montant supplémentaire au titre des Instruments Dérivés ou que l'Émetteur – sous réserve des exemptions mentionnées au paragraphe 6 des Modalités des Instruments Dérivés – paiera les montants supplémentaires qu'un porteur aurait reçus si aucune retenue à la source ou déduction n'avait été imposée. Cependant, l'Émetteur a le droit, dans ce cas, de rembourser les Instruments Dérivés par anticipation.

Forme des Instruments Dérivés : Les Instruments Dérivés seront émis sous forme de titres au porteur (Inhaberschuld verschreibungen) de Droit allemand.

Les Instruments Dérivés au porteur seront émis conformément aux règles TEFRA C ou conformément aux règles TEFRA D ou de telle façon que ces Instruments Dérivés ne constituent pas « des obligations soumises à enregistrement » pour l'application de l'impôt sur le revenu fédéral américain (il sera fait référence à ces circonstances dans les Conditions Définitives en tant que transaction à laquelle les règles TEFRA sont « non applicables »).

Les titres au porteur d'une tranche ou d'une série particulière émis conformément aux règles TEFRA C, tels que précisé dans les Conditions Définitives, et les titres au porteur d'une tranche ou d'une série particulière auxquels les règles TEFRA ne s'appliquent pas, seront représentés par un Titre Global Permanent. Aucun titre définitif ne sera émis, à moins que les Conditions Définitives ne prévoient l'émission de titres définitifs.

Les titres au porteur d'une tranche ou d'une série particulière émis conformément aux règles TEFRA D, tels que précisé dans les Conditions Définitives, seront initialement représentés par un Titre Global Temporaire et par la suite, après expiration des 40 jours à partir de la date d'émission concernée, par un Titre Global Permanent.

Cotation et Négociation : Une demande peut être faite dans le futur pour coter les Instruments Dérivés sur tout marché réglementé de toute Bourse en Allemagne, en France, en Italie ou dans un autre État Membre de l'Espace Économique Européen, ou pour négocier les Instruments Dérivés sur un segment de marché libre (Freiverkehr) de toute Bourse en

	Allemagne ou sur un segment équivalent de toute Bourse dans un autre État Membre à l'intérieur de l'Espace Économique Européen, ou les Instruments Dérivés peuvent ne pas être cotés ou négociés, dans chaque cas comme précisé dans les Conditions Définitives.
Émission en Séries :	Les Instruments Dérivés seront émis en Séries (pour chacune une « Émission »). Chaque Émission peut comprendre une ou plusieurs tranches (les « Tranches » et chacune, une « Tranche ») émises à des dates d'émission différentes. Les Instruments Dérivés de chaque Émission seront tous soumis à des conditions identiques, sauf pour la date d'émission, le prix d'émission et le montant du premier paiement d'intérêt qui peuvent être différents selon les Tranches.
Modalités des Titres :	Les Modalités des Titres peuvent être préparées selon le choix de l'Émetteur sous forme consolidée ou sous forme de supplément. Les Conditions Définitives devront contenir toutes les informations devant être renseignées conformément au Prospectus de Base et aux Modalités, sous forme consolidée ou sous forme de supplément. Si l'Émetteur prépare des Modalités consolidées, il doit inclure dans les Conditions Définitives, avant les Modalités, un tableau résumant les conditions financières essentielles.
Autorisation de Base :	Les Instruments Dérivés seront émis dans le cadre de l'activité bancaire et financière de l'Émetteur telle que définie dans ses statuts conformément à une résolution interne de l'Émetteur.
Agent Payeur :	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG ou tout autre agent désigné dans les Conditions Définitives.
Agent Payeur Français :	BNP Paribas Securities Services ou tout autre agent désigné dans les Conditions Définitives.
Agent d'Émission Français :	BNP Paribas Securities Services.
Agent Payeur Italien :	L'Agent Payeur Italien, le cas échéant, tel que désigné dans les Conditions Définitives.
Agent de Cotation Italien :	L'Agent de Cotation Italien, le cas échéant, tel que désigné dans les Conditions Définitives.
Agent d'Émission Italien :	L'Agent d'Émission Italien, le cas échéant, tel que désigné dans les Conditions Définitives.
Agent de Calcul :	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG ou tout autre agent désigné dans les Conditions Définitives.
Restrictions de vente :	Chaque émission d'Instruments Dérivés sera faite en conformité avec les lois, règlements, décrets et toutes restrictions applicables dans le pays concerné. Toute offre ou vente d'Instruments Dérivés est soumise aux restrictions de vente en particulier au sein des États Membres de l'Accord sur l'Espace Économique Européen, aux États-Unis, au Royaume-Uni et en France et Italie. D'autres restrictions applicables aux Instruments Dérivés peuvent figurer dans les Conditions Définitives, et doivent être respectées, tel que décrit dans les Conditions Définitives.
Loi Applicable et Juridiction Compétente :	Les Instruments Dérivés sont soumis au droit allemand.
Dépôt :	Pendant leur durée de vie, les Instruments Dérivés feront l'objet d'un dépôt en tant que Titres Globaux auprès de Clearstream Banking AG, Francfort am Main (Neue Börsenstraße 1, D-60487 Frankfurt am Main, République Fédérale d'Allemagne), ou auprès d'un dépositaire commun à Clearstream Banking, société anonyme, Luxembourg (42 Avenue JF Kennedy; L-1855 Luxembourg; Luxembourg), Euroclear Bank SA/NV, à Bruxelles (1 Boulevard du Roi Albert IIB - 1210 Brussels, Belgique), et/ou Euroclear France S.A. (115, rue Réaumur, F-75081 Paris Cedex 02, France) et/ou seront admis pour compensation aux opérations de Monte Titoli S.p.A. (Via Mantegna 6, 20154, Milan, Italie) ou via des comptes pour lesquels il existe un lien avec un autre système de compensation ou tout autre système de compensation désigné dans les Conditions Définitives.

Sintesi dei Fattori di Rischio

L'acquisto di Strumenti Finanziari Derivati (Derivative Securities) emessi ai sensi del Programma presenta i rischi sintetizzati di seguito. Rischi specifici connessi al tipo di attività sottostante potrebbero essere previsti nelle relative Condizioni Definitive che pertanto devono essere sempre prese in considerazione nella valutazione del rischio connesso all'investimento in Strumenti Finanziari Derivati. A tal fine gli investitori, nell'effettuare la propria scelta di investimento, dovrebbero valutare, oltre alle informazioni sull'Emittente e sui Titoli Derivati contenute nel presente Prospetto di Base e nelle Condizioni Definitive, anche la descrizione dei rischi.

I soggetti che investono in Strumenti Finanziari Derivati offerti ai sensi del presente documento, prima di decidere se effettuare tale investimento, dovrebbero tenere in considerazione le proprie situazioni finanziarie e i propri obiettivi di investimento, nonché consultare sempre i propri consulenti finanziari, legali e fiscali in merito ai rischi che comporta l'investimento in Strumenti Finanziari Derivati alla luce della propria situazione personale.

Il verificarsi di uno o più degli eventi di seguito descritti potrebbe comportare una rilevante e duratura diminuzione del prezzo degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati o, in casi estremi, una perdita totale degli interessi e/o del capitale investito dall'investitore. Gli investitori che investono in Strumenti Finanziari Derivati potrebbero incorrere in una perdita totale o parziale dell'ammontare investito se il rischio relativo all'attività sottostante (o alle attività sottostanti) si realizza in tutto o in parte.

Fattori di Rischio relativi all'Emittente

Come per tutte le società, esiste un rischio generale di insolvenza dell'Emittente. La realizzazione di tale rischio potrebbe comportare delle conseguenze negative sull'Emittente che potrebbe non essere in grado di adempiere ai propri obblighi di pagamento, derivanti dagli strumenti finanziari emessi, nei confronti dei titolari degli strumenti stessi, e detti titolari avrebbero diritto di agire in giudizio solo in base al Codice Fallimentare Tedesco (Insolvenzordnung). Esiste pertanto il rischio che gli investitori, in caso d'insolvenza dell'Emittente, perdano interamente il capitale investito (dato dal prezzo di acquisto più gli altri costi connessi all'acquisto) per l'acquisto degli strumenti finanziari emessi dall'Emittente.

Fattori di rischio relativi agli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati

Fattori di rischio generali riguardanti gli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati

- La detenzione di Strumenti Finanziari Derivati comporta un elevato livello di rischio che include il rischio di tasso d'interesse, il rischio societario, il rischio di mercato, il rischio connesso alla valuta estera, il rischio di svalutazione e/o i rischi politici.
- Gli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati possono scadere privi di valore o essere riscattati senza il sostenimento di alcun pagamento.
- Il valore dei Warrants tende a ridursi con il passare del tempo, anche nel caso in cui tutti gli altri fattori rimangano costanti e potrebbero scadere privi di valore (salva la sussistenza di un valore minimo alla data di scadenza).
- Un investimento in Strumenti Finanziari Derivati comporterà sempre il rischio che il capitale investito sia perso in tutto o in parte e che non venga pagato alcun interesse o premio.
- Chi investe in Strumenti Finanziari Derivati rischia potenzialmente di subire perdite dovute alle caratteristiche di ciascun prodotto finanziario in cui si è investito e che non sono state prese in considerazione dagli investitori per scarsa conoscenza dei prodotti stessi e del loro relativo funzionamento. Un investimento richiede l'esatta conoscenza delle modalità in cui si svolge l'operazione. Gli investitori dovrebbero avere un'adeguata conoscenza ed esperienza circa le modalità in cui si svolge un'operazione, in materie finanziarie e commerciali nonché in relazione ad investimenti in attività sottostanti (e.g. tassi di interesse strutturati, azioni (ivi inclusi, a titolo esemplificativo, Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, o strumenti finanziari simili che riflettono l'andamento delle azioni), indici, valute, beni, fondi comuni di investimento o insiemi di dette attività sottostanti) ed essere a conoscenza dei rischi connessi.

- l'attività sottostante o l'insieme di attività sottostanti possono essere soggetti a cambiamenti rilevanti durante la durata degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati dovuti a diverse circostanze, ivi incluse, a titolo esemplificativo, oscillazioni nei propri componenti.
- Uno Strumento Finanziario Derivato riferito a più attività sottostanti può sopportare rischi cumulativi o persino moltiplicati rispetto a strumenti finanziari riferiti ad un'unica attività sottostante.
- Gli investitori potrebbero non essere in grado di tutelarsi rispetto a queste diverse tipologie di rischio con riferimento agli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati.
- Un rilevante dissesto del mercato potrebbe comportare una sostituzione dell'attività sottostante o un rimborso anticipato o un'estinzione dello Strumento Finanziario Derivato, così da rendere l'originaria valutazione dei rischi non più valida o esporre l'investitore al rischio di re-investimento.

Poichè il valore degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati dipende da una o più attività sottostanti, lo stesso sarà conseguentemente esposto a rischi cumulativi nel mercato secondario. Il rendimento delle rispettive attività sottostanti è soggetto a diversi e connessi fattori di natura economica, finanziaria e politica che non sono sotto il controllo dell'Emittente.

Nel caso in cui la formula utilizzata nella determinazione dell'ammontare del capitale, del premio e/o dell'interesse dovuto con riferimento agli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati contenga un moltiplicatore o un fattore di leva o limiti massimi/minimi di interesse o di rimborso, l'effetto di qualsiasi cambiamento all'attività sottostante sarà aumentata con riguardo all'ammontare dovuto.

Il rendimento storico dell'attività sottostante non può essere considerato rilevante per la determinazione del rendimento futuro della stessa per tutta la durata degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati.

Fattori di rischio relativi ai Pagamenti sugli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati

- Gli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati costituiscono obbligazioni non garantite.
- Gli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati con interesse derivato e strutturato e/o componenti di pagamento sono esposti a rischi specifici connessi all'attività sottostante:
    - Oscillazioni del valore delle attività sottostanti o dei tassi d'interesse incidono sul valore degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati connessi a tali attività sottostanti o tassi di interesse.

- L'assenza di informazioni circa l'ultima negoziazione dell'attività sottostante e la limitata disponibilità di quotazioni della stessa possono rendere difficile per gli investitori ottenere dati aggiornati e accurati per determinare il prezzo o il rendimento di tali attività sottostanti.
- Le attività sottostanti possono essere soggette a cambiamenti o sostituzioni al ricorrere di certi eventi descritti nelle Condizioni Definitive, soprattutto qualora le attività sottostanti cessino di esistere o siano soggette a modifiche o cambiamenti rilevanti.
- Un dissesto del mercato può avere un effetto negativo sul valore degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati o sulla determinazione del livello o del prezzo delle attività sottostanti e/o potrebbe comportare ritardi nella liquidazione degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati.
- Possono essere escluse le successive correzioni dei livelli o dei prezzi dell'attività sottostante pubblicati dal relativo emittente, sponsor dell'indice o fonte di prezzo.
- Gli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati su valute estere espongono gli investitori a rischi connessi ad oscillazioni nei tassi di cambio.
- Come conseguenza di un rimborso anticipato degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati, la somma dovuta in tale caso potrebbe essere inferiore rispetto al valore nominale o al prezzo di emissione di un Certificate o del prezzo di acquisto di un Warrant pagato dal titolare. In caso di rimborso anticipato degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati, si è in presenza di un rischio da re-investimento che potrebbe impedire all'investitore di eseguire un altro investimento, che, al momento di tale rimborso anticipato, abbia una struttura "pay out" e un profilo di rischio equivalenti a quelli degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati estinti.

- Gli investitori potenziali dovrebbero essere informati del fatto che le decisioni prese dal Calculation Agent possono avere un impatto sul valore e sul rendimento finanziario degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati.

Rischi di Mercato

- Il mercato de i titoli di debito può essere volatile e negativamente influenzato da vari fattori.
- Un mercato attivo di negoziazione per gli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati potrebbe non svilupparsi nonostante tali Strumenti Finanziari Derivati siano quotati o negoziati in un mercato regolamentato.

Particolari Rischi di Investimento

- Il rendimento effettivo sugli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati potrebbe essere ridotto rispetto al rendimento dichiarato a causa dei costi dell'operazione.

- I titolari degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati non potranno fare affidamento sulla possibilità di concludere operazioni che escludano o riducano l'esposizione a perdite derivanti dagli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati per tutta la durata degli stessi.
- Il prestito di garanzia, nel caso in cui sia consentito, può incrementare sensibilmente il rischio di una performance negativa degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati.
- Il premio, profitto o rendimento effettivo generato dagli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati potrebbe essere diminuito a causa dell'imposizione fiscale sugli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati.

Conflitti di interesse

- L'Emittente e le società da esso controllate o ad esso affiliate potrebbero essere di tanto in tanto coinvolti in operazioni e attività che abbiano ad oggetto gli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati o le attività sottostanti. Tali attività potrebbero essere svolte in circostanze in cui l'interesse del titolare degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati sia in conflitto con gli interessi dell'Emittente e di alcune società da esso controllate o ad esso affiliate e tali operazioni e attività potrebbero incidere negativamente sul valore degli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati.

Ulteriori Fattori di Rischio in caso di rimborso tramite consegna fisica

I potenziali investitori devono prestare attenzione al fatto che le Condizioni Definitive potrebbero prevedere che gli Strumenti Finanziari Derivati siano rimborsati tramite consegna fisica di un determinato numero di attività sottostanti e non in denaro, ad eccezione di alcune circostanze specifiche indicate nelle Condizioni Definitive. Ne consegue che:

- I potenziali investitori, mediante l'acquisto di Strumenti Finanziari Derivati, effettuano altresì una potenziale scelta di investimento nelle attività sottostanti.
- Le Condizioni Definitive potrebbero prevedere che non saranno consegnate frazioni di attività sottostante e che tali frazioni che non possono essere consegnate saranno liquidate in danaro.
- Il valore dell'attività sottostante reso come rimborso potrebbe essere di valore notevolmente inferiore rispetto al capitale investito dall'investitore e potrebbe persino, in casi estremi, essere pari a zero.
- Nel caso in cui le attività sottostanti consegnate siano in una valuta diversa dalla Valuta Specificata dei Titoli Derivati, i titolari sono esposti al rischio di oscillazioni del tasso di cambio.
- Le attività sottostanti consegnate potrebbero non essere liquide o esserlo solo in parte.
- Potrebbe essere chiesto agli investitori di sostenere tutti i costi, i compensi, le spese e le tasse connessse alla consegna delle attività sottostanti.

- La consegna delle attività sottostanti potrebbe essere impossibile o potrebbe avvenire in ritardo a causa di una pluralità di circostanze, ivi incluso l'avverarsi di un evento di dissesto di liquidazione. Tale evento potrebbe comportare che la consegna della specifica attività sottostante sia sostituita dal pagamento dell'equivalente ammontare in danaro o dalla consegna di altre attività indicate nelle Condizioni Definitive.

Ulteriori fattori di Rischio relativi ai Warrant

- Il valore temporale dei Warrant – che influenza il Cash Settlement Amount e il Physical Settlement Amount – è influenzato sia dal prezzo e/o dal livello dell'attività sottostante, sia da numerosi altri fattori correlati, ivi incluse la durata del periodo residuo prima della scadenza e le aspettative sul valore delle attività sottostanti.
- L'esercizio dei Warrant potrebbe essere limitato a un numero minimo o massimo di Warrant esercitati in un giorno.
- Potrebbe sussistere uno sfalsamento temporale tra il momento in cui il titolare dà istruzioni per l'esercizio dei Warrant e il momento in cui è determinato il relativo Cash Settlement Amount (nell'ipotesi di Cash Settled Warrants) o il Physical Settlement Amount (in caso di Physically Settled Warrants) relativo a tale esercizio.
- Nel caso in cui i tassi dei dividendi sull'attività sottostante, ove possibile, aumentino, è lecito aspettarsi che il valore commerciale di un Put Warrant o di un simile Strumento Finanziario (d'ora in avanti "Put Security") aumenti e che il valore commerciale di un Call Warrant o di un simile Strumento Finanziario (d'ora in avanti "Call Security") diminuisca.

Ulteriori Fattori di Rischio relativi a Certificates senza scadenza certa

- Il rendimento che deriva da tali Certificates dipende, inter alia, dal prezzo prevalente della relativa attività sottostante e dalla data in cui il relativo titolare esercita i suoi Certificates. Oltre a poter esercitare i Certificates alle date di esercizio specificate, i titolari possono solamente realizzare i loro investimenti sul mercato secondario (nel caso in cui tale mercato esista).
- Le Condizioni Definitive potrebbero specificare un ammontare minimo di Certificates che devono essere esercitati dal titolare. Se un titolare detiene un quantitativo inferiore di Certificates rispetto a quello minimo richiesto, non potrà esercitare i suoi Certificates e potrebbe rivendere i suoi Certificates o acquistare ulteriori Certificates sul mercato secondario (sempre che tale mercato esista) per raggiungere il quantitativo minimo richiesto.
- Potrebbe sussistere uno sfalsamento temporale tra il momento in cui un titolare dà istruzioni per l'esercizio dei suoi Certificates e il momento in cui il Cash Settlement Amount o il Physical Settlement Amount relativo a tale esercizio è determinato.

Sintesi del Programma di Offerta in relazione ai Titoli Derivati

Ragioni dell'emissione

In base al Programma, l'Emittente potrà emettere Titoli Derivati al portatore (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) i cui termini e condizioni sono retti dal diritto tedesco, inclusi i Titoli Derivati senza denominazione.

Statistiche di Emissione e Tempistica prevista

L'Emittente potrà emettere di volta in volta e ad ogni occasione durante la vigenza di questo Prospetto Base, Titoli Derivati nel rispetto del Programma. Le condizioni e la tempistica di ogni emissione di Titoli Derivati saranno soggette alle relative Condizioni Definitive conformemente al significato dell'art. 26 n. 5 del Regolamento della Commissione (EC) n. 809/2004 del 29 aprile 2004 (le "Condizioni Definitive")

Impiego dei proventi

Emittente:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG
Tipo di Programma:	Programma per l'emissione di Titoli Derivati al portatore (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) le cui clausole e condizioni sono rette dal diritto tedesco. In base al programma, l'Emittente può, inter alia, emettere Titoli Derivati nella forma di Warrants e di Certificates con o senza interessi al portatore con tasso fisso o variabile e/o interesse derivato o strutturato. Qualsiasi pagamento al momento dell'esercizio o del rimborso, a seconda dei casi, dei Titoli Derivati sarà determinato in riferimento a una o più attività sottostanti.
Distribuzione:	I Titoli Derivati saranno distribuiti tramite l'Emittente o altri soggetti simili, come può essere previsto nelle relative Condizioni Definitive.
Offerta:	L'Emittente potrà offrire Titoli Derivati al pubblico o collocare privatamente i Titoli Derivati con o senza un periodo di sottoscrizione applicabile. I dettagli relativi ad ogni offerta saranno esposti nelle relative Condizioni Definitive.

Prezzo di Emissione:	Il prezzo di Emissione per i Titoli Derivati emessi ad ogni tranche sarà specificato nelle relative Condizioni Definitive.
Valuta dell'Emissione:	Euro o qualunque altra valuta specificata nelle relative Condizioni Definitive in relazione a qualunque Serie, in ogni caso in conformità delle previsioni di legge applicabili e dei controlli dei cambi.
Scadenze/Esercizio:	I Certificates possono avere: (i) una durata prestabilita, nel qual caso saranno considerati come automaticamente esercitati e riscattati alla data di riscatto stabilita nelle Condizioni Definitive, o (ii) una data di scadenza non prestabilita ("Certificates senza data di scadenza definita") nel qual caso ogni Certificate sarà esigibile e pagabile al momento di esercizio da parte tel titolare o del riscatto a scelta dell'Emittente. Inoltre, le Condizioni Definitive possono stabilire che i Certificates siano riscattati anticipatamente in caso dell'Evento di Knock-Out dal titolare o come conseguenza di un Evento di Rimborso automatico anticipato come specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive. I Warrants diventeranno esigibili e pagabili e saranno liquidati a seguito di un adeguato esercizio dai rispettivi titolari alle date specificate nelle Condizioni Definitive e, se applicabile in base alle Condizioni Definitive, al momento dell'Esercizio Automatico alla Data di Scadenza. I warrant scadono alla Data di Scadenza, se non sono esercitati o se sono automaticamente esercitati. Inoltre i Warrants saranno considerati esercitati come conseguenza di un Evento di Knock-Out specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive. Le Condizioni Definitive delineeranno le Date di Esercizio o i Periodi di Esercizio a seconda del caso, e il tempo di esercizio applicabile ai Warrants e Certificates senza la scadenza definita.

	All'esercizio di un Warrant liquidato fisicamente o senza scadenza predefinita, il titolare è tenuto a fornire un certificato assicurando che il titolare beneficiario non è una U.S. person come definita nella Regulation S.
Denominazione:	I Titoli Derivati saranno emessi sotto forma di titoli con valore non alla pari in quote.
Interessi in caso di Certificates:	Il Programma potrà prevedere Certificates che non diano diritto al pagamento di un interesse periodico, Certificates con tassi variabili o fissi o con una somma d'interesse variabile o fissa, Certificates con un interesse derivato o con una struttura di pagamento collegata a una o più attività sottostanti (interesse collegato ad attività sottostanti come tassi di interesse strutturati (inclusi (a) un titolo a reddito fisso, (b) contratto/tasso future, o (c) un contratto/tasso swap o di opzione, ad esempio un riferimento a un Constant Maturity Swap (CMS) Rate), azioni (incluse le Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, o altri strumenti simili che riflettano il rendimento delle azioni), indici, valute estere, merci (inclusi contratti/tassi di futures), fondi comuni di investimento, panieri (e/o previsioni di qualsiasi attività sottostante sopra elencata) e con interesse massimale o minimale, come specificato nelle relative Condizioni Definitive. Diversi tipi d'interesse o di strutture potranno essere combinate per periodi diversi di interesse di un Certificate.
Interessi in caso di Warrants:	I Warrants non sono gravati da interesse.
Riscatto:	Il Cash settlement Amount o il Physical Settlement Amount, a seconda del caso, dei Titoli Derivati è determinato in riferimento alle attività sottostanti cui sono connessi i Titoli Derivati. Per effetto della connessione con un'attività sottostante, gli investitori potranno ricevere meno della somma investita o, in casi estremi, subire una perdita totale della somma da loro investita. Può esservi un limite all'effetto che l'attività sottostante può avere sul Titolo Derivato. Lo specifico rapporto tra l'attività sottostante e il Titolo Derivato è specificato nelle relative Condizioni Definitive. Le Condizioni Definitive potranno prevedere che i Titoli Derivati possano essere liquidati attraverso il conferimento di attività sottostanti o di titoli connessi ad attività sottostanti (contro pagamento dello strike price nel caso di Warrants). Inoltre, le Condizioni Definitive potranno prevedere per l'Emittente l'opzione di modificare la base rilevante di liquidazione. Qualora la Physical Settlement Amount comprenda porzioni di attività sottostanti o di titoli, le Condizioni Definitive potranno prevedere il pagamento di una somma pari al valore di tale porzioni. Al verificarsi di alcune circostanze previste dalle Condizioni Definitive, l'Emittente non sarà obbligato a consegnare le attività sottostanti o i titoli. In tal caso, l'Emittente pagherà una somma in contanti come specificato dalle Condizioni Definitive.

Attività sottostante:	L'attività sottostante può includere tassi d'interesse strutturati (inclusi (a) un titolo a reddito fisso, (b) contratto/tasso future, o (c) un contratto/tasso swap o di opzione, ad esempio un riferimento a un Constant Maturity Swap (CMS) Rate), azioni (incluse le Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, o altri strumenti simili che riflettano il rendimento delle azioni), indici, valute estere, merci (inclusi contratti/tassi di futures), fondi comuni di investimento, panieri (e/o previsioni di qualsiasi attività sottostante sopra elencata) e con interesse massimale o minimale, come specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive.
Diritto di riscatto anticipato in caso di Certificates:	L'emittente non potrà anticipatamente riscattare i Certificates, né i titolari potranno richiedere il riscatto anticipato dei Certificates, a meno che le Condizioni Definitive non conferiscano un diritto di riscatto anticipato (Kündigungsrecht). I diritti di riscatto anticipato applicabili e qualsiasi altro evento di risoluzione, compreso un riscatto anticipato all'evenienza di un Evento di Riscatto Automatico o di un Evento di Knock-Out, sono specificati nelle relative Condizioni Definitive. Le Condizioni Definitive potranno prevedere che la Somma di Riscatto Automatico Anticipato o la Somma di Knock-Out, a seconda del caso, in tali circostanze sia pari a zero. I Certificates potranno essere riscattati anticipatamente al Prezzo del Rimborso Anticipato per motivi fiscali, in seguito ad un Evento di Inadempimento o qualsiasi altro evento di risoluzione previsto nelle Condizioni Definitive. Le Condizioni Definitive potranno prevedere che il Prezzo del Rimborso Anticipato, in tali circostanze, sia uguale al legittimo prezzo di mercato dei Certificates rettificato per tenere conto di qualsiasi ragionevole spesa e costo dello scioglimento di ogni eventuale relativo accordo di copertura e di finanziamento dell'Emittente.

Eventi Straordinari di Risoluzione in caso di Warrants:	I Warrants possono essere soggetti a una scadenza anticipata alla Somma di Pagamento Anticipato a seguito del verificarsi di un Evento di Inadempimento o di qualsiasi evento risolutivo ulteriore previsto dalle Condizioni Definitive. Le Condizioni Definitive possono prevedere che la Somma di Pagamento Anticipato in tali circostanze sia pari al valore di mercato dei Warrants, corretta per qualunque ragionevole spesa e costo di ogni copertura e finanziamento dell'Emittente.
Stato e Classificazione:	I Titoli Derivati costituiranno obbligazioni di primo grado dell'Emittente, indipendenti e senza garanzia, che si collocano pari passu fra loro stesse e ogni altra obbligazione indipendente di primo grado dell'Emittente ad eccezione di ogni obbligazione privilegiata in base alla legge.
Livello di Affidabilità:	Dalla data di approvazione di questo Prospetto Base, l'Emittente ha ricevuto i seguenti rating dalle agenzie di rating specificate di seguito: Rating a lungo termine (Long Term (LT) Issuer Default Rating (IDR)):

	Fitch Ratings Ltd.: AA Rating a breve termine: Fitch Ratings Ltd.: F1+ Le informazioni di rating rappresentano semplicemente un'indicazione per gli investitori al fine di formare la loro decisione e non possono sostituire una valutazione individuale sull'adeguatezza di un investimento che compierà l'investitore e non possono essere prese come raccomandazione di acquistare o vendere certi Titoli Derivati. I rating sono da intendersi soltanto come un supporto nel caso di decisione d'investimento e costituiscono solo uno dei fattori rilevanti ai fini di una valutazione, fattore che deve essere visto e ponderato in relazione agli altri. Poiché i rating spesso sono corretti solo dopo che l'affidabilità creditizia di un emittente è mutata, gli investitori devono fare le loro valutazioni nonostante un rating possa già esistere.
Condizioni Definitive:	Le condizioni definitive saranno in ogni caso specificate nelle Condizioni Definitive del caso che saranno rese disponibili agli investitori in conformità alla Sezione quattordici della legge tedesca sui titoli (Wertpapierprospektgesetz). Le Condizioni Definitive rilevanti dovrebbero essere lette congiuntamente al Prospetto Base, ai suoi supplementi e ai documenti di riferimento allegati.
Ritenuta fiscale:	Tutti i pagamenti del capitale e degli interessi saranno effettuati al netto di tasse, imposte, contributi o addebiti statali di qualunque natura, che siano state imposti, riscossi, incassati, trattenuti o accertati dalla Repubblica Federale di Germania o qualsiasi ente o autorità della Repubblica Federale di Germania che abbia il potere di imposizione fiscale. Se, con riferimento ai Titoli Derivati questa trattenuta o deduzione è richiesta dalla legge, le Condizioni Definitive prevederanno che l'Emittente non sarà tenuto a pagare alcuna ulteriore somma sui Titoli Derivati o che l'Emittente – in base alle esenzioni stabilite dal § 6 dei Termini e Condizioni dei Titoli Derivati – pagherà tali ulteriori somme come un titolare che le abbia ricevute se nessuna trattenuta o deduzione fosse stata richiesta. Tuttavia, l'Emittente ha il diritto, in tal caso, di riscuotere anticipatamente il Titolo Derivato.

Forma dei Titoli Derivati:	I Titoli Derivati saranno emessi come titoli al portatore (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) disciplinati dal diritto tedesco. I Titoli Derivati al portatore saranno emessi conformemente alla TEFRA C o conformemente alla TEFRA D o in circostanze nelle quali non costituiscano "obbligazioni con obbligo di registrazione" ai fini delle imposte federali americane sul reddito (circostanze a cui si farà riferimento nelle Condizioni Definitive come una transazione cui TEFRA "non è applicabile"). I Titoli Derivati di ogni tranche o serie emessi conformemente a TEFRA C, come specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive, e i titoli al portatore di ogni tranche o serie particolare emessi cui TEFRA non è applicabile, saranno assistiti da una Garanzia Permanente Globale. I Titoli Derivati di ogni tranche o serie emessi conformemente a TEFRA D, come specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive, saranno inizialmente assistiti da una Garanzia Temporanea Globale e successivamente, dopo il termine di 40 giorni dalla data di emissione corrispondente, da una Garanzia Permanente Globale. Titoli definitivi non saranno emessi, a meno che le Condizioni Definitive non prevedano l'emissione definitiva di titoli.
Quotazione e negoziazione in Borsa:	In futuro, potrà essere avanzata richiesta di ammissione a quotazione di Titoli Derivati su un mercato regolamentato della Borsa tedesca, francese, italiana o di qualunque altro Stato Membro all'interno dell'Area Economica Europea, o di negoziazione di Titoli Derivati su un segmento di mercato aperto della Borsa tedesca, di un altro mercato equivalente di una Borsa in qualunque Stato Membro all'interno dell'Area Economica Europea, ovvero i Titoli Derivati potranno non essere quotati o commercializzati del tutto, in ogni caso come specificato nelle rilevanti Condizioni Definitive.

Emissione in Serie:	I Titoli Derivati saranno emessi in Serie (ognuna detta anche "Emissione"). Ogni Emissione potrà comprendere una o più tranches ("Tranches" e ognuna una "Tranche") emesse in differenti date di emissione. I Titoli Derivati di ogni Emissione saranno tutti soggetti alle medesime clausole, escluso il caso in cui la data di emissione, il prezzo di emissione e l'ammontare del primo pagamento di interessi saranno diversi per le diverse Tranches.
Termini e Condizioni dei Titoli:	I Termini e le Condizioni potranno essere preparate a scelta dell'Emittente in forma consolidata o come supplemento. Le Condizioni Definitive rilevanti conterranno tutte le informazioni che devono essere specificate secondo questo Prospetto Base e secondo i Termini e le Condizioni, sia in forma consolidata sia in forma di supplemento. Se l'Emittente redigerà le condizioni in forma consolidata, potrà includere una tabella nelle Condizioni Definitive prima dei Termini e delle Condizioni che sintetizzeranno le clausole economiche rilevanti.
Autorizzazione:	I Titoli Derivati saranno emessi nell'ambito di applicazione dell'attività bancaria e finanziaria dell'Emittente così come stabilito nei suoi statuti in base a un risoluzione dell'Emittente.
Paying Agent:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG o qualunque altro agente specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive.
Paying Agent francese:	BNP Paribas Securities Services o qualunque altro agente specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive.
Agente di Emissione francese:	BNP Paribas Securities Services o qualunque altro agente specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive.
Paying Agent italiano	il Paying Agent italiano, ove nominato, specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive nelle Condizioni Definitive.

Listing Agent italiano	il Listing Agent italiano, ove nominato, specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive.
Agente di Emissione italiano	l'Agente di Emissione, ove nominato, specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive.
Calculation Agent:	HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG o qualunque altro agente specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive.
Selling Restrictions:	Ogni emissione di Titoli Derivati sarà fatta conformemente alle leggi, ai regolamenti e ai decreti legislativi e a ogni altra restrizione applicabile nella giurisdizione del caso. Qualsiasi offerta e vendita di Titoli Derivati è soggetta a restrizioni alla vendita in particolare negli stati membri dell'Unione Europea, negli Stati Uniti, nel Regno Unito, in Francia, e in Italia. Ulteriori restrizioni all' emissione di Titoli Derivati potrà essere prevista nelle Condizioni Definitive.
Legge applicabile e Giurisdizione:	I Titoli Derivati sono regolati dalla legge tedesca.
Custodia:	Per tutta la loro durata, i Titoli Derivati saranno depositati come Global Securities presso Clearstream Banking AG (Neue Börsenstraße 1, D-60487 Frankfurt am Main, Germany), Frankfurt am Main o presso un depositario comune a Clearstream Banking, société anonyme, Lussemburgo (42 Avenue JF Kennedy; L-1855 Luxembourg; Luxembourg), Euroclear Bank SA/NV, Brussels (1 Boulevard du Roi Albert IIB - 1210 Brussels, Belgium) e/o Euroclear France S.A. (115, rue Réaumur, F-75081 Paris Cedex 02, France) e/o saranno liquidati tramite Monte Titoli (Via Mantegna, 6, 20154 Milan, Italy) a mezzo dei propri conti bridge con un altro sistema di liquidazione o un altro sistema di liquidazione specificato nelle Condizioni Definitive.

Risk Factors

The purchase of the Derivative Securities issued under the Programme is associated with risks. The information set forth below represents the material risk factors related to an investment in the Derivative Securities. Please refer to the series specific risk warnings, if any, set out in the relevant Final Terms for further series specific risks arising from the relevant underlying.

Investors in the Derivative Securities should consider their current financial situation and their investment objectives before deciding whether to invest in the Derivative Securities. In this context, they should take into consideration the risks of an investment in the Derivative Securities set out below in particular, in addition to the other information contained in this Base Prospectus.

Should one or more of the circumstances described below occur, this could lead to a material and long-term decline in the price of the Derivative Securities or, in extreme cases, to a total loss of interest and of the amount invested by the investor. Investors investing in Derivative Securities may incur a total or partial loss of the amount invested if the risk involved in the underlying(s) is realised in whole or in part.

Prospective investors should consult their own financial, legal and tax advisors with regard to the risks entailed by an investment in Derivative Securities and the suitability of such Derivative Securities in light of their particular circumstances.

Risk Factors relating to the Issuer

As is the case with all companies existing under private law, there is a general risk of insolvency for the Issuer. The realisation of this risk would have the consequence that the Issuer would not be able to fulfill its payment obligations under any issued securities owed to the holders, and the holders would only be able to register their claims in accordance with the German Insolvency Code (Insolvenzordnung).

There is no protection against these risks by the deposit insurance fund of the Federal Association of German Banks (Einlagensicherungsfonds des Bundesverbandes Deutscher Banken) or by Entschädigungseinrichtung Deutsche Banken GmbH for any securities issued by the Issuer.

For these reasons, there is the risk for the investor in the case of insolvency of the Issuer that there will be a total loss of the capital expended for the acquisition of any securities issued by the Issuer (purchase price plus other costs associated with the purchase).

Risk Factors relating to the Securities

Investors investing in Derivative Securities should consider, in particular, the risks described below of investing in the Derivative Securities offered.

If one or more of the risks described below occur, investors investing in Derivative Securities may incur a total or partial loss of their capital invested.

These risk warnings do not substitute advice by the investor's bank or by legal, business or tax advisers, which should in any event be obtained in order to be able to assess the consequences of an investment in Derivative Securities. Investment decisions should not be made solely on the basis of the risk warnings set out in this Base Prospectus and the relevant Final Terms since such information cannot serve as a substitute for individual advice and information which is tailored to the requirements, objectives, experience, knowledge and circumstances of the investor concerned.

General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities

Holding Derivative Securities involves a high degree of risk, which may include interest rate, corporate, market, foreign exchange, time value and/or political risks. Prospective purchasers of Derivative Securities should recognise that their Derivative Securities, other than any principal protected securities and securities having a minimum expiration or redemption value, may expire worthless or be redeemable without any payment and, therefore, potential purchasers should in such circumstances be prepared to sustain a total loss of the amount invested or the issue price of Derivative Securities. In particular purchasers of Warrants must understand that, other factors held constant, the value of Warrants tends to decline over time and Warrants may become worthless when they expire (except to the extent of any minimum expiration value). Assuming all other factors are held constant, the more a Warrant is "out of the money" (which means that the settlement amount is in theory a negative number) and the shorter its remaining term to expiration, the greater the risk that purchasers of such Warrants will lose all or part of their investment.

The risk of the loss of some or all of the amount invested or the purchase price of a Derivative Security upon expiration or redemption means that, in order to recover and realise a return upon his/her investment, a purchaser of a Derivative Security must generally have correctly anticipated the direction, timing and magnitude of an anticipated change in the value of the underlying. With respect to Derivative Securities (other than American Style Warrants), the only means through which a Holder can realise value from such Derivative Security prior to any applicable Exercise Dates or the Expiration Date or Redemption Date (if any) is to sell it at its then market price in a secondary market (if such market exists).

Derivative Securities are subject to a number of risks, including (i) sudden and large falls in value, (ii) changes in the price, market value or level of the relevant underlying or the reference basis of the Derivative Securities and/or changes in the circumstances of the issuers of any securities comprising the underlying or of the reference basis of the Derivative Securities, (iii) changes in the rates of exchange of any of the currencies in which the underlying securities or reference basis of the Derivative Securities are denominated and (iv) a complete or partial loss of the investment in the Derivative Securities.

An investment in Derivative Securities may not be suitable for investors who have insufficient knowledge of the finance sector.

Investors should determine whether an investment in Derivative Securities is appropriate in their particular circumstances.

An investment in Derivative Securities requires a thorough understanding of the nature and circumstances of the relevant transaction. Investors should have adequate knowledge and be experienced with respect to an investment in structured interest rates, shares (including Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares), indices, currencies, commodities, investment funds or baskets of such underlyings and be aware of the related risks.

Investment in Derivative Securities is only suitable for investors who:

- have the requisite knowledge and experience in financial and business matters to evaluate the merits and risks of an investment in Derivative Securities;
- have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate such merits and risks in the context of their financial situation;
- are capable of bearing the economic risk of an investment in Derivative Securities for an indefinite period of time; and

- recognise that it may not be possible to dispose of the Derivative Securities for a substantial period of time, if at all.

Investments in Derivative Securities entail significant risks.

An investment in Derivative Securities entails significant risks that are not associated with similar investments in a conventional fixed or floating rate debt security. These risks include, among other things, the possibility that:

- the underlying or basket of underlyings may be subject to significant changes during the term of the Derivative Securities due to various circumstances including fluctuations in its components;
- in case of Certificates, the resulting interest rate or payable interest amount may be less (or even zero) than that payable in the case of a conventional debt security issued by the Issuer at the same time;
- the Holder of a Derivative Security could lose all or a substantial portion of the nominal amount or issue price per Certificate or the purchase price for Warrants (whether payable at maturity or any other date for redemption or settlement)
- the risks of investing in Derivative Securities encompasses both risks relating to the underlyings and risks that are unique to the Derivative Securities as such;
- any Derivative Security that is linked to more than one type of underlying, that encompass the risks associated with more than one type of asset, may carry levels of risk that are greater than Derivative Securities that are linked to one type of asset only;
- it may not be possible for investors to hedge their exposure to these various risks arising from Derivative Securities; and
- a significant market disruption could cause a substitution of the underlying or an early redemption of the Security, so that the original assessment of risks may no longer apply or the investor would be exposed to reinvestment risk.

The value of Derivative Securities on the secondary market is subject to greater levels of risk than the value of other securities is. The secondary market, if any, for Derivative Securities will be affected by a number of factors, irrespective of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and the value of the applicable underlyings, including the volatility of the applicable underlyings, the time remaining to the maturity of such Derivative Securities, the amount outstanding of such Derivative Securities and market interest rates.

The value of the applicable underlyings depends on a number of interrelated factors, including economic, financial and political events beyond the Issuer's control. Additionally, if the formula used to determine the amount of principal, premium and/or interest payable with respect to Derivative Securities contains a multiplier or leverage factor, the effect of any change in the applicable underlyings will be increased.

The historical experience of the relevant underlyings should not be taken as an indication of future performance of such underlyings during the term of any Derivative Security.

Additionally, there may be regulatory and other ramifications associated with the ownership by certain investors of certain Derivative Securities.

Risk Factors relating to Payments on the Derivative Securities

Derivative Securities are unsecured Obligations

The Derivative Securities constitute direct, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu among themselves and equally with all other unsecured obligations of the Issuer from time to time outstanding.

An investment in Derivative Securities with derivative and structured interest and/or payment components is subject to specific risk associated with the relevant underlying

General

In the case of Derivative Securities with structured interest and/or payment components, the interest rate and/or amount to be paid or delivered by the Issuer is linked to an underlying. If the Derivative Securities are terminated prematurely or sold before maturity, there will further be the risk that part of the invested capital is lost.

Fluctuations in the value of the relevant underlyings or interest rates, to which the derivative interest structure or payment is linked, will affect the value of the Derivative Securities linked to such underlyings or interest rates. Also, due to the character of the particular markets on which underlyings are traded, the absence of last sale information and the limited availability of quotations for such underlying may make it difficult for many investors to obtain timely, accurate data for the price or yield of such underlyings.

Interest rates may be affected by complex political and economic factors, including governmental action to raise or lower interest rates regardless of other market forces.

Products linked to Baskets of Underlyings

The value of a basket of underlyings may be affected by the number of components of such basket. Generally, the value of a basket that includes securities of a number of companies or a number of other components and which gives relatively equal weight to each component will be less affected by changes in the value of any particular component included therein than a basket that includes fewer components or that gives greater weight to some components. In addition, if the securities or other components of a basket are all identified with a particular industry, the value of such a basket will be more affected by the economic, financial and other factors affecting that industry than if the components included in the basket are identified with various industries that are affected by different economic, financial or other factors or are affected by such factors in different ways.

Products referring to the "Best" or "Worst" component only

The Final Terms of the Derivative Securities linked to a basket of underlyings may provide for a reference to the price, value or level, or the development of such variables, (the "performance") with respect to the "best" or "worst" underlying only.

In such case an investor might only participate in the performance of the underlying performing best/highest (or worst/lowest), when compared to the performances of the other underlyings contained in the basket, whereas the performances of the other underlyings in the basket would be disregarded.

Thus, the investor faces the risk of losses due to the performance of the relevant selected underlying, even if some or all other underlyings in the basket perform more favourably.

Products referring to the spread of the components only

The Final Terms may provide that the Derivative Securities are linked to the spread of two underlying components. In such case only the difference of such components (levels or performances), irrespective of the fact if the general market development rises or falls, affects the Derivative Securities.

Products with no fixed maturity and products which provide for a continuous adjustment of certain variables

The Final Terms of the Derivative Securities may provide that certain components of the formula to determine the interest and/or redemption amount are subject to changes; such components may change if they are either linked to the performance of certain underlyings or (if they are specific prices, rates or levels) if they are made subject to a continuous adjustment during the term of the Derivative Securities – to account for market developments or financing costs. Such adjustments can result in a lower interest amount and/or redemption amount, as the case may be, and can increase the risk of a decrease of the value of the relevant Derivative Securities and any related losses on the side of the investors in the relevant Derivative Securities.

Such risks may in particular apply where the relevant product does not provide for a fixed maturity.

In such case, the Issuer enables the Holder of the relevant Derivative Security to participate in the positive performance (in the case of "long" structures) or negative performance (in the case of "short" structures) of an underlying or basket of underlyings, without being limited to a fixed term. Accordingly, the Issuer incurs "positive" or "negative" financing costs which are compensated for by the adjustment of certain components of the relevant interest and/or redemption formula, e.g. on every day on which the exchange for the relevant underlying operates.

The compensation in the case of positive financing costs results in an increase of the relevant component and is to the detriment (in the case of "long" structures) or to the benefit (in the case of "short" structures) of the Holder. The compensation of negative financing costs results in the reduction of the relevant component and is to the benefit (in the case of "long" structures) or to the detriment (in the case of "short" structures) of the Certificateholder.

Products providing for Barrier Events or Knock-Out-Events

The Final Terms may provide for Barrier Events or Knock-Out-Events linked to certain pre-determined variables. Barrier Events or Knock-Out-Events may occur if the prices or level, price or value of the relevant underlying(s) or of basket on a certain date or during a specified observation period is higher than and/or equal to and/or less than certain pre-determined levels, prices or values ("Barriers" or "Knock-Out Prices").

Such Barriers or Knock-Out Prices can be expressed by reference to e.g. the ratio between the initial price, level or value of the relevant underlying or basket on the one hand, and the price, level or value of the relevant underlying or basket on a specific valuation date on the other hand.

Where such Barriers or Knock-Out Prices apply, fluctuations in the prices or levels of the relevant underlyings might be irrelevant with respect to the payments under the Derivative Securities, as long as such prices or levels do not trigger any of the applicable Barriers or Knock-Out Prices.

The Final Terms of the Derivative Securities may provide that following the occurrence of a Barrier Event or a Knock-Out-Event, as the case may be, the Holder will no longer have the benefit of a principal protection under the Derivative Securities or the chance to receive an additional payment independent of the actual price or level of the underlying and that payments under the Derivative Securities are from now on directly linked to unfavourable developments of the price or level of the underlyings. The occurrence of a Barrier Event or a Knock-Out-Event might also lead to an immediate automatic redemption or exercise and settlement of such Derivative Security either on the basis of the prevailing and unfavourable price or level of the relevant underlying or at a fixed amount, which could be zero or close to zero.

In view thereof, products providing for Barrier Events or Knock-Out-Events may provide for an increased risk on the side of the investor to incur a partial or even total loss of his invested capital.

Products providing for Barrier Events or Knock-Out-Events in combination with a continuous adjustment of certain variables

The Final Terms may also provide that the relevant Barriers or Knock-Out Prices are only initially fixed but thereafter subject to changes, either if they are either linked to the performance of certain underlyings or (if they are specific prices, rates or levels) if they are made subject to a continuous adjustment during the term of the Derivative Securities – to account for market developments or financing costs.

In the case of continuous adjustments of Barriers or Knock-Out Prices, such adjustments usually lead to an increase (in the case of "long" structures) or reduction (in the case of "short" structures) of the relevant Barrier or Knock-Out Price, as the case may be. If the price, value or level of the relevant underlying does not increase (in the case of "long" structures) or decrease (in the case of "short" structures) correspondingly, the value of the relevant Derivative Securities will presumably decrease with each day of their term, and the risk of the occurrence of a related Barrier Event or Knock-Out Event, as the case may be, will increase.

In addition, a payment amount might be limited to a maximum amount fixed in the Final Terms. In combination with a continuous adjustment as set out above, this may result in such maximum amount being lower than the original invested capital in such Derivative Security.

Risks relating to Extraordinary Events and related adjustment or termination

The underlyings of the Derivative Securities may be subject to change or substitution following the occurrence of certain market disruption events, adjustment events, lock-in events or other extraordinary events, in particular if the underlyings cease to exist or are subject to a material change or modification during the term of the Derivative Securities. In such case the Final Terms may provide that the Calculation Agent may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions (including the substitution by the affected underlying by a comparable underlying) in order to take into account the economic effect of such events and/or that the Derivative Securities may be redeemed early at the Early Settlement Amount.

Risk associated with Index linked Derivative Securities in particular

Factors Affecting an Index

Prospective investors of Derivative Securities should be familiar with investments in global capital markets and with derivatives and Indices in general. The level of an Index is based on the value of the assets comprised in such Index although prospective investors should note that the level of the Index at any time will not include the reinvestment of the yield on the assets comprised in the Index. Prospective investors should understand that global economic, financial and political developments, among other things, may have a material effect on the value of the assets comprising such Index and/or the performance of the Index.

Prospective investors should also note that dividends paid to holders of the assets in the Index will not be paid to the Issuer or to the Holders. The return on the Derivative Securities will thus not reflect any dividends which would be paid to investors that have made a direct investment in the assets comprised in the Index. Consequently, the return on the Derivative Securities may be less than the return from a direct investment in the assets comprised in the Index.

Fluctuations in the value of an Index and changes in the price or market value or level of the assets contained in an Index and/or changes in the circumstances of the issuers of such assets, might have an adverse effect on the level of an Index and on the value of the Derivative Securities.

Substitution or Adjustment of an Index

The Final Terms may provide that the Calculation Agent may adjust the terms of the Derivative Securities in the case of a Market Disruption Event or an Index Adjustment Event, in particular may calculate the level of an Index in accordance with the provisions set out in the Final Terms in lieu of a published level for such Index. Such adjustments have an adverse impact on the value of the Derivative Securities. Any such discretion exercised by, or any calculation made by, the Calculation Agent (in the absence of manifest error) shall be binding.

Risk associated with Share linked Derivative Securities in particular

Factors Affecting the Shares (including Global Depositary Receipts, American Depositary Receipts, or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares)

Prospective investors of Derivative Securities should be familiar with investments in global capital markets and with derivatives and Shares generally. The Derivative Securities can be volatile instruments. Changes in the price or market value of Shares and/or changes in the circumstances of the issuers of the Shares may result in sudden and large fluctuations in the value of the Derivative Securities. The value of the Shares may vary over time and may increase or decrease by reference to a variety of factors which may include, but are not limited to corporate actions and macro economic factors. In the case of a basket of Shares, fluctuations in the value of any one Share may be offset or intensified by fluctuations in the value of the other Shares in the Share basket.

Investing in the Derivative Securities is not the same as investing in the Shares

Prospective investors should be aware that the market value of the Derivative Securities may not have a direct relationship with the prevailing price of Shares and changes in the prevailing price of a Share will not necessarily result in a comparable change in the market value of the Derivative Securities.

Substitution or Adjustment of the Shares

The Calculation Agent may adjust the terms of the Derivative Securities in the case of a Potential Adjustment Event, Merger Event, Tender Offer, Nationalisation, Insolvency or Delisting. Further, if the Calculation Agent substitutes a Share by another Share as a consequence of any one or more of the above named events (save for a Potential Adjustment Event), the Final Terms may provide that the share issuer of the New Share shall be selected from the same industry and have a similar market capitalisation or credit rating as the relevant share issuer of the Substituted Share. Such adjustment or substitution may have an adverse impact on the value of the Derivative Securities. Any such discretion exercised by, or any calculation made by, the Calculation Agent (in the absence of manifest error) shall be binding.

Risk associated with Commodity Linked Derivative Securities in particular

Factors Affecting the Commodities

Prospective investors of Derivative Securities should be familiar with investments in global capital markets and with derivatives and Commodities generally. The Derivative Securities can be volatile instruments.

Market prices of the commodities may fluctuate rapidly based on numerous factors, including: changes in supply and demand relationships; weather; agriculture; trade; fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs; domestic and foreign political and economic events and policies; disease; pestilence; technological developments and changes in interest rates. These factors may affect the value of the related contracts and the value of the Derivative Securities in varying ways, and, in the case of a basket of commodities, different factors may cause the value of different commodities contained in the basket, and the volatilities of their prices, to move in inconsistent directions at inconsistent rates, thus offsetting or intensifying such fluctuations.

Investing in the Derivative Securities is not the same as investing in the Commodities

Prospective investors should be aware that the market value of the Derivative Securities may not have a direct relationship with the prevailing price of any underlying Commodities and changes in the prevailing price of a Commodity will not necessarily result in a comparable change in the market value of the Derivative Securities.

Substitution or Adjustment of the Commodities

The Calculation Agent may adjust the terms of the Derivative Securities in the case of a Price Source Disruption, Trading Disruption, Disappearance of Reference Price, Material Change in Formula or Material Change in Content. Such adjustment may have an adverse impact on the value of the Derivative Securities. Any discretion exercised by, or any calculation made by, the Calculation Agent (in the absence of manifest error) shall be binding.

Risk associated with Currency Linked Derivative Securities in particular

Factors Affecting the Exchange Rate

Currency Linked Derivative Securities are linked to one or more exchange rates for two currencies. Prospective investors of Derivative Securities should be familiar with investments in global capital markets and with derivatives and exchange rates generally. The Derivative Securities can be volatile instruments. Fluctuations in the underlying exchange rate may result in sudden and large fluctuations in the value of the Derivative Securities.

An exchange rate is the result of the supply of, and the demand for, the respective pair of currencies. Changes in the exchange rate result over time from the interaction of many factors directly or indirectly affecting economic and political conditions in the countries where such currencies are legal tender, including economic and political developments in other countries. Of particular importance to potential currency exchange risk are: (i) rates of inflation; (ii) interest rate levels; (iii) balance of payments; and (iv) the extent of governmental surpluses or deficits in the relevant country. All of these factors are, in turn, sensitive to the monetary, fiscal and trade policies pursued by the countries where such currencies are legal tender, and other countries important to international trade and finance.

Investing in the Derivative Securities is not the same as investing in a currency

Prospective investors should be aware that the market value of the Derivative Securities may not have a direct relationship with the prevailing exchange rate and changes in the prevailing exchange rate will not necessarily result in a comparable change in the market value of the Derivative Securities.

Risk associated with Interest Rate Linked Derivative Securities in particular Interest linked Derivative Securities are linked to an interest rate (e.g. such like Euribor Rate or Swap Rate) or their pay out depend on a formula containing such interest rate.

The risks of such Derivative Securities may result from the development of the market interest rates. A prospective investor must be able to evaluate the current and future development of the interest rates on his own in order to appraise the performance of the underlying. If the underlying is an interest rate, risks may result from the current interest rates relating to the relevant currency, the yield curve, from which future interest rates can be mathematically derived, and the development of interest rates and the yield curve during the term of the Derivative Securities.A prospective investor must be able to evaluate the factors that have an impact on the development of interest rates and the yield curve on his own to appraise the performance of the reference asset.

Market Disruption

In accordance with the Final Terms, the Calculation Agent may determine that a market disruption event with respect to the markets on which the relevant underlying is traded or a similar event has occurred or exists at a relevant time and that no prices or levels of the relevant underlying is available. Any such determination may have an adverse effect on the value of the Derivative Securities or the determination of the price or level of underlyings on a relevant trading day or business day and/or may delay settlement in respect of the Derivative Securities.

No Subsequent correction of levels or prices

The Final Terms may further provide that subsequent corrections of levels or prices published by the relevant issuer, index sponsor or price source shall not be taken into account by the Calculation Agent in connection with the determination of certain events or after the relevant Correction Cut-Off Date.

Investors should be aware that such calculations or the exclusion of level or price corrections might have an adverse impact on the value and financial return of the Derivative Securities. Any such discretion exercised by, or any calculation made by, the Calculation Agent (in the absence of manifest error) shall be binding.

Foreign-Exchange Risk

As purchasers of foreign currency securities, investors are exposed to the risk of changing foreign exchange rates. Currency values may be affected by complex political and economic factors, including governmental action to fix or support the value of a currency, regardless of other market forces. Holders may risk losing their entire investment if exchange rates of the relevant currency do not move in the anticipated direction. This risk is in addition to any performance risk that relates to the issuer or the type of Derivative Security being issued.

Early Redemption or Settlement and Extraordinary Termination of Derivative Securities

The Final Terms for a particular issue of Derivative Securities may provide for an extraordinary right of termination by the Issuer under certain circumstances set out in the Final Terms. The amount to be paid in the case of such an early termination may be lower than the nominal amount per Certificate or the purchase price for Warrants paid by the Holder. The Final Terms may provide that the Early Settlement Amount payable under such circumstances will be the fair market value of the Derivative Securities immediately prior to such redemption or settlement as calculated by the Calculation Agent in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. In the event of early termination there is a reinvestment risk, which means that an investor may not be able to purchase another investment, which, at the time of such early redemption or settlement, has a pay out structure and risk profile equivalent to those of the terminated Derivative Securities.

Determinations by the Calculation Agent

The Calculation Agent has certain discretion under the Terms and Conditions (i) to determine whether certain events have occurred, (ii) to determine any resulting adjustments and calculations, as described in the Final Terms and (iii) also to amend the composition of the underlying in certain exceptional circumstances. For example, the Calculation Agent may determine in accordance with the Final Terms that a market disruption has occurred or exists at a relevant time and may determine the prices or levels of the underlyings in such cases. The Calculation Agent will make such determination in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. Prospective investors should be aware that any determination made by the Calculation Agent may have an impact on the value and financial return of the Derivative Securities. Any such discretion exercised by, or any calculation made by, the Calculation Agent (in the absence of manifest error) shall be binding for all parties.

Market Risks

Market volatility and other factors

The market for debt securities issued by companies and banks is influenced by economic and market conditions in Germany and, to varying degrees, by market conditions, interest rates, currency exchange rates and inflation rates in Germany and in other European and other industrialised countries. There can be no assurance that events in Germany, Europe or elsewhere will not cause market volatility or that such volatility will not adversely affect the price of Derivative Securities or that economic and market conditions will not have any other adverse effect.

No active trading market

There can be no assurance as to how any Derivative Securities will trade in the secondary market, whether there will be a secondary market or, if a secondary market exists, whether such market will be sustainable or liquid or illiquid. Although an application may be made to list or trade the Derivative Securities on a stock exchange, no assurance can be given that the Derivative Securities will in fact be listed or traded, or if the Derivative Securities are so listed and traded, that such listing or trading will be maintained and whether there will be a secondary market for any Derivative Securities so listed or traded. If the Derivative Securities are not listed or traded on any stock exchange, pricing information for such Derivative Securities may be more difficult to obtain, and the liquidity and market prices of such Derivative Securities may be adversely affected.

The Issuer or its affiliates are entitled to buy and sell the Derivative Securities for their own account or for the account of others, and to issue further Derivative Securities. Such transactions may adversely affect the price development of the Derivative Securities. If additional and competing products are introduced in the markets, this may adversely affect the value of the Derivative Securities.

The liquidity of the Derivative Securities may also be affected by restrictions, if any, on offers and sales of the Derivative Securities in some jurisdictions. In any case, due to the relative complexity and lower liquidity of the Derivative Securities, if compared to more conventional financial instruments such as shares, comparatively larger spreads between bid and ask quotes can be expected.

Special Investment Risks

Transaction costs

When Derivative Securities are purchased or sold, several types of incidental costs (including transaction fees and commissions) are incurred in addition to the current price of the security. These incidental costs may significantly reduce or even exclude the profit potential of the Derivative Securities. For instance, credit institutions as a rule charge their clients for own commissions which are either fixed minimum commissions or pro-rata commissions depending on the order value. To the extent that additional – domestic or foreign – parties are involved in the execution of an order, including but not limited to domestic dealers or brokers in foreign markets, Holders must take into account that they may also be charged for the brokerage fees, commissions and other fees and expenses of such parties (third party costs).

In addition to such costs directly related to the purchase of Derivative Securities (direct costs), Holders must also take into account any follow-up costs (such as custody fees). Investors should inform themselves about any additional costs incurred in connection with the purchase, custody or sale of the Derivative Securities before investing in the Derivative Securities.

Holders must further take into account that upon sales or purchases of interest bearing Certificates prior to an interest payment date (depending on their type and features), respectively, no accrued interest might be paid or charged, as the case may be.

Risk-excluding or risk-limiting transactions

Holders may not rely upon being able to enter into transactions which may exclude or limit loss exposure to the Derivative Securities during the term of the Derivative Securities. The possibility of entering into risk-excluding or risk-limiting transactions depends in particular on market conditions and the relevant underlying circumstances. Holders may be able to enter into such transactions only at an unfavourable market price resulting in an additional loss for such Holders.

Prospective investors intending to purchase Derivative Securities to hedge the market risk associated with investing in underlyings or assets comprised in the underlyings should be aware of the difficulties associated therewith. For example, the value of the Derivative Securities may not exactly correlate with the value of the underlyings or assets comprised in the underlyings.

Margin lending

If a loan is used to finance the acquisition of the Derivative Securities, in case the value of the Derivative Securities develops contrary to investor's expectations, it not only has to face a realised loss on the Derivative Securities, but will also have to repay the loan and pay interest thereon. This significantly increases the risk associated with investing in the Derivative Securities. Potential investors should never assume that they may repay the loan or pay interest thereon from the profits of a transaction in the Derivative Securities.

Instead, potential investors should assess their financial situation prior to an investment, as to whether they are able to pay interest on the loan, or to repay the loan on demand, even if they may suffer losses, instead of realising gains in an investment in the Derivative Securities.

Tax impact of the investment

Payments of interest (if any) on the Derivative Securities, or profits realised by the Holder upon the sale or repayment of the Derivative Securities, may be subject to taxation in its home jurisdiction or in other jurisdictions in which it is required to pay taxes. Each Holder will assume sole responsibility for any and all taxes of any jurisdiction or governmental or regulatory authority, including, without limitation, any state or local taxes or other like assessment or charges that may be applicable to any payment to it in respect of the Derivative Securities.

The Issuer advises all investors to contact their own tax advisors for advice on the tax impact of an investment in the Derivative Securities. Examples of taxation risk that investors should consider together with their advisors include the risk of double taxation (in Germany, in France or in Italy and their home jurisdiction), uncertainties as to the tax treatment of Derivative Securities in Germany, in France and in Italy and with respect to Germany special tax rules that apply to securities held for less than a year.

Conflicts of interest in relation to underlyings

The Issuer, HSBC Group (consisting of HSBC Holdings plc, London and its subsidiaries, the "HSBC Group") and their subsidiaries or affiliates may from time to time engage in purchase, sale or other transactions involving assets that are "underlyings" under Derivative Securities for their proprietary accounts and/or for accounts under their management and/or clients. Such transactions may have a negative effect on the value of the underlying and consequently on the value of the Derivative Securities.

In addition, the Issuer, HSBC Group and their subsidiaries or affiliates may from time to time act in other capacities with regard to underlyings (such as in an agency capacity and/or as the calculation agent) and may issue other competing financial instruments in respect of the underlying and the introduction of such competing financial instruments may affect the value of the Derivative Securities.

The Issuer, HSBC Group and their subsidiaries or affiliates may also (i) act as underwriter or financial adviser in connection with future offerings of shares or other securities of the issuers of any securities comprising the underlyings, their respective subsidiaries or affiliates and/or (ii) act in a commercial banking capacity for the issuer in relation to any other related security.

In connection with the offering of the Derivative Securities, the Issuer and/or its subsidiaries or affiliates may enter into one or more hedging transactions with respect to the underlyings or related derivatives. In connection with such hedging or market-making activities or with respect to proprietary or other trading activities, the Issuer and/or its subsidiaries or affiliates may enter into transactions in the underlyings or related derivatives which may affect adversely the market price, liquidity or value of the Derivative Securities and which could be deemed to be adverse to the interests of the relevant Holders.

Such activities could be conducted in circumstances where the interest of Holders of the Derivative Securities may be in conflict with the interests of the Issuer or those of any of its subsidiaries or affiliates and such transactions and activities may adversely affect the value of the Derivative Securities. The Issuer and its subsidiaries and affiliates owe no duty or responsibility to any Holder of Derivative Securities (or any other party) to avoid such conflicts.

The body of rules and regulations of the trading places may possibly provide so-called mistrade rules, due to which market participants may file a mistrade application to void trades regarding securities that are considered as not in line with the market or considered as caused by technical malfunction. The application is ruled by the responsible department in accordance with the applicable rules. In this context Holders might risk that any trades will be void as a result of an application filed by another market participant.

Additional Risks in case of Redemption or Settlement by Physical Delivery

Prospective investors should note that the Final Terms may provide that the Derivative Securities will be redeemed by physical delivery of a given number of underlyings (against payment of a strike price in the case of Warrants) and not by cash, except in special circumstances specified in the Final Terms. Hence, by purchasing the Derivative Securities, prospective investors are also making a potential investment decision with respect to the underlyings.

Prospective investors must be aware that upon physical delivery of any underlying, should it occur, investors and their investment no longer depend on the creditworthiness of the Issuer of the Derivative Securities but on the market value of the delivered underlyings or, to the extent the delivered underlyings comprise shares or other securities, the creditworthiness of the issuer of such shares or securities. In such case, the investors will be in addition subject to the terms and conditions governing such shares or securities instead of the Derivative Securities.

Furthermore, investors should note that the Final Terms may provide that no fractions of underlyings will be delivered. Hence, the number of underlyings to be delivered may be rounded down to the nearest number of deliverable underlyings and the Final Terms may provide that the Issuer is required to pay a cash compensation for undeliverable fractions of underlyings.

The value of the delivered underlyings might be significantly less than the capital invested by the investor and may, in extreme cases, even be zero. If the delivered underlyings are denominated in a currency other than the Specified Currency of the Derivative Securities, Holders are exposed to the risk of exchange rate fluctuations. Such a risk exists in addition to the risk of a fall in value of the delivered underlyings. In addition, the delivered underlyings may not be liquid at all or only to a limited extent. The liquidity of the delivered underlyings will typically change in accordance with fluctuations of the underlying market, the conditions of the relevant economy, national and international political developments, the development in any particular industry and the creditworthiness of the relevant issuer (if any).

Further, the underlying may be subject to selling or transfer restrictions or may be considered to be illiquid.

Subject to the Final Terms, the investor may be required to bear all costs, fees, expenses and taxes associated with the delivery of the underlyings.

Furthermore, delivery of the underlyings may be impossible or delayed due to various circumstances including the occurrence of a settlement disruption event. Such settlement disruption event may have the consequence, if provided for in the Final Terms, that the delivery of the specified underlyings may be replaced by payment of the cash amount as specified in the Final Terms or by other deliverable assets specified in the Final Terms.

Additional Risks relating to Warrants

Factors Affecting the Value and Trading Price of Warrants

The Cash Settlement Amount (in the case of cash settled Warrants) or the difference in the value of the Physical Settlement Amount and a strike price (the "Physical Settlement Value") (in the case of physically settled Warrants) at any time prior to expiration is typically expected to be less than the trading price of such Warrants at that time. The difference between the trading price of Warrants and the Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Value, as the case may be, will reflect, among other things, a "time value" for the Warrants. Warrants offer hedging and investment diversification opportunities but also pose some additional risks with regard to time value. The time value of the Warrants varies with the price and/or level of the underlying, as well as by a number of other interrelated factors, including the length of the period remaining to expiration and expectations concerning the value of the underlying.

Before exercising or selling Warrants, Holders should carefully consider, among other things, (i) the trading price of the Warrants, (ii) the value and volatility of the underlying, (iii) the time remaining to expiration, (iv) in the case of Cash Settled Warrants, the probable range of Cash Settlement Amounts, (v) any change(s) in interim interest rates and dividend yields, (vi) any change(s) in currency exchange rates, (vii) the depth of the market or liquidity of the underlying and (viii) any related transaction costs.

If further Derivative Securities relating to a particular underlying are subsequently issued the supply of such Series of Derivative Securities in the market will increase, which may cause the price at which the Warrants trade in the secondary market to decline significantly.

Limitations on Exercise and Settlement

The number of Warrants exercisable on any date by any person or group of persons (whether or not acting in concert) might be limited in the applicable Final Terms for a series of Warrants to a specified maximum number. In the event that the total number of Warrants being exercised on any date exceeds such maximum number, a Holder may not be able to exercise on such date all Warrants that such Holder desires to exercise. Warrants to be exercised on such date will be selected at the discretion of the Issuer or in any other manner specified in the applicable Final Terms. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Warrants tendered for exercise but not exercised on such date will be automatically exercised on the next date on which Warrants may be exercised, subject to the same daily maximum limitation.

The applicable Final Terms for a series of Warrants may provide that a Holder must tender a specified minimum number of Warrants and integral multiples of Warrants thereafter at any one time in order to exercise. Thus, Holders with fewer than the specified minimum number of Warrants or specified multiples thereof will either have to sell their Warrants or purchase additional Warrants, incurring transaction costs in each case, in order to realise their investment. Furthermore, Holders of such Warrants incur the risk that there may be differences between the trading price of such Warrants and the Cash Settlement Amount (in the case of cash settled Warrants) or the Physical Settlement Value (in the case of physically settled Warrants) of such Warrants.

Time Lag After Exercise and Delays

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, in the case of any exercise of Warrants, there might be a time lag between the time a Holder gives instructions to exercise and the time the applicable Cash Settlement Amount (in the case of cash settled Warrants) or the Physical Settlement Amount (in the case of physically settled Warrants) relating to such exercise is determined. Such time lag could become significantly longer, particularly in the case of any daily maximum exercise limitation, if there is any market disruption event on the valuation date or any settlement disruption event. The value of the applicable Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Amount, as the case may be, may change significantly during any such delay and any adverse movement may reduce the value of the Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Amount, as the case may be, to zero.

Other Factors Affecting Value

If the volatility of the underlying increases, the trading value of a Derivative Security is expected to increase; if the volatility decreases, the trading value of a Derivative Security is expected to decrease. If the dividend rates on the underlying, where applicable, increase, the trading value of a Put Warrant or similar Derivative Security (a "Put Security") is expected to increase and the trading value of a Call Warrant or similar Derivative Security (a "Call Security") is expected to decrease. Increased dividend rates may, however, positively affect the value of the underlying and the trading value of a Put Security could then be expected to decrease and the trading value of a Call Security could then be expected to increase. If such dividend rates decrease, the trading value of a Put Security is expected to decrease and the trading value of a Call Security is expected to increase. Decreased dividend rates may, however, adversely affect the value of the underlying, and the trading value of a Put Security could then be expected to increase and the trading value of a Call Security could then be expected to decrease. Spread Derivative Securities are also affected by the relative movements of the spread on which they are based.

Additional Risks relating to Certificates having no designated maturity

Specific risks are associated with Certificates having no designated maturity date. The Holders of such Certificates are entitled to exercise the Certificate on the exercise dates specified in the Final Terms whereby the relevant Certificates redeem on the related settlement date at the relevant settlement amount. The return of such Certificates without designated maturity depends, inter alia, on the prevailing price of the relevant underlying as and the date on which the relevant Holder exercises its Certificates. Apart from exercising the Certificates on the specified exercise dates Holders are only able to realise their investment on the secondary market, if such market exists (see also "Risks relating to the Securities – Market Risks").

Although such Certificates do not have a specified maturity date, the Issuer may early redeem these Certificates pursuant to any applicable early redemption option or any other early redemption provision as set out in the Final Terms. In the case of an extraordinary early redemption, the Certificates will be redeemed at the Early Settlement Amount. The Early Settlement Amount might be less than the amount invested by Holders.

The applicable Final Terms for a series of Certificates may provide that a Holder must exercise a specified minimum number of Certificates and integral multiples of Certificates thereafter at any one time in order to exercise. Thus, Holders with fewer than the specified minimum number of Certificates or specified multiples thereof will either have to sell their Certificates or purchase additional Certificates (if such market exists), incurring transaction costs in each case, in order to realise their investment. Furthermore, Holders of such Certificates incur the risk that there may be differences between the trading price of such Certificates and the Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Amount of such Certificates.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, there might be a time lag between the time a Holder gives instructions to exercise and the time the applicable Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Amount relating to such exercise is determined. Such time lag could become significantly longer, particularly if there is any market disruption event on the respective valuation date or any settlement disruption event. The value of the applicable Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Amount, as the case may be, may change significantly during any such delay and any adverse movement may reduce the value of the Cash Settlement Amount or the Physical Settlement Amount, as the case may be, to zero.

General Information

HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG has submitted this Base Prospectus for approval pursuant to Section 13 paragraph (1) sentence 2 of the German Securities Prospectus Act (Wertpapierprospektgesetz), which requires the scrutiny of the Base Prospectus in relation to its completeness, coherence and comprehensibility to the competent authority, the Bundesanstalt für Finanzdienstleistungsaufsicht ("BaFin") and notified this competent authority that it intends to publicly offer the Derivative Securities issued under the Programme in Germany. HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG has requested BaFin to provide the competent authority in France and in Italy with a certificate of approval attesting that this Base Prospectus has been drawn up in accordance with the German Securities Prospectus Act, which implements the "Directive 2003/71/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 4 November 2003 on the prospectus to be published when securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading and amending Directive 2001/34/EC" (the "Prospectus Directive") into German law and reserves the right to initiate notification proceedings at a later point in time in order to publicly offer or list Derivative Securities in further Member States within the European Economic Area.

This Base Prospectus has been prepared in the English language. In relation to issuance of a particular series of Derivative Securities, the Final Terms will contain only one language version or will stipulate whether the German language version or the English language version of the Terms and Conditions of the issue is binding.

Pursuant to the Base Prospectus, the Issuer may offer German law governed Derivative Securities for a period of up to twelve months as from the date of publication of this Base Prospectus under the Warrant and Certificate Programme described herein (the "Programme"). The nominal amount per Certificate, the issue price, the issue currency, interest payable in respect of the Derivative Securities, if any, the maturity of any Tranche or Series of Derivative Securities and all other terms and conditions not contained herein which are applicable to a particular Tranche or Series (as defined under "Terms and Conditions of the Securities") of Derivative Securities will be set out in the document containing the final terms within the meaning of Art. 26 (5) of the Commission Regulation (EC) No 809/2004 of 29 April 2004 (each "Final Terms"). The Derivative Securities may be denominated in Euro or other currencies as set forth in the relevant Final Terms.

The Derivative Securities of a Tranche or Series will be represented either by a Permanent Global Security or initially by a Temporary Global Security and then by a Permanent Global Security which are deposited with Clearstream Banking AG, Frankfurt, Euroclear France S.A., Monte Titoli (by way of its bridge accounts with another Clearing System), a depositary common to Clearstream Banking, société anonyme, Luxembourg and Euroclear Bank SA/NV, Brussels or another clearing system as stipulated in the Final Terms. Definitive securities will not be issued, unless the Final Terms provide for the issue of definitive securities. The Derivative Securities may be transferred in accordance with rules of the relevant Clearing System.

See "Risk Factors" for a discussion of certain factors to be considered in connection with an investment in the Derivative Securities.

Application may, in the future, be made to list Derivative Securities on a regulated market of any Stock Exchange in Germany, in France, in Italy or any other Member State within the European Economic Area, or to trade Derivative Securities on an open market (Freiverkehr) segment of any Stock Exchange in Germany or on an equivalent market of a Stock Exchange in any other Member State within the European Economic Area, or Derivative

Securities may not be so listed or so traded at all, in each case as specified in the relevant Final Terms.

This Base Prospectus should be read in conjunction with any supplements hereto. The specific terms governing each Tranche or Series of Derivative Securities published in the relevant Final Terms should be read in conjunction with this Base Prospectus and any supplements.

The Derivative Securities and the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and trading in the Derivative Securities has not been approved by the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act, as amended. The Derivative Securities will be issued in bearer form and are subject to certain U.S. tax law requirements. The Derivative Securities and the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person (see Securities Note Section D. "Selling Restrictions").

From the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in the relevant member states of the European Economic Area (the "Implementation Date"), the Derivative Securities may be offered and sold to the public within such member states of the European Economic Area only in accordance with the provisions of the Prospectus Directive and the acts and regulations passed in the respective member states with regard to the implementation of the Prospectus Directive.

In connection with any issue of Derivative Securities, a person named as stabilising manager in the Final Terms (the "Stabilising Manager") may act in such capacity and may over-allot Derivative Securities (provided that, with respect to the relevant issue of Derivative Securities the aggregate amount of Derivative Securities allotted does not exceed 105 per cent. of the aggregate amount of the relevant issue of Derivative Securities (or such other percentage as may be applicable to any such actions in the jurisdiction where such stabilising activities are to be effected)) or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Derivative Securities at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail in the market. However, there is no assurance that the Stabilising Manager will undertake such stabilisation activities. Any stabilisation action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the relevant Derivative Securities is made and, if begun, may be ended at any time, but it must end no later than the earlier of 30 days after the issue date of the relevant Derivative Securities and 60 days after the date of the allotment of the relevant Derivative Securities or, as the case may be, such other date(s) as may be applicable to any such stabilising activities in the jurisdiction where such stabilising activities are to be effected. Any stabilising activities shall be in compliance with all laws, regulations and rules of any relevant jurisdiction.

This Base Prospectus may be used solely for the purpose of considering an investment in the Derivative Securities described in the Base Prospectus; any other usage of this Base Prospectus is unauthorised.

In particular, this Base Prospectus may not be reproduced or distributed, in whole or in part, and the contents of this Base Prospectus may not be disclosed.

The Issuer has not authorised the making or provision of any representation or information regarding the Issuer or the Derivative Securities other than as contained in this Base Prospectus, any supplements or the relevant Final Terms. Consequently, any such representation or information should not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer.

There is no warranty that all information contained in this Base Prospectus, any supplements or in the relevant Final Terms will still be correct at any time subsequent to the respective date of publication. The Issuer will prepare a supplement to this Base Prospectus pursuant to § 16 German Securities Prospectus Act (Wertpapierprospektgesetz) in relation to every significant new fact, material mistake or inaccuracy relating to the information contained in this Base Prospectus and its supplements, if any, which is capable of affecting any decision regarding an investment in the Derivative Securities.

This Base Prospectus does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any Derivative Securities in any jurisdiction to any person to whom it is unlawful to make the offer or solicitation in such jurisdiction. The publication or distribution of this Base Prospectus and the offer or sale of Derivative Securities may be restricted by law in certain jurisdictions. The Issuer does not represent that this Base Prospectus may be lawfully distributed, or that any Derivative Securities may be lawfully offered, in compliance with any applicable registration, approval or other requirements in any such jurisdiction, or pursuant to an exemption available thereunder, nor accept any responsibility for any such distribution or offering that may be made by any distributor or other dealers in such jurisdiction. In particular, no action has been taken or approved by the Issuer which would permit a public offering of any Derivative Securities or distribution of this Base Prospectus in any jurisdiction where any such action would be required. Accordingly, no Derivative Securities may be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, and neither this Base Prospectus nor any advertisement or other offering material may be distributed or published in any such jurisdiction, except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any applicable laws and regulations.

The restrictions on the distribution of this Base Prospectus and the offer or sale of Derivative Securities in the United States and to U.S. persons are especially set out in the Securities Note under Section D. "Selling Restrictions".

Investors need to satisfy themselves that it is permissible to make an investment in Derivative Securities issued under the Programme under the applicable laws of their relevant jurisdiction, and that they are able to bear the economic risk of an investment in the Derivative Securities.

Neither this Base Prospectus, any supplement hereto, the relevant Final Terms nor any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Derivative Securities (i) is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation or (ii) should be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer to any person to subscribe for or to purchase any Derivative Securities issued under the Programme. Investors contemplating an investment in the Derivative Securities should make their own independent investigations into the financial condition and affairs, and their own appraisal of the creditworthiness of the Issuer and the terms of the Derivative Securities issued, including the related contingencies and risks.

Neither the Issuer nor any third party accepts any obligation to purchase any Tranche or Series of Derivative Securities or to establish or maintain a market liquidity, and no assurances can be given that an active market will be available for the Derivative Securities issued under the Programme.

Securities Note

A. General and Overview

The information set out below provides a summary overview of material terms of the types of Derivative Securities which may be issued under this Programme.

Under the Programme, the Issuer may issue Tranches and Series of bearer Derivative Securities in the form of Warrants and derivative non interest bearing or interest bearing Certificates (Inhaberschuldverschreibungen) the terms of which are governed by German law (the "Derivative Securities" or the "Securities").

Warrants will be settled following an exercise by the Holder on the dates specified and payment of a strike price (if any) specified in the Final Terms and, if applicable pursuant to the relevant Final Terms following an Automatic Exercise on the Expiration Date. In addition, Warrants will be deemed to be exercised following a Knock-Out Event as specified in the Final Terms.

Certificates may have either (1) a fixed term in which case the Certificates will be deemed as automatically exercised and redeemed on the redemption date set out in the Final Terms or (2) no designated maturity date ("Certificates without designated maturity") in which case any Certificate will be due and payable upon a duly exercise by the relevant Holder or upon a redemption at the option of the Issuer. In addition, the Final Terms may provide, that Certificates shall be redeemed early following an Automatic Early Redemption Event or an Knock-Out Event as specified in the Final Terms.

Settlement and delivery of the Derivative Securities of any Tranche or Series on the Issue Date will be by reference to their issue price and number of Derivative Securities to be settled and delivered.

Since the final and specific terms and characteristics of the Derivative Securities as well as the terms of the offer may only be determined when the Derivative Securities are issued, such information and the Terms and Conditions set out below should be read in conjunction with the relevant Final Terms which will be published upon each issue of Derivative Securities in accordance with Section 14 of the German Securities Prospectus Act (Wertpapierprospektgesetz).

The description of the Derivative Securities contained in the Securities Note comprises in addition to the opening information in this Section A. (to be read in conjunction with Annex 1)

(i) a composition of information concerning the terms applicable to all Derivative Securities, in Section B. (to be read in conjunction with Annex 1),

(ii) specific information concerning the redemption amount and settlement amount of the Derivative Securities, in Section C. (to be read in conjunction with Annex 1), and

(iii) further general information in relation to all Derivative Securities in Section D.

1) Derivative Securities - Overview

Under the Programme, the Issuer may issue Derivative Securities in the form of

(i) Warrants having a Derivative Settlement Amount determined by reference to any of the underlyings set out below and which can be exercised by its Holders on a single Exercise Date or on several specified Exercise Dates or at any time during the relevant Exercise Period,

(ii) Certificates not bearing periodic interest or with fixed rates or amounts, floating rates or amounts or derivative and structured interest rates, in each case having a Derivative Settlement Amount determined by reference to any of the underlyings set out below and which will be (automatically) exercised and redeemed on a specified redemption date or in the case of Certificates without designated maturity following an exercise settled on the settlement date.

Derivative interest (if any, in the case of Certificates) and the Derivative Settlement Amount may be linked to the underlyings set out below:

- interest rates (including by reference to (a) a fixed income security, e.g. a reference to a Bundesanleihe, to (b) a futures contract/rate, e.g. a reference to the "Bund Future", or to (c) a swap or option contract/rate, e.g. a reference to a Constant Maturity Swap (CMS) Rate)
- shares (including american depositary receipts/global depositary receipts or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares) or baskets thereof
- indices or index baskets
- currencies or currency baskets
- commodities or commodity baskets (including by reference to a futures contract/rate, e.g. a reference to a market standard futures contract on crude oil)
- open-ended and closed-ended funds or fund baskets
- any combinations of the above;

as specified in the Final Terms.

If provided for in the Final Terms, physical delivery of a given number of the relevant underlyings (against payment of a strike price in the case of Warrants) may be made instead of payment.

With respect to Derivative Securities of any Tranche or Series, repayment of the nominal amount or issue price per Certificate or the purchase price for Warrants in full may or may not be ensured under the terms of the Derivative Securities as set forth in the Final Terms. Where this is not ensured, as the payment amount is determined by reference to one or more underlyings as specified in the Final Terms, the settlement amount on the redemption date or on the settlement date, as the case may be, may be significantly less than the capital invested, and in extreme cases, investors may incur a total loss of their capital invested.

2) Risk Factors

The specific risk factors in relation to the Derivative Securities are set out above under "Risk Factors" (see page 31 and the following).

Investors investing in Derivative Securities may incur a total or partial loss of the amount invested depending on the performance of the underlying.

3) Key Information

The Issuer, HSBC Group and their subsidiaries or affiliates may buy and sell Derivative Securities for their own account or for the account of others, and issue further Derivative Securities. Further, the Issuer, HSBC Group and their affiliates participate in the international and domestic German securities, currency and commodity markets.

Accordingly, they may, for their own account or for the account of customers, engage in purchase, sale or other transactions involving assets that are "underlyings" under the Derivative Securities of any Series or Tranche. They may make decisions regarding these transactions in the same manner as they would if the Derivative Securities of such Series or Tranche had not been issued.

The Issuer, HSBC Group and their subsidiaries or affiliates may on the issue date of the Derivative Securities or at any time thereafter be in possession of information in relation to any underlyings that may be material to holders of any Derivative Securities and that may not be publicly available or not known to the Holders (see "Risk Factors" under "Risks Factors relating to the Securities – Conflicts of interest in relation to underlyings, if applicable" for further information).

The Final Terms may, if relevant, contain any further information about conflicts of interest regarding the Issuer and its subsidiaries or affiliates or any other persons involved in the issuance of Derivative Securities.

The reasons for the offer and use of proceeds are making profit and/or the hedging of certain risks.

B. Information Concerning the Derivative Securities to be Offered or Admitted to Trading

1) Type and Class of the Derivative Securities

The Issuer will issue under the Programme different series of Derivative Securities (each an "Issue" and a "Series"). Each Issue may comprise one or more tranches ("Tranches" and each a "Tranche") issued on different issue dates. The terms of the Derivative Securities of any one Tranche must be identical in every respect, whereas the Tranches of a series may have different issue dates, interest commencement dates and/or issue prices.

The Derivative Securities will be redeemed or settled, as the case may be, on the redemption date or settlement date at their relevant Derivative Settlement Amount.

The final and specific terms and conditions of the Derivative Securities of any Tranche or Series and the ISIN or any other security identification code will be specified in the Final Terms (see Annex 2).

The Terms and Conditions may be prepared by the Issuer also in consolidated form. This will usually be the case if the Issuer intends to sell the Derivative Securities to non-qualified investors within the meaning of Section 2 no. 5 of the German Securities Prospectus Act. For these purposes, the Issuer will use the relevant sections set out in the form of Final Terms (see Annex 2) as the basis and publish such sections, in each case together with the consolidated version of the Terms and Conditions, in accordance with Section 14 of the German Securities Prospectus Act. In the event of non-consolidated conditions, the final conditions will be determined using the relevant sections set out in the form of Final Terms.

2) Governing Law

The Derivative Securities of each series will be issued under the terms specified in the Final Terms, under German law (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 12).

3) Form, Custody and Transfer of the Securities

The Derivative Securities will be issued as bearer securities in global form and in the denominations specified in the Final Terms.

Under the U.S. Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 ("TEFRA"), issuers are prohibited from placing bearer securities with U.S. taxpayers. Issuers who place bearer securities with U.S. taxpayers in violation of TEFRA are subject to substantial U.S. tax penalties. TEFRA contemplates two alternative methods of offering securities to investors who are not U.S. taxpayers: TEFRA C, the rules of which focus on the actual placement activity by the issuer or its agents (including any underwriters or placement agents), and TEFRA D, the rules of which focus on the selling restrictions that are contractually agreed with the underwriters or placement agents for the transaction.

Derivative Securities in bearer form will be issued in accordance with TEFRA C, unless the relevant Final Terms provide that such Derivative Securities will be issued in accordance with TEFRA D, or that such Derivative Securities will be issued in circumstances in which the Derivative Securities will not constitute "registration required obligations" for U.S. federal income tax purposes (which circumstances will be referred to in the relevant Final Terms as a transaction to which TEFRA is "not applicable").

Bearer Derivative Securities of any particular tranche or series issued in accordance with TEFRA C, as specified in the Final Terms, and bearer Derivative Securities of a particular tranche or series to which TEFRA is not applicable will be represented by a Permanent Global Security. Bearer Derivative Securities of a particular tranche or series issued in accordance with TEFRA D, as specified in the Final Terms, will initially be represented by a Temporary Global Security and subsequently by a Permanent Global Security (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 1(b)). The relevant Temporary Global Security or Permanent Global Security will be deposited with Clearstream Banking AG, Frankfurt am Main (Neue Börsenstraße 1, 60487 Frankfurt am Main, Germany), Euroclear France S.A., Paris (115, rue Réaumur, F-75081 Paris Cedex 02, France), Monte Titoli S.p.A. (Via Mantegna 6, 20154, Milan, Italy) by means of its bridge accounts with another Clearing System or a depositary common to Clearstream Banking, société anonyme, Luxembourg (42 Avenue JF Kennedy; L-1855 Luxembourg; Luxembourg) and Euroclear Bank SA/NV (1 Boulevard du Roi Albert II, B - 1210 Brussels, Belgium) or any other clearing system as specified in the Final Terms. Definitive securities will not be issued, unless the Final Terms provide for the issue of definitive securities.

Each Permanent Global Security will bear the following legend: "This Security may not be owned by any U.S. person (as defined in the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended). However, if notwithstanding such prohibition, a U.S. person holds this Security, then such U.S. person will be subject to limitations under the U.S. income tax laws, including the limitations provided in Sections 165(j) and 1287(a) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended".

With respect to Warrants, each Global Security will bear the following legend: "The Warrants and the securities, if any, to be delivered upon exercise of Warrants have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). A Warrant with physical settlement may not be exercised by or on behalf of any U.S. person unless registered under the Securities Act or an exemption from such registration is available. Transfers of and hedging transactions involving, Warrants are prohibited unless made in compliance with the Securities Act. Terms used in this paragraph have the meaning given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act".

4) Currency

The Specified Currency of the Derivative Securities is the Euro unless the Final Terms provide for a different currency (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 1(a)); see also "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – Risk Factors Relating to Payments on the Securities – Foreign-Exchange Risk"). Derivative Securities may be redeemed in a currency (the "Settlement Currency") other than the Specified Currency (Dual Currency Securities). Finally, the Final Terms may provide that the Derivative Settlement Amount is denominated in the currency of the relevant underlying and subsequently exchanged into the Specified Currency at the prevailing exchange rate as specified in the Final Terms.

5) Status and Ranking

The Derivative Securities constitute general unsubordinated contractual obligations of the Issuer and are not secured over any assets of the Issuer. The Derivative Securities shall rank equally among themselves and, save for such exceptions as may be provided by applicable legislation, pari passu with all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, but excluding any debts for the time being preferred by applicable legislation with preference to and any subordinated obligations of the Issuer (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 2).

6) Early Redemption Rights - Rights and Procedure for the Exercise of Rights

If the Final Terms provide for any rights other than the early redemption rights set out below, such rights, any applicable restrictions thereto and the procedure for the exercise will be described in the Final Terms.

The Final Terms may provide for certain early redemption rights:

(i) No General Early Redemption Right (ordentliches Kündigungsrecht) in the case of Certificates

There is no general early redemption right in relation to the Certificates prior to the final redemption date.

(ii) Extraordinary Terminations Rights (Sonderkündigungsrechte) and Termination Events in the case of Certificates

In exceptional cases, the terms of the Certificates may provide that holders of Certificates may require early redemption of such Certificates, upon the occurrence of an event of default (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 8), or that the Issuer may redeem such Certificates early upon the occurrence of an Additional Termination Event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(e)). Furthermore, the Final Terms of Certificates may provide for an early redemption upon the occurrence of a tax event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(b))

(iii) Early Redemption Rights at the Option of the Issuer in the case of Certificates

Otherwise, the redemption of the Certificates other than Certificates without designated maturity prior to the redemption date may only apply if the Final Terms provide for a call option right by the Issuer.

(iv) Early Redemption Procedure in the case of Certificates

If the Issuer redeems the Certificates early, the Holders have to be notified of such redemption. This is done by giving notice in accordance with § 10 of the Terms and Conditions.

If the Holders require early redemption of the Certificates, the Issuer has to be notified of such redemption. This is done, subject to the applicable provisions in the relevant Terms and Conditions, either by providing an early redemption notice to the Issuer or to the office of the Principal Paying Agent as set out in the relevant Final Terms (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 8).

(v) Exercise Rights in the case of Warrants and Certificates, in particular Certificates without designated maturity

Warrants and Certificates (if provided for in the Final Terms) may be exercised by the holder of the Warrants or Certificates, as the case may be, at the relevant Cash Settlement Amount or Physical Settlement Amount, as the case may be, on the dates specified in the relevant Final Terms. In the case of an American Style Warrant, Warrants may be exercised on any Exercise Business day during the Exercise Period. An exercise of a Warrant or Certificate may be subject to Minimum and/or Maximum Number of exercisable Warrants or Certificates.

Warrants and such Certificates may be exercised by delivery of a duly completed Exercise Notice in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Terms and Conditions.

(vi) Extraordinary Terminations Rights (Sonderkündigungsrechte) and Termination Events in the case of Warrants

In exceptional cases, the terms of the Warrants may provide that holders of Warrants may require early termination of such Warrants, upon the occurrence of an event of default (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 8), or that the Issuer may terminate such Warrants early upon the occurrence of a Special Termination Event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(b)).

(vii) Early Redemption Procedure in the case of Warrants

If the Issuer terminates the Warrants early, the Holders have to be notified of such termination. This is done by giving notice in accordance with § 10 of the Terms and Conditions.

If the Holders require early termination of the Warrants, the Issuer has to be notified of such termination. This is done, subject to the applicable provisions in the relevant Terms and Conditions, by providing an early redemption notice to the Issuer (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 8).

(viii) Underlying Performance related Automatic Termination Events

The Final Terms of a specific Series of Warrants or Certificates may provide for certain termination events related to the performance of the relevant underlying, for example if the price or level of the underlying on a specified date or within a specified period is higher or lower and/or equal to the initial price or level of the underlying as pre-determined in the Final Terms. The occurrence of such a Knock-Out Event in the case of Warrants (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(d)) or Automatic Early Redemption Event or Knock-Out Event in the case of Certificates (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(b)) will lead to an early settlement or early redemption of the Derivative Securities on the dates and amounts specified in the relevant Final Terms.

(ix) Purchase of Derivative Securities

The Issuer may at any time purchase and afterwards cancel Derivative Securities in the open market at any price (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(e)/(h)).

7) Interest in the case of Certificates

The Final Terms may provide for the issue of Certificates not bearing interest or not bearing periodic interest, fixed rate or floating rate Certificates, or Certificates having derivative and structured interest components whether or not linked to the performance of an underlying (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3). The Final Terms may provide for maximum or minimum interest, or a step-up interest or any other interest method dependent on formulae.

If one of the following types of interest has been provided for a Certificate, the relevant interests and the applicable calculation method will be specified in the Final Terms.

(i) Fixed Rate Certificates

If the Final Terms provide for fixed interest on the Certificates, the Final Terms will specify the interest rate or the interest amount, as applicable, the interest periods, the interest payment date(s) per calendar year, the applicable business day convention and the interest calculation method. Interest will accrue daily pursuant to the applicable day count fraction convention.

(ii) Floating Rate Certificates

If the Final Terms provide for floating interest (not linked to the performance of an underlying) on the Certificates, the Final Terms, in addition to the commencement and the end of interest accrual, the interest payment date(s) or interest period(s) per calendar year and the interest calculation method, will specify the business day convention, the individual interest components, the reference interest rate and the methodology of determination and calculation (also in case of market disruption).

The interest components will generally comprise a reference interest rate (in particular a EURIBOR or LIBOR rate) and a margin, if applicable. The Final Terms will set out how the reference interest rate will be determined.

The range of volatility of floating rates may be limited by provisions in the Final Terms stipulating a maximum and/or a minimum interest. The range of volatility may be increased by including multipliers.

Interest will accrue daily pursuant to the applicable day count fraction convention.

(iii) Interest Rates based on Derivative and Structured Interest Components

If the Final Terms provide for interest to be linked to one or more underlyings, the Final Terms will specify the underlying(s), the mathematical relation between interest rate and underlying(s), and the determination of interest upon the occurrence of market disruption or adjustment events. In such case, the Final Terms will contain an explanation of the mathematical relation between interest rate and underlying(s), a description as to how the underlying affects the interest right, and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable.

(a) Interest linked to structured interest rates

If the Final Terms provide for interest to be linked to structured interest rates, the Final Terms will specify the interest rate, the mathematical relation between the interest rate and the underlying derivative and structured interest components, and the determination of interest upon the occurrence of market disruption or adjustment events. In such case, the Final Terms will contain an explanation of the mathematical relation between the interest rate and the underlying structured interest rate components, a description of the link between the interest right and the relevant underlying interest rate, and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – Risk Factors relating to Payments on the Securities").

(b) Interest linked to a share (including american depositary receipts/global depositary receipts or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares) or a basket thereof (Equity linked Certificates)

If the Final Terms provide for interest to be linked to a share (including american depositary receipts/global depositary receipts or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares) or a basket thereof, the Final Terms will specify the share or the share basket, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent shares and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant share basket, the mathematical relation between interest rate and the shares or the shares in the share basket, as applicable, and the determination of interest upon the occurrence of market disruption or adjustment events.

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a Market Disruption Event (including, but not limited to, Trading Disruptions, Exchange Disruptions or Early Closures) or of a Disrupted Day (i.e. on any Scheduled Trading Day, a relevant Exchange or Related Exchange is not open for trading or the price of the relevant share cannot be determined) as of a relevant time.

As a result of a Potential Adjustment Event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(h) in conjunction with § 4(d)(iii)) and various events relating to shares (including, but not limited to, Merger Events, Tender Offers, Nationalisation, Delisting or Insolvency) (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(h) in conjunction with § 4(d)(iv)), the Calculation Agent may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event.

The Final Terms will contain an explanation of the mathematical relation between interest rate and the shares or the shares in the share basket, as applicable, a description of the link between the interest right and the share or the share basket, as applicable, the determination of the Market Disruption Events and the Potential Adjustment Events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historical performance and volatility of the share(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – Risk Factors relating to Payments on the Securities"). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Certificates early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the Share(s), and may also specify the payment amount applicable under such circumstances.

(c) Interest linked to an index or index basket (Index linked Certificates)

If the Final Terms provide for interest to be linked to an index or index basket the Final Terms will specify the index or index basket, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent indices and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant index basket, the mathematical relation between interest rate and the index or the indices in the index basket, as applicable, and the determination of interest upon the occurrence of market disruption or adjustment events.

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a Market Disruption Event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(h) in conjunction with § 4(d)(i)) as of a relevant time. As a result of an Index Adjustment Event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(h) in conjunction with § 4(d)(ii)), the Calculation Agent may make such adjustments to any amounts payable in respect of the Certificates and/or to other figures relevant to payments under the Certificates as it deems appropriate.

The Final Terms will contain an explanation of the mathematical relation between interest rate and the index or the indices in the index basket, as applicable, a description of the link between the interest right and the index or index basket, as applicable, the determination of the Market Disruption Events and Index Adjustment Events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the index or indices, a description of the index if and to the extend required, and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – Risk Factors relating to Payments on the Securities"). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Certificates early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the Index or Indices, and may also specify the payment amount applicable under such circumstances.

(d) Interest linked to currencies or a currency basket

If the Final Terms provide for interest under the Certificates to be linked to a currency or a currency basket, the Final Terms will specify the currency or the currency basket, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent currencies and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant currency basket, as well as explain the mathematical relation between the payment amount and the currency or the currencies in the currency basket, as applicable, and the determination of the payment amount upon the occurrence of disruption events (in particular, but not limited to, impossibility to convert or deliver the relevant currency or currencies, inability of market participants to obtain firm quotes for the relevant currency or currencies, split of exchange rate of the relevant currency or currencies into dual or multiple currency exchange rates, nationalisation or any other material changes beyond the control of the Issuer or the Calculation Agent affecting the relevant currency or currencies).

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a disruption event and may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(h)).

The Final Terms will contain a description of the link between the interest right and the currency or the currency basket, as applicable, the determination of the disruption events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the currency(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – Risk Factors relating to Payments on the Securities"). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Certificates early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the Currency(s), and may also specify the payment amount applicable under such circumstances.

(e) Interest linked to commodities or a commodity basket

If the Final Terms provide for interest under the Certificates to be linked to a commodity or a commodity basket, the Final Terms will specify the commodity or the commodity basket, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent commodities and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant commodity basket, as well as explain the mathematical relation between the payment amount and the commodities or the commodities in the commodity basket, as applicable, and the determination of the payment amount upon the occurrence of market disruption events (in particular, but not limited to, the failure of a price source to publish a relevant price, a material suspension or limitation of trading in a commodity on the relevant exchange or any other exchange disruption).

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a disruption event and may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(h)).

The Final Terms will contain a description of the link between the interest right and the commodity or the commodity basket, as applicable, the determination of the disruption events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the commodity(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – Risk Factors relating to Payments on the Securities"). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Certificates early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the commodity(s), and may also specify the payment amount applicable under such circumstances.

(f) Interest linked to funds or a fund basket

If the Final Terms provide for interest payments under the Certificates to be linked to a closed-ended or open-ended investment fund (including hedge funds) or a basket of such investment funds, the Final Terms will specify the investment fund or the basket of investment funds, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent investment funds and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant basket of investment funds, in particular the replacement of an investment fund by another investment fund or by another underlying (for example an index), as well as explain the mathematical relation between the payment amount and net asset value of the investment fund or the investment funds in the basket, as applicable, and the determination of the payment amount upon the occurrence of disruption events (in particular, but not limited to, the failure by the relevant management company to calculate and publish the net asset value).

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a disruption event and may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(h)).

As a result of a potential adjustment event that may have a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the units or shares of an investment fund or certain other extraordinary events relating to an investment fund (including, but not limited to, merger events, insolvency or any other modification or change relating to the investment objective, the constitutional documents, the management company, the regulatory or tax treatment of an investment fund), the Calculation Agent may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event.

The Final Terms will contain a description of the link between the interest right and the investment funds or the basket of investment funds, as applicable, the determination of the disruption events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the investment fund(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – Risk Factors relating to Payments on the Securities"). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Certificates early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the investment fund(s), and may also specify the payment amount applicable under such circumstances.

(iv) Calculation Agent

Unless otherwise provided in the Final Terms, the relevant amount of interest payable on any Derivative Security will be finally and conclusively determined by HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG, Königsallee 21/23, 40212 Düsseldorf, Federal Republic of Germany, or any other entity as specified in the Final Terms, as Calculation Agent.

8) Prescription

The rights to payment of principal and interest (if any) under bearer Derivative Securities are subject to prescription within a period of two years. The prescription period begins at the end of the period during which the Derivative Securities must be duly presented which is reduced to 10 years (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 7).

9) Yield

The yield and the method whereby the yield is calculated will in each case be disclosed in the Final Terms if this is practicable at the time the Final Terms are published.

10) Meetings of Holders

The provisions of the German Act relating to notes of 4 December 1899 as amended (Schuldverschreibungsgesetz) will apply as from time to time amended or supplemented.

11) Basis of Authorisation

The Derivative Securities will be issued within the scope of the Issuer’s banking and finance business as set out in its articles of association pursuant to an internal resolution of the Issuer.

The Programme permits the Issuer to issue Derivative Securities during the term of validity of this Base Prospectus. No additional specific resolutions, authorisations or approvals by the Issuer's corporate bodies are required for the issue of Derivative Securities under the Programme.

12) Issue Date

The issue date of each issue of Derivative Securities to be issued under the Programme will be specified in the relevant Final Terms.

C. Information Concerning the Derivative Settlement Amount of the Derivative Securities

This section contains information about the Derivative Securities to be offered or admitted to trading which apply to all Derivative Securities (including interest bearing Certificates). Such information should be read together with the Information contained in Section B and D. The Final Terms may provide that the settlement amount (either in form of a cash amount or a certain number of underlyings) is linked to an underlying; such settlement amount may be less than the amount invested or the issue price, as the case may be ("Derivative Settlement Amount").

1) Relation between Underlying and Investment

The Final Terms may provide for redemption linked to one or more underlyings. This means that an investor, under certain circumstances and depending on the redemption structure and the underlyings as set out in the Final Terms, may receive less than the nominal amount or issue price per Certificate or purchase price of the Warrants. With such structure the risk of partial or total loss of invested capital cannot be excluded.

How the investment is affected by the underlying depends on whether the underlying is a structured interest rate, a share (including american depositary receipts/global depositary receipts or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares) or a basket of shares (including american depositary receipts/global depositary receipts or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares) (i.e. a basket which comprises at least two different shares, which may be weighted unequally), or an index or an index basket (i.e. a basket which comprises at least two different indices, which may be weighted unequally), or a currency or a currency basket (i.e. a basket which comprises at least two different currencies, which may be weighted unequally), or a commodity or a commodity basket (i.e. a basket which comprises at least two different commodities, which may be weighted unequally), or a fund or a fund basket (i.e. a basket which comprises at least two different funds, which may be weighted unequally), or other underlyings or a combination of different underlyings. The Final Terms will specify the relevant underlying and the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the relevant underlying(s) as well as the determination of the settlement amount upon the occurrence of market disruption events or adjustment events. In such case, the Final Terms will contain an explanation of the mathematical relation between the redemption amount and the relevant underlying(s), a description of the underlying(s), the linkage of the redemption amount to the underlying(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable.

Information regarding underlyings are set out in this Securities Note under "Type of the underlying and Information on the underlying, Market Disruption Events and Adjustment Rules with Relation to Events Concerning the underlying".

2) Expiration or Redemption Date, Payment and Calculation Method and Settlement Procedure in respect of Certificates

This section contains a description on the expiration or redemption date, return, payment and calculation method and settlement procedure in respect of Certificates. The following section 3 provides a similar description in respect of Warrants.

(i) Redemption

The Final Terms may provide for redemption of the Certificates at their Derivative Settlement Amount on the Redemption Date (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(a)).

The Redemption Date and the manner of calculation of the Derivative Settlement Amount at maturity will be specified in the Final Terms. On the redemption date, the Holders are entitled to payment of the Derivative Settlement Amount which may be less than the nominal amount or issue price per Certificate.

If the Final Terms provide primarily or upon fulfilment of certain conditions for a delivery of a given number of underlyings instead of the payment of a cash amount, the details and requirements of a physical delivery of underlyings (including the determination of the physical settlement amount) will be specified in the Final Terms.

Certificates without designated maturity will be redeemed by payment of the relevant cash amount or by delivery of the relevant number of underlyings following an exercise of the relevant Certificates by the respective Holder(s). Any such Certificate is exercised by submitting an exercise notice in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions of Annex 1, which will in the case of a physical settlement include certification that the beneficial holder is not a U.S. Person as defined in Regulation S. The Final Terms may specify certain maximum or minimum numbers of Certificates, which may be exercised on a certain date.

(ii) Automatic Early Redemption

If the Final Terms provide for an underlying related Automatic Early Redemption Event, the Automatic Early Redemption Date and the manner of calculation of the Derivative Settlement Amount will be specified in the Final Terms (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(c)).

(iii) Knock-Out Events

If the Final Terms provide for an underlying related Knock-Out Event, the Knock-Out Settlement Date and the manner of calculation of the Derivative Settlement Amount will be specified in the Final Terms (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(d)).

(iv) Extraordinary Early Redemption

In the event of an extraordinary early termination, the redemption date will be specified in the provisions applicable to the relevant termination. The different early redemption rights are set out in Section B. under "Early Redemption Rights".

The Final Terms may provide that the Early Settlement Amount shall be equal to the fair market value of the Certificates determined in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner by the Calculation Agent (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(e)).

This value may be lower than the nominal amount or issue price per Certificate or lower than the amount invested, and as a result the Holders may recover less than the nominal amount or issue price per Certificate or less than the amount invested in the event of Early Redemption.

(v) Method of Redemption

Any amounts payable in accordance with the Terms and Conditions will be paid by the Issuer to a Clearing System for credit to the accounts of the relevant depositary banks to be paid to the Holders (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 5).

If any due date for payment is not a business day, the Final Terms will provide for the determination of an alternative payment date. In such event, the Holders will neither be entitled to payment as a consequence of the payment date falling after the due date for payment nor to default interest (Verzugszinsen) or any other compensation on account of such adjustment.

(vi) Physical Delivery

The Final Terms may provide that the Derivative Securities will be redeemed by physical delivery of a specified number or amount of the relevant underlying(s) and not in cash, except in special circumstances specified in the Final Terms. The Final Terms may further provide that no fractions of underlying(s) will be delivered. Hence, the number of underlying(s) to be delivered will be rounded down to the nearest number of deliverable underlying(s) and the Final Terms may provide that the Issuer is required to pay a cash compensation for undeliverable fractions of underlying(s).

The investor may be required to bear all costs, fees, expenses and taxes associated with the delivery of the underlying(s).

The occurrence of settlement disruption events may delay the delivery of the underlying(s) or may have the consequence, if provided for in the Final Terms, that the delivery of the specified underlying(s) may be replaced by payment of the cash amount as specified in the Final Terms or by other deliverable assets specified in the Final Terms. The details of the settlement procedure in relation to a physical delivery of underlyings or other deliverable assets will be specified in the Final Terms (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 5).

3) Expiration or Exercise Date, Payment and Calculation Method and Settlement Procedure in respect of Warrants

Warrants entitle the Holders to demand from the Issuer payment of an amount or delivery of certain numbers of underlyings (against payment of a strike price, if any) each depending on the price of the underlying. This right is different in respect of put warrants and call warrants: In the case of call warrants, the cash amount or the number of underlyings to be delivered, as the case may be, depend on the price of the relevant underlying exceeding the strike price on the relevant valuation date as determined in the Final Terms. In the case of put warrants, the cash amount or the number of underlyings to be delivered, as the case may be, depend on the price of the relevant underlying falling short of the strike price on the relevant valuation date as determined in the Final Terms.

Warrants do not bear interest.

(i) Payment

The exercise date, the settlement date following an exercise and the expiration date, the requirements in respect of the exercise of the Warrants and the date and manner of calculation of the cash amount or the physical settlement amount following exercise of the Warrants will be specified in the Final Terms. On the settlement date, the Holders are entitled to payment of the cash amount or delivery of the physical settlement amount (against payment of a strike price), as the case may be, which may be less than the purchase price of the Warrants.

If the Final Terms provide primarily or upon fulfilment of certain conditions for a delivery of a given number of underlyings instead of the payment of a cash amount, the details and requirements of a physical delivery of underlyings (including the determination of the physical settlement amount), the amounts to be payable by the Holders, in particular a strike price and expenses, will be specified in the Final Terms.

(ii) Procedure of Exercise

The Warrants may be either in American, European or in any other style as specified in the Final Terms. In the case of an American Style Warrant, the Warrants may be exercised on any business day within the exercise period until the expiration date pursuant to the Terms and Conditions. An European Style Warrant may only be exercised on the expiration date.

The Warrants will be exercised by providing an exercise notice as further specified in the Terms and Conditions, which will in the case of a physical settlement include certification that the beneficial holder is not a U.S. Person as defined in Regulation S.

The Final Terms may also provide for an Automatic Exercise on the expiration date, if the settlement amount would be greater than EUR 0.00 on such date.

Warrants expire on the expiration date, if they are not exercised or automatically exercised.

The Final Terms may specify certain maximum or minimum numbers of Warrants, which may be exercised on a certain date.

(iii) Knock-Out Events

If the Final Terms provide for an underlying related Knock-Out Event, the Knock-Out Settlement Date and the manner of calculation of the Derivative Settlement Amount will be specified in the Final Terms (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 3(d)).

(iv) Extraordinary Early Termination

In the event of an extraordinary early termination, the payment date will be specified in the provisions applicable to the relevant termination. The different early termination rights are set out in Section B. under "Early Redemption Rights".

The Final Terms may provide that the Early Settlement Amount shall equal the fair market value of the Warrants determined in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner by the Calculation Agent, adjusted to account for any reasonable expenses and costs of unwinding any underlyings and/or related hedging and funding arrangements of the Issuer (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(b)(e)).

This value may be lower than the purchase price per Warrant, and as a result the Holders may recover less than the purchase price per Warrant or less than the amount invested in the event of early termination.

(v) Method of Settlement

Any amounts payable in accordance with the Terms and Conditions will be paid by the Issuer to a Clearing System for credit to the accounts of the relevant depositary banks to be paid to the Holders (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 5).

If any due date for payment is not a business day, the Final Terms will provide for the determination of an alternative payment date. In such event, the Holders will neither be entitled to payment as a consequence of the payment date falling after the due date for payment nor to default interest (Verzugszinsen) or any other compensation on account of such adjustment.

(vi) Physical Delivery

The Final Terms may provide, that the Warrants will be redeemed by physical delivery of a specified number or amount of the relevant underlying(s) against payment of a strike price and not in cash, except in special circumstances specified in the Final Terms. The Final Terms may further provide that no fractions of underlying(s) will be delivered. Hence, the number of underlying(s) to be delivered will be rounded down to the nearest number of deliverable underlying(s) and the Final Terms may provide that the Issuer is not required to pay a cash compensation for undeliverable fractions of underlying(s) or for the payment of a cash amount as compensation for undeliverable fractions of underlying(s).

The investor may be required to bear all costs, fees, expenses and taxes associated with the delivery of the underlying(s).

The occurrence of settlement disruption events may delay the delivery of the underlying(s) or may have the consequence, if provided for in the Final Terms, that the delivery of the specified underlying(s) may be replaced by payment of the cash amount as specified in the Final Terms or by other deliverable assets specified in the Final Terms. The details of the settlement procedure in relation to a physical delivery of underlyings or other deliverable assets will be specified in the Final Terms (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 5).

4) Information Relating to the Underlyings

a) Exercise Price or Final Reference Price of the Underlying

The Final Terms will specify or describe any relevant price with respect to the calculation of any amount payable under the Derivative Securities, including but not limited, to an exercise price or strike price and/or an initial, interim or final reference price of the relevant underlyings or basket of underlyings as well as the prices and levels of any applicable Barriers (See Annex 1 Terms and Conditions §3(a), § 4(a)).

The Final Terms may further provide that an initial reference price or barrier price or level might be adjusted in line with pre-determined methods or conditions during the life time of the Derivative Securities. Such adjustments might reflect certain hedging or funding costs and expenses of the Issuer.

b) Type of the Underlying and Information on the Underlying, Market Disruption Events and Adjustment Rules with Relation to Events Concerning the Underlying

The Final Terms may provide that the Derivative Settlement Amount of the Derivative Securities will be linked to certain underlyings (in particular structured interest rates, shares (including american depositary receipts/global depositary receipts or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares), indices, currencies, commodities, funds or baskets of such underlyings) (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions Sections § 3(a), § 4(a)). In such case, the Final Terms will contain a description of the relevant underlying and link between the settlement amount on the one hand and the underlying on the other hand, and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (See "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities").

(i) Structured Interest Rates

If the Final Terms provide for a link to structured interest rates, the Final Terms will specify the interest rate and the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the structured interest components, and the determination of the settlement amount upon the occurrence of market disruption or adjustment events, as well the place where information relating to the relevant interest rate (including information relating to past and expected performance of the rate and its volatility) can be obtained. In such case, the Final Terms will contain an explanation of the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the structured interest components, a description of the link between the settlement amount on the one hand and the relevant interest rate on the other hand, and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities").

(ii) Shares or Share Baskets (including american depositary receipts/global depositary receipts or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares) (Equity linked Derivative Securities)

If the Final Terms provide for a link to a share (including american depositary receipts/global depositary receipts or similar instruments reflecting the performance of shares) or a basket thereof, the Final Terms will specify the share or the share basket, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent shares and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant share basket, the names of the share issuer(s), the relevant ISIN of the share(s), the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the shares or the shares in the share basket, as applicable, and the determination of the settlement amount upon the occurrence of market disruption or adjustment events.

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a Market Disruption Event (including, but not limited to, Trading Disruptions, Exchange Disruptions or Early Closures) or of a Disrupted Day (i.e. on any Scheduled Trading Day, a relevant Exchange or Related Exchange is not open for trading or the price of the relevant share cannot be determined) as of a relevant time.

As a result of a Potential Adjustment Event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(a)(d)(iii)) and various events relating to shares (including, but not limited to, Merger Events, Tender Offers, Nationalisation, Delisting or Insolvency) (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(a)(d)(iv)), the Calculation Agent may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event.

The Final Terms will contain an explanation of the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the shares or the shares in the share basket, as applicable, a description of the link between the settlement amount on the one hand and the share or the share basket, as applicable, on the other hand, the determination of the Market Disruption Events and the Potential Adjustment Events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the share(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities"). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Derivative Securities early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the Share(s), and may also specify the settlement amount applicable under such circumstances.

(iii) Indices or Index Baskets (Index linked Derivative Securities)

If the Final Terms provide for a link to an index or an index basket, the Final Terms will specify the index or index basket, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent indices and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant index basket, a description of the index (or, if the index is not composed by the Issuer, the place where information relating to the index or indices can be obtained), the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the index or the indices in the index basket, as applicable, and the determination of the settlement amount upon the occurrence of market disruption or adjustment events.

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a Market Disruption Event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(a)(d)(i)) as of a relevant time. As a result of an Index Adjustment Event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(a)(d)(ii)), the Calculation Agent may make such adjustments to any amounts payable in respect of the Derivative Securities and/or to other figures relevant to payments under the Derivative Securities as it deems appropriate.

The Final Terms will contain an explanation of the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the index or the index basket, as applicable, a description of the link between the settlement amount on the one hand and the index or index basket, as applicable, on the other hand, the determination of the Market Disruption Events and Index Adjustment Events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the index or index basket, a description of the index if and to the extend required, and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities"). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Derivative Securities early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the Index or Indices, respectively, and may also specify the settlement amount applicable under such circumstances.

(iv) Currencies or Currency baskets

If the Final Terms provide for the settlement amount under the Derivative Securities to be linked to a currency or a currency basket, the Final Terms will specify the currency or the currency basket, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent currencies and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant currency basket, as well as explain the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the currency or the currencies in the currency basket, as applicable, and the determination of the settlement amount upon the occurrence of disruption events (in particular, but not limited to, impossibility to convert or deliver the relevant currency or currencies, inability of market participants to obtain firm quotes for the relevant currency or currencies, split of exchange rate of the relevant currency or currencies into dual or multiple currency exchange rates, nationalisation or any other material changes beyond the control of the Issuer or the Calculation Agent affecting the relevant currency or currencies). The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a disruption event and may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(a)/(d)).

In such case, the Final Terms will contain a description of the link between the settlement amount on the one hand and the currency or the currency basket, as applicable, on the other hand, the determination of the disruption events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the currency(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities "). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Derivative Securities early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the Currency(s), and may also specify the settlement amount applicable under such circumstances.

(v) Commodities or Commodity baskets

If the Final Terms provide for the settlement amount under the Derivative Securities to be linked to a commodity or a commodity basket, the Final Terms will specify the commodity or the commodity basket, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent commodities and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant commodity basket, as well as explain the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and the commodities or the commodities in the commodity basket, as applicable, and the determination of the settlement amount upon the occurrence of market disruption events (in particular, but not limited to, the failure of a price source to publish a relevant price, a material suspension or limitation of trading in a commodity on the relevant exchange or any other exchange disruption).

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a disruption event and may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(a)/(d)).

In such case, the Final Terms will contain a description of the link between the settlement amount on the one hand and the commodity or the commodity basket, as applicable, on the other hand, the determination of the disruption events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the commodity(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities "). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Derivative Securities early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the commodity(s), and may also specify the settlement amount applicable under such circumstances.

(vi) Funds or Fund baskets

If the Final Terms provide for payments under the Derivative Securities to be linked to a closed-ended or open-ended investment fund (including hedge funds) or a basket of such investment funds, the Final Terms will specify the investment fund or the basket of investment funds, as applicable, together with the respective weightings of the constituent investment funds and the possibility of modifications, if any, to the composition of the relevant basket of investment funds, in particular the replacement of an investment fund by another investment fund or by another underlying (for example an index), as well as explain the mathematical relation between the settlement amount and net asset value of the investment fund or the investment funds in the basket, as applicable, and the determination of the settlement amount upon the occurrence of disruption events (in particular, but not limited to, the failure by the relevant management company to calculate and publish the net asset value).

The Calculation Agent, in accordance with the provisions of the Terms and Conditions, will determine the occurrence or existence of a disruption event and may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(a)(d)). As a result of a potential adjustment event that may have a diluting or concentrative effect on the theoretical value of the units or shares of an investment fund or certain other extraordinary events relating to an investment fund (including, but not limited to, merger events, insolvency or any other modification or change relating to the investment objective, the constitutional documents, the management company, the regulatory or tax treatment of an investment fund), the Calculation Agent may make certain adjustments to the Terms and Conditions in order to take into account the occurrence of such event.

In such case, the Final Terms will contain a description of the link between the settlement amount to the investment funds or the basket of investment funds, as applicable, the determination of the disruption events, the possibilities of adjustment by the Calculation Agent, the relevant information source(s) and the information provided by the information source(s), in particular in relation to the historic performance and volatility of the investment fund(s), and a risk factors section specific to such Final Terms, if applicable (see "Risk Factors – Risk Factors relating to the Securities – General Risks in relation to Derivative Securities"). The Final Terms may also provide that the Issuer shall have a right to redeem the Derivative Securities early upon the occurrence of certain events to be specified in relation to the investment fund(s), and may also specify the settlement amount applicable under such circumstances.

(5) Calculation Agent

Unless otherwise provided in the Final Terms, the Derivative Settlement Amount payable on any Derivative Security will be finally and conclusively determined by HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG, Königsallee 21/23, 40212 Düsseldorf, Federal Republic of Germany, or any other entity as specified in the relevant Final Terms, as Calculation Agent.

D. Selling Restrictions, Taxation and other Conditions applicable to all Derivative Securities

1) Selling Restrictions

The Derivative Securities are freely transferable. Offers and sales of Derivative Securities issued under this Programme are subject to the selling restrictions applicable in the jurisdictions where the Derivative Securities are offered or sold. The selling restrictions in respect of such jurisdictions as are parties to the Agreement on the European Economic Area (EEA), the United States and the United Kingdom, France and Italy are set out below. Additional selling restrictions, if any, may be set out in the Final Terms.

(i) EEA States

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a "Relevant Member State"), each dealer has represented and agreed, that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the "Relevant Implementation Date") it has not made and will not make an offer of Derivative Securities which are the subject of the offering contemplated by this Prospectus as completed by the Final Terms in relation thereto to the public in that Relevant Member State except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, make an offer of such Derivative Securities to the public in that Relevant Member State:

1) if the Final Terms in relation to the Derivative Securities specify that an offer of those Derivative Securities may be made other than pursuant to Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Directive in that Relevant Member State (a "Non-exempt Offer"), following the date of publication of a prospectus in relation to such Derivative Securities which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, provided that any such prospectus has subsequently been completed by the final terms contemplating such Non-exempt Offer, in accordance with the Prospectus Directive, in the period beginning and ending on the dates specified in such prospectus or final terms, as applicable;

2) at any time to legal entities which are authorised or regulated to operate in the financial markets or, if not so authorised or regulated, whose corporate purpose is solely to invest in securities;

3) at any time to any legal entity which has two or more of (1) an average of at least 250 employees during the last financial year; (2) a total balance sheet of more than EUR 43,000,000; and (3) an annual net turnover of more than EUR 50,000,000, as shown in its last annual or consolidated accounts;

4) at any time to fewer than 100 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive) subject to obtaining the prior consent of the relevant dealer or dealers nominated by the Issuer for any such offer; or

5) at any time in any other circumstances falling within Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Directive, provided that no such offer of Derivative Securities referred to in (2) to (5) above shall require the Issuer or any Dealer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an "offer of Derivative Securities to the public" in relation to any Derivative Securities in any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Derivative Securities to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe the Derivative Securities, as the same may be varied in that Member State by any measure implementing the Prospectus Directive in that Member State and the expression "Prospectus Directive" means Directive 2003/71/EC and includes any relevant implementing measure in each Relevant Member State.

(ii) United States

The Derivative Securities and the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act, and may not be offered or sold in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. Persons except in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act (the "Regulation S") or pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S.

Trading in the Derivative Securities has not been approved by the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act, as amended. The Derivative Securities are being offered and sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons pursuant to Regulation S and may not be legally or beneficially owned at any time by any U.S. person.

The Issuer represents that it has offered and sold and will offer or sell Derivative Securities of any Series or the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities of any Series (i) as part of its distribution at any time and (ii) otherwise, in the case of Certificates within, 40 days or, in the case of Warrants, within in one year, after the completion of the distribution of an identifiable tranche of which such Derivative

Securities are a part, as determined and certified to the Issuer only in accordance with Regulation S. Accordingly, neither it, its affiliates nor any persons acting on its behalf have engaged or will engage in any direct selling efforts with respect to the Derivative Securities or the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities, and it and they have complied and will comply with the offering restrictions requirement of Regulation S. The Issuer agrees that, at or prior to confirmation of the sale of the Derivative Securities or the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities, it (i) represents, as a condition to acquiring any interest in the Derivative Securities, that neither it nor any person for whose account or benefit the Derivative Securities are being acquired is a U.S. person and (ii) will have sent to each person receiving a selling concession, fee or other remuneration that purchases the Derivative Securities or the securities, if any, to be delivered upon any redemption or exercise of the Derivative Securities from it during the relevant distribution compliance period for distribution a confirmation or other notice to substantially the following effect:

> "This Security and the securities, if any, to be delivered upon the redemption or exercise of this Security have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and may not be offered or sold within the United States or, to or for the account of, U.S. persons (i) as part of their distribution any time or (ii) otherwise, in the case of Certificates within 40 days after completion of the distribution of an identifiable tranche, or in the case of Warrants within in one year after the completion of the distribution of an identifiable tranche, except in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given them by Regulation S under the Securities Act."

Each Holder by acquiring its Derivative Security will have been deemed to have represented that it is neither in the United States nor a U.S. person.

Terms used above have the meanings given to them by Regulation S.

In addition, until 40 day after the commencement of the offering of any identifiable tranche of Derivative Securities, an offer or sale of Derivative Securities within the United States by any dealer that is not participating in the offering of such Derivative Securities may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

In addition, for Derivative Securities which are subject to TEFRA C, the following shall also apply:

The Derivative Securities are subject to U.S. tax law requirements and may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or its possessions. Any dealer appointed under the Programme will agree not to offer, sell or deliver any Derivative Securities within the United States. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the United States Interna Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and regulations thereunder.

In addition, for Derivative Securities which are subject to TEFRA D, the following shall also apply:

The Issuer and any other dealer appointed under the Programme will represent and agree that

1) except to the extent permitted under U.S. Treas. Reg. §1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(D) (the “D Rules"), (a) it has not offered or sold, and during a 40-day restricted period it will not offer or sell, Derivative Securities to a person who is within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person, and (b) it has not delivered and will not deliver within the United States or its possessions definitive Derivative Securities that are sold during the restricted period;

2) it has and throughout the restricted period will have in effect procedures reasonably designed to ensure that its employees or agents who are directly engaged in selling Derivative Securities are aware that such Derivative Securities may not be offered or sold during the restricted period to a person who is within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person, except as permitted by the D Rules;

3) if it is a United States person, it is acquiring the Derivative Securities for purposes of resale in connection with their original issue and if it retains Derivative Securities for its own account, it will only do so in accordance with the requirements of U.S. Treas. Reg. §1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(D)(6); and

4) with respect to each affiliate that acquires from it Derivative Securities for the purpose of offering or selling such Derivative Securities during the restricted period, it will either (a) repeat and confirm the representations and agreements contained in clauses (1), (2) and (3) on its behalf or (b) obtain from such affiliate for the benefit of the Issuer the representations and agreements contained in clauses (1), (2) and (3).

Terms used in clauses (1), (2), (3) and (4) have the meaning given to them by the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and regulations thereunder, including the D Rules.

(iii) United Kingdom

The Issuer has represented, warranted and agreed that:

1) in relation to any Derivative Securities which have a maturity of less than one year, (a) it is a person whose ordinary activities involve it in acquiring, holding, managing or disposing of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of its business and (b) it has not offered or sold and will not offer or sell any Derivative Securities other than to persons whose ordinary activities involve them in acquiring, holding, managing or disposing of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses or who it is reasonable to expect will acquire, hold, manage or dispose of investments (as principal or agent) for the purposes of their businesses where the issue of the Derivative Securities would otherwise constitute a contravention of section 19 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the "FSMA") by the Issuer;

2) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated any invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of section 21 of the FSMA) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any Derivative Securities in circumstances in which section 21(1) of the FSMA does not apply to the Issuer; and

3) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to such Derivative Securities in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

(iv) France

The Issuer has represented and agreed that:

(1) Offer to the public in France:

it has only made and will only make an offer of Warrants or Certificates to the public in France (i) in the case of a prospectus in relation to those Warrants or Certificates having been approved by the Autorité des marchés financiers ("AMF"), on or after the date of its publication or, (ii) in the case of a prospectus having been approved by the competent authority of another Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the EU Prospectus Directive 2003/71/EC, in the period beginning on the date of notification of such approval to the AMF, all in accordance with articles L.412-1 and L.621-8 of the French Code monétaire et financier and the Règlement général of the AMF and ending at the latest on the date which is 12 months after the date of the approval of the Base Prospectus; or

(2) Private placement in France:

it has not offered or sold and will not offer or sell, directly or indirectly, any Warrants or Certificates to the public in France and it has not distributed or caused to be distributed and will not distribute or cause to be distributed to the public in France, the Base Prospectus, the relevant Final Terms or any other offering material relating to the Warrants or Certificates and such offers, sales and distributions have been and will be made in France only to (a) providers of investment services relating to portfolio management for the account of third parties, and/or (b) qualified investors (investisseurs qualifiés), all as defined in, and in accordance with, articles L.411-1, L.411-2 and D.411-1 to D.411-3 of the French Code monétaire et financier.

(vi) Republic of Italy

Until the offering of the Derivative Securities has been registered pursuant to Italian securities legislation, no Derivative Securities may be offered, sold or delivered, nor may copies of this Base Prospectus or of any other document relating to the Derivative Securities be distributed in the Republic of Italy, except:

(a) to qualified investors (investitori qualificati), pursuant to Article 100 of the Legislative Decree No. 58 of 24 February 1998 (the "Consolidated Financial Services Act") and Article 2, paragraph (e)(i) to (iii) of the Prospectus Directive; or

(b) in any other circumstances where an express exemption from compliance with the restrictions on offers to the public applies, as provided under the Consolidated Financial Services Act or CONSOB Regulation No. 11971 of 14 May 1999, as amended.

Any offer, sale or delivery of the Derivative Securities or distribution of copies of this Base Prospectus or any other document relating to the Derivative Securities in Italy must be:

(i) made by an investment firm, bank or financial intermediary permitted to conduct such activities in Italy in accordance with the Consolidated Financial Services Act, Legislative Decree No. 385 of 1 September 1993 (the "Banking Act"), CONSOB Regulation No. 16190 of 29 October 2007, all as amended;

(ii) in compliance with Article 129 of the Banking Act and the implementing guidelines, pursuant to which the Bank of Italy may request information on the offering or issue of securities in Italy; and

(iii) in compliance with any other applicable laws and regulations, including any limitation or requirement which may be imposed from time to time, inter alia, by CONSOB or the Bank of Italy.

Any investor purchasing the Derivative Securities is solely responsible for ensuring that any offer or resale of the Derivative Securities it purchases occurs in compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

Article 100-bis of the Consolidated Financial Services Act affects the transferability of the Derivative Securities in Italy to the extent that any placing of the Derivative Securities is made solely with qualified investors and such Derivative Securities are then systematically resold to non-qualified investors on the secondary market at any time in the 12 months following such placing. Where this occurs, if a prospectus compliant with the Prospectus Directive has not been published, purchasers of Derivative Securities who are acting outside of the course of their business or profession may in certain circumstances be entitled to declare such purchase void and to claim damages from any authorised person at whose premises the Derivative Securities were purchased, unless an exemption provided for under the Consolidated Financial Services Act applies.

2) Tax Treatment of the Securities

If payment under the Derivative Securities is made to investors which are not resident in the Federal Republic of Germany, no tax will be withheld at source, i.e. by the Issuer, in the Federal Republic of Germany. In the event that withholding tax is introduced in the Federal Republic of Germany, the Final Terms may provide that a gross-up amount must be paid in the case of Certificates by the Issuer equal to the amount required to put the Holder into the position he would be in if no withholding tax had been withheld (see Terms and Conditions § 6). In such event, the Issuer will have an extraordinary redemption right (Sonderkündigungsrecht) (see Annex 1 Terms and Conditions § 4(b)).

If the Derivative Securities are offered by the Issuer other than in the Federal Republic of Germany, information relating to withholding tax may be disclosed in the Final Terms or, in the event of an offer which is made after completion of the Final Terms, in a supplement to this Base Prospectus.

a) Federal Republic of Germany

The following discussion of certain German tax consequences of buying, holding or disposing of the Derivative Securities is based on tax laws (including tax treaties), regulations, decisions, judgments and administrative decrees currently in effect, which may be amended or construed differently, potentially with retroactive or retrospective effect. However, this section does not cover all possible tax consequences which are relevant to the decision of any potential purchaser with respect to buying, holding or disposing of the Derivative Securities; in particular, it does not refer to specific circumstances which may be relevant to certain purchasers. This means that the following comments exclusively refer to Derivative Securities as an investment as such (unless expressly indicated otherwise) and does not address any persons in their specific tax situation. Under the Programme Warrants may be issued. This summary neither addresses the tax treatment of an exercise of Warrants nor the ownership of the underlyings in case of an exercise of Warrants. The information contained in the following section is not intended to be and does not purport to be legal or tax advice.

POTENTIAL INVESTORS IN THE DERIVATIVE SECURITIES ARE THEREFORE ADVISED TO CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISERS AS TO THE GERMAN AND OTHER TAX CONSEQUENCES OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE DERIVATIVE SECURITIES.

(i) German Tax Residents

A person is generally tax resident in the Federal Republic of Germany if such person has its residence, habitual abode, place of management or statutory seat in the Federal Republic of Germany ("German Holder").

Under German tax law, currently in effect, payments of principal on the Derivative Securities are not subject to German taxation.

Taxation of interest income

Payments of interest on the Derivative Securities, including payments of interest accrued until disposal of a Security which is credited separately ("Accrued Interest", Stückzinsen) to German Holders are subject to German income or corporate income tax. If the Derivative Securities are held as business assets in a German permanent establishment, interest income derived from the Derivative Securities will also be subject to German trade tax.

Withholding tax on interest income

If the Derivative Securities are held by the German Holder in a custodial account with a German branch of a German or non-German bank or financial services institution ("German Disbursing Agent"), which pays or credits the interest, 30 per cent. withholding tax (Kapitalertragsteuerabzug) on interest payments, including Accrued Interest received, plus 5.5 per cent. solidarity surcharge thereon, will be levied, resulting in a total withholding tax charge of 31.65 per cent. on the gross amount of the interest paid. Accrued Interest paid by a German Holder upon the purchase of the Derivative Securities may be set-off against the amount of interest income received under the Derivative Securities and, under certain circumstances, may reduce the amount subject to withholding tax. If the Derivative Securities are presented for payment or credit at the office of the German Disbursing Agent (over-the-counter-transaction; Tafelgeschäft) the withholding tax will be imposed at a rate of 35 per cent. plus a 5.5 per cent. solidarity surcharge thereon, resulting in a total tax charge of 36.925 per cent.

If the German Holder is an individual to whom income from the Derivative Securities qualify as investment income and such German Holder has filed a certificate of exemption (Freistellungsauftrag) with the German Disbursing Agent, no tax will be withheld by the German Disbursing Agent. However, withholding tax will only not be withheld to the extent that the interest income derived from the Derivative Securities together with other investment income administered by the German Disbursing Agent, does not exceed the maximum exemption amount shown on this certificate. Similarly, no tax will be withheld if the German Holder submits to the German Disbursing Agent a certificate of non-assessment (Nichtveranlagungsbescheinigung) issued by the competent local tax authority.

Withholding tax and solidarity surcharge thereon might be credited against the German Holder's final tax liability for German personal or corporate income tax purposes (including the respective solidarity surcharge), or, if in excess of such final tax liability, may be refunded upon application.

German tax resident individuals are entitled to a standard deduction (Werbungskostenpauschbetrag) of EUR 51.00 (EUR 102.00 for married couples filing their tax return jointly) in computing their overall investment income (including income earned from the Derivative Securities) as well as a personal annual exemption (Sparer-Freibetrag) of currently EUR 750.00 (EUR 1,500.00 for married couples filing their tax return jointly) with respect to such investment income.

Disposal or Redemption of the Derivative Securities

Capital gains resulting from the disposal or redemption of the Derivative Securities (or, as the case may be, from the payment at maturity of the Derivative Securities) realised by individual German Holders holding the Derivative Securities as private assets ("Private German Investors") are generally taxable if the capital gain is realised within one year after the acquisition of the Derivative Securities. Capital losses realised by Private German Investors in respect of the Derivative Securities may only be set-off against taxable capital gains resulting from a disposal of Derivative Securities or from other private transactions within the same fiscal year and, subject to certain limitations, in the preceding year or in subsequent years.

Capital gains realised by Private German Investors are only taxable if the aggregate amount derived from taxable private transactions exceeds an exempt threshold (Freigrenze) of EUR 600.00 in one calendar year, provided that the Derivative Securities do not qualify as financial innovations, as described under the following caption "Special Rules for Financial Innovations".

Capital gains derived from the disposal or redemption of the Derivative Securities are not subject to German income tax if the Derivative Securities are sold or redeemed more than one year after their acquisition, provided that the Derivative Securities do not qualify as financial innovations, as described under the following caption "Special Rules for Financial Innovations".

Irrespective of a holding period, any capital gain resulting from the disposal or redemption of the Derivative Securities (or, as the case may be, from the payment at maturity of the Derivative Securities) are subject to personal income or corporate income tax, including trade tax, if such Derivative Securities are held as business assets of a German Holder.

(ii) Special Rules for Financial Innovations

To the extent that the Derivative Securities are qualified as financial innovations ("Financial Innovations"; Finanzinnovationen), special provisions apply to the taxation in case of a disposal or redemption or upon maturity of such Derivative Securities. In particular, debt instruments may be qualified as Financial Innovations if they provide for or grant (i) the payment of a consideration (especially interest) or (ii) the repayment of the capital.

If the Derivative Securities qualify as Financial Innovations and regardless of the one-year holding period described above under the caption "Disposal or Redemption of the Derivative Securities", capital gains in the amount of the proportionate yield to maturity (besitzanteilige Emissionsrendite) arising upon the disposal or redemption or upon maturity of the Derivative Securities realised by a Private German Investor are subject to income tax. The same holds true for capital gains so derived by a secondary or subsequent purchaser who is a Private German Investor.

If the yield to maturity (Emissionsrendite) cannot be established or is not proven, the interest income is deemed to be equal to the amount of the difference between the proceeds from the disposal or redemption and the purchase price of the Derivative Securities (market yield; Marktrendite). If the Derivative Securities are denominated in a currency other than Euro, the market yield is calculated in the respective currency. Currency gains are only taxable if the disposal or redemption occurs within one year after the acquisition of the Derivative Securities. If a yield to maturity (Emissionsrendite) can be established, only the part of the capital gain is subject to income tax that is attributable to the yield to maturity (Emissionsrendite) during the period the respective German Private Investor held the Derivative Securities.

Upon disposal or redemption or upon maturity of the Derivative Securities that qualify as Financial Innovations, the market yield (Marktrendite) is subject to 30 per cent. withholding tax (plus a solidarity surcharge of 5.50 per cent. thereon) if the Derivative Securities are held in a custodial account with the same German Disbursing Agent since the acquisition of the Derivative Securities. If the Derivative Securities have not been held with the same German Disbursing Agent, withholding tax will be imposed on a lump-sum of 30 per cent. of the proceeds received upon disposal or redemption or upon the maturity of the Derivative Securities. In case of an over-the-counter-transaction (Tafelgeschäft), the withholding tax will be imposed at a rate of 35 per cent. plus a 5.5 per cent. solidarity surcharge thereon, resulting in a total tax charge of 36.925 per cent.

As described above, the withholding tax and the solidarity surcharge might be credited or refunded upon application during the tax assessment of the German Holder.

(iii) German Tax Non-Residents

Income derived from the Derivative Securities by persons who are not tax resident in the Federal Republic of Germany ("Non-German Holders") is in general exempt from German income or corporate income taxation. Withholding tax and solidarity surcharge are not withheld (even if the Derivative Securities are held with a German Disbursing Agent). The forgoing assumes that (i) the Derivative Securities are not held as business assets in a German permanent establishment of the Non-German Holder (including a permanent representative or fixed base of the Non-German – holder); (ii) the income derived from the Derivative Securities does not otherwise constitute German source income (such as income from the letting and leasing of certain property located in Germany); Warrants might be regarded as German source income; (iii) the Derivative Securities are not presented for payment at the counter of a German Disbursing Agent in an over-the-counter-transaction (Tafelgeschäft); and (iv) in the event that the Derivative Securities are held in a custodial account maintained with a German Disbursing Agent, the Non-German Holder complies with the applicable procedural rules under German law and provides evidence of the fact that the Derivative Securities are not subject to taxation in Germany.

If the interest income is subject to German taxation (for example, if the Derivative Securities are held as business assets in a German permanent establishment of a Non-German Holder), such holder is subject to a tax treatment similar to that described above under the caption "German Tax Residents".

(iv) Investment Tax Act

Depending on the relevant Final Terms, the Holder might qualify as the beneficial owner of the underlyings. If the underlyings consist of units in investment funds, the German Investment Tax Act would be applicable and, thus, the taxation of the Holder might be less advantageous.

(v) European Union Directive on the Taxation of Savings Income

On 3 June 2003, the European Council of Economic and Finance Ministers adopted the Directive 2003/48/EC regarding the taxation of savings income (the "Directive"). Pursuant to the Directive and subject to a number of conditions being met, Member States are required, since 1 July 2005, to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State, inter alia, details of payments of interest within the meaning of the Directive (interest, products, premiums or other debt income) made by a paying agent located within its jurisdiction to, or for the benefit of, an individual resident in that other Member State (the "Disclosure of Information Method").

For these purposes, the term "paying agent" is widely defined and includes in particular any economic operator who is responsible for making interest payments, within the meaning of the Directive, for the immediate benefit of individuals.

However, throughout a transitional period, certain Member States (the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg, Belgium and Austria), instead of using the Disclosure of Information Method used by other Member States, withhold an amount on interests payments. The rate of such withholding tax equals 15 per cent. during the first three years, 20 per cent. during the subsequent three years and 35 per cent. until the end of the transitional period. Such transitional period will end at the end of the first full fiscal year following the later of (i) the date of entry into force of an agreement between the European Community, following a unanimous decision of the European Council, and the last of several jurisdictions (Switzerland, Liechtenstein, San Marino, Monaco and Andorra), providing for the exchange of information upon request as defined in the OECD Model Agreement on Exchange of Information on Tax Matters released on 18 April 2002 (the "OECD Model Agreement") with respect to interest payments within the meaning of the Directive, in addition to the simultaneous application by those same jurisdictions of a withholding tax on such payments at the rates defined for the corresponding periods and (ii) the date on which the European Council unanimously agrees that the United States of America is committed to exchange of information upon request as defined in the OECD Model Agreement with respect to interest payments within the meaning of the Directive.

A number of non-EU countries and dependent or associated territories have agreed to adopt similar measures (transitional withholding or exchange of information) with effect since 1 July 2005.

On 26 January 2004, the Directive was implemented in Germany through the Interest Information Regulation (Zinsinformationsverordnung), which came into force on 1 July 2005.

(vi) Gift and Inheritance Taxation

According to German tax law, no estate, inheritance or gift taxes with respect to any Derivative Securities will arise, if, in the case of estate and inheritance taxes, both the decedent and the heir, and, in the case of gift taxes, both the donor and the donee, are not tax-resident and are not deemed to be tax-resident in Germany at the time of the transfer and such Derivative Securities are not attributable to a permanent establishment in Germany. In the case of a decedent, donor or heir who is a German national, this only applies if such person has not been resident in Germany for more than five consecutive years.

(vii) Stamp Duty

No stamp, issue, registration or similar taxes or duties will be payable in Germany in connection with the issuance, delivery or execution of the Derivative Securities. Currently, net assets tax is not levied in Germany.

(viii) Changes by reform of business taxation

Please find below some selected changes in the taxation of holders of the Derivative Securities by the Business Tax Reform Act 2008 (Unternehmensteuerreformgesetz 2008). This statement is not exhaustive.

In the course of the reform of business taxation, a final flat-rate tax (Abgeltungsteuer) on investment income will be established.

From 1 January, 2009, the taxation of the Derivative Securities will change as follows:

Tax residents

Income from the Derivative Securities will qualify as income from capital investment and, thus, be subject to German personal or corporate income tax (in both cases plus solidarity surcharge) and additionally subject to trade tax if the Derivative Securities are held as business assets. This treatment will be independent from a one-year holding period.

Withholding tax arises as follows:

Interest income:

If the Derivative Securities or Coupons are kept or administered in a securities deposit account by a German credit or financial services institution (or by a German branch of a foreign institution), or by a German securities trading firm (Wertpapierhandelsunternehmen) or a German securities trading bank (Wertpapierhandelsbank) which pays or credits the interest, a 25 per cent. withholding tax, plus a 5.5 per cent. solidarity surcharge, resulting in a total withholding tax charge of 26.375 per cent., will be levied on interest payments or credits. The same will apply, if Derivative Securities are presented for payment or credit at the office of a German credit or financial services institution (or at a German branch of a foreign institution), or a German securities trading firm or a German securities trading bank.

Capital gains

If the Derivative Securities are kept or administered in a domestic securities deposit account by a German credit institution or financial services institution (or by a German branch of a foreign institution) or by a German securities trading firm or a German securities trading bank, a 25 per cent. withholding tax, plus. solidarity surcharge, will be levied on the positive difference between the purchase price paid by the holder of Derivative Securities and the selling price or redemption amount, as the case may be, resulting in a total withholding tax charge of 26.375 per cent. If such criteria are not fulfilled, if e.g. the Derivative Securities are sold or redeemed after a transfer from another securities deposit account, the Holder of Derivative Securities may, under certain circumstances, provide evidence for the purchase price. If such evidence is not provided, the price difference as the taxable base for the withholding tax and the solidarity surcharge will be substituted by a flat amount of 30 per cent. of the selling price or the redemption price.

For individuals holding the Derivative Securities as private assets, this withholding tax shall generally be final and only be included in the relevant tax assessment upon application, especially if the personal income tax rate lies below 25 per cent. Please note that the withholding tax rate on interest income and capital gains will be in excess of 26.375% if church tax applies to the individual holder of the Derivative Securities. A unitary flat sum (Sparer-Pauschbetrag) in the amount of 801 Euro (1,602 Euro for married couples filing their tax return jointly) will be introduced to be deducted in computing the overall investment income. The deduction of actually accrued expenses will not be possible any more.

Transition rules:

Interest payments received after 31 December 2008 will be taxable and subject to withholding tax according to the new tax regime mentioned above.

To the extent Derivative Securities qualify as Financial Innovations, capital gains from the disposal or redemption accruing to the Holders of Derivative Securities after 31 December 2008 will be subject to the new tax regime mentioned above.

Provided no repayment of principal or consideration is promised or granted, capital gains from the disposal or redemption of Derivative Securities (except for Warrants and certain other speculative instruments) will generally be subject to the new tax regime mentioned above if the Derivative Securities (i) have been purchased after 31 December 2008 or (ii) have been disposed or redeemed after 30 June 2009.Otherwise, capital gains from the disposal or redemption of Derivative Securities only will be subject to the new tax regime as mentioned above if the Derivative Securities have been purchased after 31 December 2008.

Non-Tax residents

Persons who are not tax resident in Germany, are in general exempt from the German withholding tax plus solidarity surcharge. In the case of over-the-counter-transactions (payment or credit upon presentation of Derivative Securities at the office of a German credit or financial services institution or at a German branch of a foreign institution or at a German securities trading firm or a German securities trading bank), with the exception of transactions entered into by foreign credit or financial services institutions, the 25 per cent. withholding tax plus solidarity surcharge, in total 26.375 per cent. applies. Under certain circumstances a refund might be available.

If according to German tax law the interest income received from the Derivative Securities kept or administered by a German credit or financial services institution (or by a German branch of a foreign institution) or by a German securities trading firm or a German securities trading bank is effectively connected with a German trade or business of a non-resident, the taxation corresponds to the taxation set out in the paragraph "Tax residents" above.

b) France

Payments of interest and other revenues in respect of the Derivative Securities will not be subject to French withholding tax, provided that the Derivative Securities are not issued by the Issuer through a permanent establishment located in France.

French resident individuals holders of Derivative Securities as private assets may, under certain conditions and pursuant to Article 125 A I of the French tax code, elect to be subject to the fixed prepayment levy (prélèvement libératoire) on the income received under the Derivative Securities that is assimilated to interest income for French tax purposes.

Potential purchasers of Derivative Securities are advised to consult their own appropriate, independent and professionally qualified tax advisors as to the tax consequences of any investment in, ownership of, or transactions involving the Derivative Securities, notably in the light of the effective charcteristics of the Derivative Securities to be purchased.

c) Italy

The following is a summary of current Italian law and practise relating to the taxation of the Warrants and Certificates (the "Securities"). This is a general summary that does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations which may be relevant to a decision to subscribe for, purchase, own or dispose of the Securities and does not purport to deal with the tax consequences applicable to all categories of investors, some of which (such as dealers in securities or commodities) may be subject to special rules.

The statements herein regarding taxation are based on the laws in force in the Republic of Italy as of the date of this Base Prospectus and are subject to any changes in law occurring after such date, which changes could be made on a retroactive basis. The Issuer will not update this summary to reflect changes in laws and if such a change occurs the information in this summary could become invalid. With regard to certain innovative or structured financial instruments there is currently neither case law nor comments of the Italian tax authorities as to the tax treatment of such financial instruments. Accordingly, it cannot be excluded that the Italian tax authorities and courts or Italian intermediaries may adopt a view different from that outlined below.

In the near future, significant changes could be enacted to the Italian income tax system, including the tax regime applicable to financial income, which may impact on the current tax regime of the Securities.

Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisers concerning the overall tax consequences of their interest in the Warrants and Certificates.

This summary does not describe the tax consequences for a holder of the Securities in case Physical Delivery is provided and, in particular, in respect of Securities that are redeemable in exchange for, or convertible into, shares, of the exercise, settlement or redemption of such Securities and/or any tax consequences after the moment of exercise, settlement or redemption.

Capital gain

Pursuant to Article 67 of Presidential Decree No. 917 of 22 December 1986 and Legislative Decree No. 461 of 21 November 1997, as subsequently amended, where the Italian resident Securityholder is (i) an individual not engaged in an entrepreneurial activity to which the Securities are connected, (ii) a non commercial partnership, (iii) a non-commercial private or public institution, or (iv) an investor exempt from Italian corporate income taxation, capital gains accrued under the sale or the exercise of the Securities are subject to a 12.5% substitute tax (i*mposta sostitutiva*).

Securityholders who are Italian resident individuals may opt for three different taxation criteria:

(a) Under the tax declaration regime (regime della dichiarazione), which is the default regime for Italian resident individuals not engaged in an entrepreneurial activity to which the Securities are connected, the imposta sostitutiva on capital gains will be chargeable, on a cumulative basis, on all capital gains, net of any incurred capital loss, realised by the Italian resident individual holding the Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity pursuant to all sales or redemptions of the Securities carried out during any given tax year. Italian resident individuals holding the Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity must indicate the overall capital gains realised in any tax year, net of any relevant incurred capital loss, in the annual tax return and pay imposta sostitutiva on such gains together with any balance income tax due for such year. Capital losses in excess of capital gains may be carried forward against capital gains realised in any of the four succeeding tax years.

(b) As an alternative to the tax declaration regime, Italian resident individuals holding the Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity may elect to pay the imposta sostitutiva separately on capital gains realised on each sale or redemption of the Securities (the "risparmio amministrato" regime). Such separate taxation of capital gains is allowed subject to (i) the Securities being deposited with Italian banks, or certain authorised financial intermediaries and (ii) an express election for the risparmio amministrato regime being timely made in writing by the relevant Securityholder. The depository is responsible for accounting for imposta sostitutiva in respect of capital gains realised on each sale or redemption of the Securities (as well as in respect of capital gains realised upon the revocation of its mandate), net of any incurred capital loss, and is required to pay the relevant amount to the Italian tax authorities on behalf of the taxpayer, deducting a corresponding amount from the proceeds to be credited to the Securityholder or using funds provided by the Securityholder for this purpose. Under the risparmio amministrato regime, capital losses may be deducted from capital gains subsequently realised, within the same securities management, in the same tax year or in the following tax years up to the fourth. Under the risparmio amministrato regime, the Securityholder is not required to declare the capital gains in the annual tax return.

(c) Any capital gains realised by Italian resident individuals holding the Securities not in connection with an entrepreneurial activity who have entrusted the management of their financial assets, including the Securities, to an authorised intermediary and have opted for the so-called "risparmio gestito" regime will be included in the computation of the annual increase in value of the managed assets accrued, even if not realised, at year end, subject to a 12.5% substitute tax, to be paid by the managing authorised intermediary. Under this risparmio gestito regime, any depreciation of the managed assets accrued at year end may be carried forward against increase in value of the managed assets accrued in any of the four succeeding tax years. Under the risparmio gestito regime, the Securityholder is not required to declare the capital gains realised in the annual tax return.

Where an Italian resident Securityholder is a company or similar commercial entity, or the Italian permanent establishment of a foreign commercial entity to which the Securities are effectively connected, capital gains arising from the Securities will not be subject to imposta sostitutiva, but must be included in the relevant Securityholder's income tax return and are therefore subject to Italian corporate tax.

Capital gains realised by non-Italian resident Securityholders are not subject to Italian taxation, provided that the Securities are held outside of Italy.

Atypical securities

In accordance with a different interpretation of current tax law, it is possible that Certificates would be considered as 'atypical' securities pursuant to Article 8 of Law Decree No. 512 of 30 September 1983 as implemented by Law No. 649 of 25 November 1983. In this event, payments relating to Certificates may be subject to an Italian withholding tax, levied at the rate of 27%.

The 27% withholding tax mentioned above does not apply to payments made to a non-Italian resident holder of the Certificate and to an Italian resident holder of the Certificate which is (i) a company or similar commercial entity (including the Italian permanent establishment of foreign entities), (ii) a commercial partnership, or (iii) a commercial private or public institution.

Implementation in Italy of the EU Savings Directive

Italy has implemented the EU Savings Directive through Legislative Decree No. 84 of 18 April 2005 (Decree No. 84). Under Decree No. 84, subject to a number of important conditions being met, in the case of interest paid starting from 1 July 2005 to individuals which qualify as beneficial owners of the interest payment and are resident for tax purposes in another Member State, Italian paying agents (i.e. banks, società di intermediazione mobiliare (SIM), fiduciary companies, società di gestione del risparmio (SGR) resident for tax purposes in Italy, Italian permanent establishments of non-Italian resident persons and any other Italian entity paying interest for professional or business reasons) shall report to the Italian Tax Authorities details of the relevant payments and personal information on the individual beneficial owner. Such information is transmitted by the Italian Tax Authorities to the competent foreign tax authorities of the State of residence of the beneficial owner.

3) Terms and Conditions of the Offer

a) Timetable and Action Required to Apply for the Offer

The relevant issue is offered for subscription or purchase by the Issuer. In addition, following an admission to stock exchange listing, the Derivative Securities may be purchased through the stock exchange or at the Issuer or such other entities as may be set out in the relevant Final Terms.

b) Terms of the Offer

The subscription or issue price for Derivative Securities issued under this Programme is determined in accordance with supply and demand, is subject to continuous adjustment in accordance with the market situation and may be obtained from the Issuer; in case of a purchase via the stock exchange, the provisions generally applicable to settlements for exchange-traded transactions apply. Any specific conditions of the offer, if any, may be set out in the Final Terms.

c) Total Amount Issued

The amount of the issue/offer will be specified in the Final Terms. If the offered amount cannot be specified in the Final Terms, the date and the manner of calculation and publication of the definitive amount of the offer will be set out in the Final Terms.

d) Time Period of the Offer

The Derivative Securities will be offered either continuously or within the stated time period of the offer on the basis of the relevant current price as determined in accordance with prevailing market conditions or in any other manner as specified in the relevant Final Terms. Further, the Issuer reserves the right to end the offer before the expiry of the stated time period, if subscription applications have been made in an amount equal to the total amount of Derivative Securities offered. If during the relevant period of the offer, the market environment or other external conditions relevant to the issue change to such a material extent that in the view of the Issuer, the offer of the Derivative Securities is no longer consistent with the prevailing market situation, the Issuer will be entitled either to end the offer before the expiry of the stated time period or not to issue the Derivative Securities.

e) Subscription

Payment of the subscription or purchase price will be made on the basis of the subscription or purchase agreement for the Derivative Securities to be made between the Issuer and the investor. No prepayment and, usually, no allotment of the Derivative Securities will be made. Minimum or maximum subscription size, if any, will be specified in the Final Terms.

f) Subscription Price

Information on payment of the subscription or purchase price will be given in the Final Terms.

g) Delivery

Delivery and payment in the case of the initial sale will be made on the value date of the issue, and thereafter in accordance with the individual purchase agreements, in each case by delivery against payment via the relevant Clearing System pursuant to the rules applicable to such Clearing System, unless a different procedure is agreed upon and/or set out in the relevant Final Terms.

h) Result of the Offer

If the results of an offer are to be published, the date and manner of such publication will be set out in the relevant Final Terms.

i) Subscription Rights

There will be no subscription rights.

j) Allotment of the Securities

An allotment, if any, will be provided for in the Final Terms. Payment of the purchase price will be made on the basis of the purchase agreement for the Derivative Securities to be made between the Issuer and the investor.

k) Categories of Target Investors and Target Markets

If the offer is limited to certain markets and/or categories of target investors, this will be specified in the Final Terms. Otherwise, the Derivative Securities may be purchased by any investor, unless this is contrary to applicable provisions of law.

l) Allotment Procedure

If an allotment procedure has been provided for, the details, in particular those regarding notification to applicants of the amount allotted and indication whether dealing may begin before notification is made, will be specified in the Final Terms.

m) Pricing

The initial offer price will be determined by the Issuer in its reasonable discretion on the basis of prevailing market conditions. When Derivative Securities are purchased, the then applicable fee rates will be used as a basis.

Pricing will be made on the relevant stock exchanges, if appropriate, in accordance with the relevant applicable exchange rules and regulations.

4) Placement and Agents

a) Placement

The Derivative Securities issued under this Programme will be placed and distributed directly by the Issuer or such other entities as may be set out in the relevant Final Terms.

b) Paying Agents

Payments will be made in accordance with the Terms and Conditions. HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG, Königsallee 21/23, D-40212 Düsseldorf, Federal Republic of Germany, will act as Principal Paying Agent. BNP Paribas Securities Services, a company incorporated with limited liability under the laws of France whose registered office is situated at 3 rue d'Antin, 75002 Paris, France, acting from its main office at 66 rue de la Victoire, 75009 Paris, will act as French Paying Agent. The Issuer may appoint further paying agents other than the Paying Agents referred to above (including an agent in Italy) and will give notice of any changes made to the Paying Agents. The relevant Paying Agent(s) will be specified in the Final Terms.

c) Underwriting

The Derivative Securities issued under this Programme may be underwritten or not. They may be placed by a group of underwriting banks or placed by a group of other distributors, or be placed by individual underwriting banks or by individual other distributors. In the event of underwriting by one or more banks, the names and addresses of the banks will be specified in the Final Terms.

d) Subscription Agreement

If Derivative Securities are underwritten by a group of underwriting banks or by individual banks, the Issuer will enter into a subscription agreement with such banks for the purposes of underwriting. The underwriting banks will receive a commission for the underwriting and placing, if any, of the Derivative Securities, details of such commission will be set forth in the Final Terms. The Issuer will make certain representations and warranties to the banks in the subscription agreement and will agree to be liable for any damage or loss incurred by the banks in connection with a breach of such representations and warranties.

3) Calculation Agent

Unless otherwise provided in the Final Terms, the relevant amount of interest and the Derivative Settlement Amount payable on any Derivative Security will be finally and conclusively determined by HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt AG, Königsallee 21/23, D-40212 Düsseldorf, Federal Republic of Germany, or any other entity as specified in the relevant Final Terms, as Calculation Agent.

5) Admission to Trading and Dealing Arrangements

a) Admission to Trading

Application may, in the future, be made to list Derivative Securities on a regulated market of any Stock Exchange in Germany, in France, in Italy or any other Member State within the European Economic Area, or to trade Derivative Securities on an open market (Freiverkehr) segment of any Stock Exchange in Germany or on an equivalent market of a Stock Exchange in any other Member State within the European Economic Area, or Derivative Securities may not be so listed or so traded at all, in each case as specified in the relevant Final Terms.

In the event of a purchase or sale through the stock exchange, the prices are subject to supply and demand and are determined in accordance with the relevant applicable exchange rules and regulations.

b) Stock Exchange Listings

If in relation to an offer or admission to trading of Derivative Securities to the knowledge of the Issuer, securities of the same class of securities to be offered or admitted to trading are already admitted to trading, this will be set out in the relevant Final Terms.

c) Market Making

Information relating to market making, if any, may be set forth in the relevant Final Terms.

6) Additional Information

a) Advisers

If any advisers are involved in an issue, the Final Terms will set out such advisers and state their capacity.

b) Audit Reports

The issues of Derivative Securities will be audited or reviewed by a statutory auditor only in connection with the annual or interim audits of the Issuer, only if and to the extent such audits are required.

c) Experts

In connection with the preparation of this Base Prospectus, the Issuer has not relied on statements made by experts.

d) Information Sources

Details relating to the information sources from which information included in the Final Terms has been obtained can be found in the relevant Final Terms.

e) Credit Rating

As of the date of approval of this Base Prospectus, the Issuer has received the following ratings from the rating agency set out below:

Rating Agency	Long-Term (LT) Issuer Default Rating (IDR)	Short-Term Rating
Fitch Ratings Ltd.	AA	F1+

Rating information is merely an aid for investors for the purposes of decision-making and cannot replace an individual assessment as to the suitability of an investment to be made by the investor and may not be taken as a recommendation to purchase or sell certain Derivative Securities. Ratings are merely intended as a support when making an investment decision and are only one of the factors relevant to an evaluation, which factor must be seen and weighted in the context of other factors. As ratings often are amended only after the creditworthiness of an issuer has changed, investors have to make their own judgments although a rating may exist.

f) Post-Issuance Information

The Final Terms will specify whether the Issuer will provide post-issuance information and, if so, the manner of information and where such information can be obtained.

Annex 1:
Terms and Conditions of the Securities

The Terms and Conditions set forth below, as consolidated or specified and completed by the Final Terms, will apply to the Warrants/Certificates of each Series to be issued under the Programme. Conditions which need to be completed, as indicated by a placeholder, and specified drafting alternatives will be determined by the Final Terms relating to the relevant issue of Warrants/Certificates.

The Terms and Conditions below are set out in the German and English language. The Final Terms applicable to the relevant issue will specify which language version shall be the binding version with respect to such issue or will contain only one language version.

Auf die unter dem Programm zu begebenden Optionsscheine/Zertifikate einer jeden Serie kommen die nachfolgend abgedruckten, jeweils durch die Endgültigen Bedingungen konsolidierten oder vervollständigten bzw. konkretisierten Bedingungen der Optionsscheine/Zertifikate zur Anwendung. Durch einen Platzhalter gekennzeichnete ausfüllungsbedürftige Bedingungen sowie vorgegebene Gestaltungsalternativen werden durch die Endgültigen Bedingungen für die jeweilige Emission von Optionsscheinen/Zertifikaten festgelegt.

Die nachfolgenden Bedingungen der Optionsscheine/Zertifikate sind in deutscher und in englischer Sprache abgedruckt, von denen jeweils eine Fassung in den Endgültigen Bedingungen für die betreffende Emission als bindend festgelegt werden wird bzw. in nur einer Sprachfassung in den Endgültigen Bedingungen enthalten sein wird.

§ 3 INTEREST

§ 3 VERZINSUNG

Especially in case of structured interest Certificates, consider the following:

[11] Securities (including Securities (denominated in Sterling) in respect of which the issue proceeds are to be accepted by the Issuer in the United Kingdom or whose issue otherwise constitutes a contravention of section 19 of the FSMA and which have a maturity of less than one year must have a minimum denomination redemption value of £100,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies).

[12] Wertpapiere (einschließlich auf Pfund Sterling lautender Wertpapiere), bei denen der Emissionserlös von der Emittentin im Vereinigten Königreich entgegengenommen wird oder sofern durch deren Emission ein anderer Verstoß gegen Section 19 der FSMA vorliegt und die eine Laufzeit von weniger als einem Jahr haben, müssen eine Mindestrückzahlungswert je Stückelung von £100,000 (oder dem Äquivalent in einer anderen Währung) haben.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

HSBC Trinkaus held up well in a difficult market environment in the first half of 2008. Despite the major turmoil on the money and capital markets, the Bank continued along its path of success and was able to report a favourable result, also compared to the competition.

The following interim management report should be read in conjunction with our group management report for 2007. The organisation, structure and strategic orientation of the Group still correspond to the statements made in the group management report.

Interim Management Report

The money and capital markets were characterised by further, partly substantial turbulence in the first half of 2008. Despite this difficult market environment, HSBC Trinkaus was able to strengthen its position further. As expected, though, operating profit was down compared to the extremely successful prior-year period by around 15 % to € 101.4 million. However, like net profit for the period of € 69.5 million it was on the level of the successful first half of 2006.

General Economic Setting

The global economy is currently exposed to substantial burdens. The situation in many countries has clouded over as a result of the real estate crisis and the problems it has triggered in the financial sector on the one hand and rising raw material prices on the other. The world's largest national economy, the USA, has been affected by this above all and is likely to be heading for a recession despite the major interest rate cuts carried out by the Fed. Business activity in Germany, on the other hand, appears to have been in a robust state in the first half of the year overall despite this headwind. All the same, the economic prospects for the Eurozone for 2009 have clouded over substantially as shown by the latest surveys conducted among companies.

The ECB maintained short-term interest rates up to the end of the first half of the year on an unchanged level of 4.0 % although the inflation rate increasingly exceeded the ECB target. On 3 July 2008, the ECB increased its key interest rate by 0.25 percentage points to the current level of 4.25 % therefore continuing with the cycle of interest rate increases which has been unbroken since mid-2007 on account of the financial crisis. At the same time, the DAX® suffered a substantial decline of over 20 % in the first half of the year.

Report on Profitability, Assets and Financial Position

Profitability

The individual items of the operating result are summarised below:

- Net interest income increased by 16.6 % to € 63.3 million. This was due in particular to lower interest expenses as a result of slightly lower deposits by our customers on the one hand and the expansion of loans and advances to customers resulting in higher interest income on the other. At the same time, interest income from financial assets remained on a favourably high level.

- There was an addition to net loan impairment and other credit risk provisions of € 0.7 million compared to a net reversal of € 2.7 million in the prior-year period. This addition is based above all on the increase in collectively assessed impairments since the beginning of the year. HSBC Trinkaus continues to apply its traditionally conservative default risk assessment policy.

- Net fee income increased by 8.2 % to € 178.6 million. It is to be taken into consideration that the first-time full consolidation of International Transaction Services GmbH (ITS) this year resulted in a positive contribution of € 20.9 million. This contribution from ITS was able to compensate the decline in the issuing and structuring business. It can be observed that the considerable restraint shown by our clients in the light of the uncertainties on the capital markets is putting pressure on net fee income. In the comparable prior-year period, the successful placement of the H.E.A.T Mezzanine III participation rights issue as well as the successful sale of a real estate fund made a substantial contribution to net fee income.

- Net trading income, which declined only marginally in the first six months by 4.3 % to € 62.4 million, remains on a very high level. Income from equities and equity/index derivatives trading, which was able to improve on the already excellent result in the prior-year period by 3.9 % to € 48.5 million, remains the strongest contributor to net trading income. There was a decline in the interest product and foreign exchange trading business in the period under review.

- Administrative expenses were up by 15.4 % to € 204.4 million. In addition to the increase in the number of employees, the increase in staff expenses was due to the first-time full consolidation of ITS which brought about additional expenses of € 8.5 million alone. The increase in other administrative expenses is also result of the additional expenses incurred by ITS of € 8.4 million. Additional fees for IT advisory services preparatory to the introduction of the withholding tax as well as additional group expenses as a result of our stronger cooperation with the HSBC Group were also responsible for the increase. At 66.7 % the cost:income ratio, the main indicator of success for our banking business, is still comfortably within the adequate range for our business model of 65 % to 70 %.

Assets

Total assets were up slightly compared to the 2007 year-end figure by 2.3 % to € 20.6 billion. On the liabilities side, customer deposits remain our main source of refinancing. Furthermore, we were able to expand the portfolio of loans and advances to customers with a good credit standing thanks to an increase in the number of client relationships, above all in the corporate banking business.

At € 921.8 million shareholders' equity was 4.8 % down on the figure at the end of 2007 (€ 968.7 million). The valuation reserve for financial instruments declined from € 76.2 million to € 29.1 million. This is due primarily to the turmoil on the money and capital markets which led to lower equity, fund and bond prices. The decline in the valuation reserve in respect of pension obligations of € 5.3 million is essentially the result of the development of plan assets.

Financial position

The Bank's financial position is still characterised by excellent liquidity. The regulatory requirements were exceeded significantly with the key liquidity ratio in accordance with Principle II of the German Banking Act (Grundsatz II) at an average of 1.61 for the end-of-month position. At € 9.9 billion customer accounts were only slightly below the level at the end of 2007. We still invest a substantial portion of this liquidity in short-dated bank securities as well as in the interbank market, giving preference to other HSBC Group companies. We also significantly increased holdings of debt securities issued by public sector agencies. The capital ratio according to the German Banking Act (KWG) increased from 10.7 % at the end of 2007 to 11.2 %. As the figures have been calculated according to Basel II since 1 January 2008, they are only comparable to a limited extent.

Principal opportunities and risks

Our risk management system is geared towards consciously accepting and controlling risk within the scope of the overall management of risks which are customary to banking operations in order to use the resulting yield opportunities. We regard counterparty, market and liquidity risk, operative and strategic risks and not least also risks to our reputation as the principal risks of our banking business. Opportunities exist in both acquiring new clients and expanding existing client relationships and the possible increase in net interest and fee income as a result. Our aim is to continue to generate good net trading income through the targeted use of market fluctuations as well as active product marketing at the same time as maintaining strict limit discipline.

The risk management and risk reporting procedures described in the latest consolidated financial statements still correspond to the current conditions.

Credit and market price risks can be quantified as follows after the first half of 2008:

Credit risk

The maximum credit risk after the first six months of 2008 breaks down into the sectors listed below:

	30.6.2008		31.12.2007
	in €m	in %	in €m	in %
Risk concentration by sector
Banks and financial institutions	13,161.7	52.4	12,909.8	51.3
Companies and self-employed professionals	8,855.0	35.2	10,885.3	43.3
Public sector	2,574.3	10.2	736.3	2.9
Employed private individuals	561.1	2.2	635.9	2.5
Total	25,152.1	100.0	25,167.3	100.0

The quality of the loans and advances (including contingent liabilities and loan commitments) which are neither overdue, nor impaired can be assessed from the following overview:

	30.6.2008		31.12.2007
	in €m	in %	in €m	in %
Rating classes 1–2	7,812.4	59.1	8,371.6	61.3
Rating classes 3–4	5,393.0	40.8	5,283.9	38.7
Rating class 5	15.4	0.1	7.8	0.0
Total	13,220.8	100.0	13,663.3	100.0

Market risk

The total market risk after the first six months of 2008 is as follows:

in €m	30.6.2008	31.12.2007
Interest-rate-related transactions	7.9	9.2
Equity/index-related transactions	4.6	3.6
Currency-related transactions	0.6	1.0
Total potential market risk in the trading portfolio	9.8	10.2

The potential market risk for all market risk categories is calculated according to a standard internal model. To measure market risks in our trading book under normal market conditions we have been using a value-at-risk approach for many years. We understand value-at-risk to be the potential loss which will, with 99 % probability, not be exceeded within a holding period of ten trading days, assuming unaltered trading positions, in the event of an unfavourable market trend. By taking correlations into consideration, the overall potential market risk is lower than the risks per risk category.

Forecast

The global economy lost momentum in the first half of 2008. In addition, there are growing signs that there will be a further notable slowdown in cyclical momentum in the months ahead. We believe this is due to the fact that the disturbances on the capital markets, some of which are considerable, could increasingly spill over onto the real economy. Some forecasts for growth rates have already been corrected downwards in recent months. The latest economic forecasts for Germany have also been revised correspondingly as waning impetus from abroad and restraint on the part of domestic consumers owing to the increase in energy prices have to be assumed. The recent increase in key interest rates is putting pressure on the bond markets and volatility on the stock markets is extremely high which will have a negative impact on the number of securities transactions if it continues for some time. The US dollar remains weak and is therefore depressing the export business.

We nevertheless see good earnings opportunities for our Bank in the second half of the year in the scenario outlined above. Despite difficult market conditions, we want to reach the result recorded in the 2006 financial year which would be a very good result, not only in relation to the competition. Should the markets improve contrary to the general expectations, we see ourselves as being in the position, despite the very high starting base, even to repeat the result recorded in the latest financial year. The excellent cooperation with the HSBC Group speaks not least for our positive expectations. This strategic advantage will continue to open up the opportunity for us to expand our market shares in the clearly defined target groups of high net worth private clients, corporate clients and institutional clients. We plan to make further additions to our workforce in the private banking business in all regions in order to meet the growing challenges in the professional servicing of significant assets. In the corporate banking business we will continue in particular with the expansion of our investment banking and banking services. Not least, our institutional clients will benefit substantially through us from the capital strength and global product range of the HSBC Group.

Report on business relationships with companies and persons defined as related parties

HSBC Trinkaus still has significant business relationships with other companies of the HSBC Group. The results of these business relationships are reflected above all in net fee income and net interest income. In the balance sheet significant loans and advances to other HSBC units are set against liabilities to these units. A large number of trading positions are also entered into directly or hedged with the Group's affiliated companies. All transactions are concluded at normal market prices.

It can be seen that our Bank is continuing with its good performance overall. We are therefore convinced that HSBC Trinkaus is well equipped to master the challenges which lie ahead as well.

Notes to the Consolidated Income Statement and the Consolidated Balance Sheet

This Interim Report for the HSBC Trinkaus Group as at 30 June 2008 was drawn up in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as they are to be applied in the European Union. In particular, it satisfies the interim reporting requirements as set out in IAS 34. Furthermore, the report takes into consideration the requirement of an interim management statement pursuant to Section 37w German Securities Trading Act (WpHG). No review of the Interim Report was carried out by external auditors.

When drawing up this Interim Report, including the comparable figures for the prior-year periods, we applied the same accounting and valuation methods as in the 2007 consolidated financial statements with the exception of one standard and one interpretation in each case:

IFRS 8, Operating Segments, requires the identification of reportable operating segments based on the "management approach" and its adoption is obligatory for all financial statements that start on or after 1 January 2009. Its early first-time adoption has not led to any material changes.

IFRIC 11, Group and Treasury Share Transactions, deals with how share-based payments granted by the parent company to the employees of a subsidiary are to be recognised in the financial statements of the subsidiary. The interpretation became applicable in the reporting period and its retrospective application pursuant to IAS 8 led to an increase in shareholders' equity of € 3.6 million for full 2007 as well as additional expenses after tax of € 0.1 million up to the end of the first half of 2008.

All other changes to standards which we did not apply early have no impact on or are only of minor significance for our consolidated financial statements.

The balanced business structure at HSBC Trinkaus paid off in the first half of 2008. The Corporate Banking and Institutional Clients segments reported increases in earnings despite the repercussions of the subprime crisis. The burdens resulting from the unfavourable market environment prevented the Private Banking and Global Trading segments from repeating their extraordinarily good prior-year results.

The Corporate Banking segment recorded a particularly strong increase compared to the previous year. This was due on the one hand to higher net interest income as a result of the increase in sight deposits and lending volume at the same time as an increase in the margin on the deposits side. On the other, there was an improvement in net fee income in the securities, international and foreign exchange business. The Institutional Clients segment was extremely successful in comparison with the previous year in the equities, fixed income and custody business. In the Private Banking segment, the increases in revenues in Asset Management and in the business with structured interest products were almost enough to compensate the substantial reduction in transaction revenues in the securities business owing to the restraint shown by many investors on account of the market environment. The Global Markets segment was affected most by the unfavourable general setting and was not able to reach its outstanding prior-year result. There was a significant decline in the business with structured interest and credit products. All the same, net trading income provides impressive evidence of the Bank's strict risk and limit discipline.

In addition to the lower allocation of costs owing to a decline in the number of transactions and the costs for the introduction of the withholding tax, the substantial increase in revenues and administrative expenses in the Central Divisions compared to last year is due to the repurchase of all shares in our securities settlements subsidiary, ITS, at the end of 2007. While consolidated at equity last year, all of ITS' revenue and cost items are reported on a fully-consolidated basis this year.

Transactions with both positive and negative market values are taken into account in the determination of the nominal amounts. The stated positive market values of transactions represent the replacement values that may arise in the event of the default of all OTC counterparties, regardless of their individual credit rating. The values consist of current interest, foreign currency and equity/index-related transactions which include a settlement risk as well as corresponding market price risks. Netting agreements are not taken into account. As there is no counterparty risk on exchange traded products and short positions, the market values of these products are not shown. In the derivatives business there are significant concentrations with respect to the HSBC Group due to the close cooperation in the Global Markets segment.

With effect from 1 January 2008, HSBC Trinkaus acquired 49.0 % of the shares of International Transaction Services GmbH which provides securities settlement services for HSBC Trinkaus and other companies. HSBC Trinkaus now holds 100 % of the shares of ITS which was set up in 2005 as a joint venture with T-Systems Enterprise Services GmbH. We understand this acquisition as a clear commitment by the Bank to our clients for a high-quality securities settlement service.

Responsibility Statement by the Management Board

To the best of our knowledge, and in accordance with the applicable reporting principles for interim financial reporting, the interim consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the assets, liabilities, financial position and profit or loss of the Group, and the interim management report of the Group includes a fair review of the development and performance of the business and the position of the Group, together with a description of the principal opportunities and risks associated with the expected development of the Group for the remaining months of the financial year.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

HSBC Trinkaus' virtues have proven themselves and are also highly appreciated by our clients in these turbulent times. By way of example, customer deposits grew by around € 2 billion in the third quarter, therefore reaching a new record level. This means that our liquidity position is better than ever. Both our own financial strength and, in particular, the efficiency and reputation of our majority shareholder, HSBC, are convincing arguments for winning over new clients.

HSBC Trinkaus' financial strength can be seen among other things from the fact that we

- constantly exceeded the minimum liquidity requirements imposed by the banking supervisory authorities by far as we have invested considerable amounts in the HSBC Group and in the secured money market on a very short term basis which are available to us at almost any time,

- did not make use of the refinancing facility at the Deutsche Bundesbank in the third quarter, although we have deposited around € 2.8 billion in eligible assets, and will not resort to the state rescue fund,

- report both positive net trading income and profit before taxes even in the difficult third quarter and

- have not taken advantage of the relaxation of IFRS accounting regarding the reclassification of assets in the balance sheet introduced retrospectively on an ad hoc basis.

Thanks to these financial strengths we have been able to face the challenges presented in recent weeks and months relatively well. We are gaining market shares and are also well positioned for the future.

The most important figures in detail:

- Net interest income: up 16.0 % from € 83.6 million to € 97.0 million
  We benefit directly from our financial strength in net interest income as the substantial inflows of funds from our professional and private clients are passed on to the HSBC Group and in the secured money market.

- Net fee income: up 7.4 % from € 242.9 million to € 260.9 million
  In contrast, net fee income was influenced by factors working in opposite directions. On the one hand, the transaction figures are unusually high in these times of hectic trading, but the declines on all important global exchanges will lead to lower average transaction figures for the year. On the other, there has been a sharp decline on both the markets for structured products, particularly of late, and in the demand for investment banking services. It is to be taken into consideration as an extraordinary effect on net fee income that we have fully consolidated International Transaction Services GmbH (ITS) for the first time this year after acquiring the outstanding shares. As a result, net fee income was supported by the net fee income generated by ITS with other clients.

- Net trading income: down 17.7 % from € 84.3 million to € 69.4 million, but also positive in the third quarter
  There were also diverging trends in the trading business. Income from equities and equity derivatives trading again increased substantially. As we keep a large part of our liquid Treasury investments in bonds with a mark-to-market valuation, the partly dramatic spread widening, in particular in September, led to valuation losses. The sales-trading bond positions were affected in the same way.

- Administrative expenses: up 12.9 % from € 262.5 million to € 296.4 million
  The first-time inclusion of ITS also means that administrative expenses are only comparable with the previous year to a limited extent. Excluding ITS' administrative expenses, the increase would have been extremely moderate at 3 %. The remaining rise in costs was the result on the one hand of the increase in the number of employees. On the other, we made further investments in our hardware and software in order to continue to meet the constantly growing requirements on a high level. However, performance-based remuneration declined in line with the overall result. The introduction of the flat tax on capital income will put considerable pressure on our administrative expenses this year as an extraordinary effect.

- Net income from financial assets: down from € 3.4 million profit to € 16.5 million loss
  Owing to the drastic deterioration in the credit standings of financial market players, we have had to carry out writedowns on several bonds and debt securities of these issuers. Since our writedowns have resulted in very low residual values, possible defaults have already been largely digested in the income statement in this quarter. Losses were also realised on the sale of financial stocks.

- Net loan impairment and other credit risk provisions: after a € 3.7 million reversal, now a € 1.7 million addition
  With an addition of € 1.7 million net loan impairments and other credit risk provisions are still at the lower end of our budget. We remain unaffected by major defaults in the lending business. However, as we are expecting a further slowdown in business activity accompanied by higher default risks, we have increased our portfolio writedowns slightly as a precaution.

- Operating profit: down 17.6 % from € 162.2 million to € 133.6 million
  Overall, we were not able to repeat the record result recorded the previous year, but that was also not to be expected given the difficult conditions. Instead, operating profit is slightly below the comparable result for 2006 after nine months. As 2006 was the second best year in our history, we regard this as an extremely solid interim result, also in a market comparison.

Forecast

HSBC Trinkaus has held up well in this extremely difficult period in both absolute terms and in relation to the competition. We will not be able to maintain the level achieved in our record year 2007, but we are confident of being able to generate a result which is presentable given the continuation of the difficult market situation. Not least an efficient and above all resilient business model which is geared towards our clearly defined target groups of wealthy private clients, corporate clients and institutional clients speaks in favour of this. This clear strategic orientation is certainly one reason why we are appreciated by our clients as a "safe haven" in these turbulent times. Outside our client business, we have also not been able to escape writedowns in our investment book on account of the latest and so far most sensitive events to take place in the financial system and the associated financial difficulties being experienced by various financial market players. However, these writedowns do not impair the Bank's sustained earning power.

Notes to the Consolidated Income Statement and the Consolidated Balance Sheet

This Interim Report for the HSBC Trinkaus & Burkhardt Group as at 30 September 2008 was drawn up in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as they are to be applied in the European Union. In particular, it satisfies the interim reporting requirements as set out in IAS 34. Furthermore, the report takes into consideration the requirement of an interim management statement pursuant to Section 37x German Securities Trading Act (WpHG). No review of the Interim Report was carried out by external auditors.

When drawing up this Interim Report, including the comparable figures for the prior-year periods, we applied the same accounting and valuation methods as in the 2007 consolidated financial statements with the exception of one standard and one interpretation in each case:

IFRS 8, Operating Segments, requires the identification of reportable operating segments based on the "management approach" and its adoption is obligatory for all financial statements that start on or after 1 January 2009. Its early first-time adoption has not led to any material changes.

IFRIC 11, Group and Treasury Share Transactions, deals with how share-based payments granted by the parent company to the employees of a subsidiary are to be recognised in the financial statements of the subsidiary. The interpretation became applicable in the reporting period and its retrospective application pursuant to IAS 8 led to an increase in shareholders' equity of € 3.6 million for full 2007 as well as additional expenses after tax of € 0.3 million.

All other changes to standards which we did not apply early have no impact on or are only of minor significance for our consolidated financial statements.

Despite the severe financial market crisis, the Corporate Banking and Institutional Clients segments again managed to improve on the strong results recorded the previous year. The Private Banking and Global Markets segments were not able to repeat their extraordinarily good prior-year results, though, due to these unfavourable market conditions.

In addition to higher net interest income as a result of the strong increase in sight deposits and lending volume at the same time as an increase in margins on the deposits side, the Corporate Banking segment also improved net fee income in the fixed income, international and foreign exchange business compared to the previous year. Revenue growth in the Institutional Clients segment was particularly strong in the fixed income and custody business. Thanks to the successful Asset Management and fixed income business the Private Banking segment was able to almost make up for the slump in transaction revenues in the securities business owing to the restraint shown by many investors on account of the market environment. The Global Markets segment was affected in particular by the unfavourable general setting and revenues therefore fell short of their outstanding prior-year level, especially in respect to interest products. Nevertheless, Global Markets again reported a good result thanks to its strict risk and limit discipline.

The substantial increase in revenues and administrative expenses in the Central Divisions as well as in overall bank costs compared to the previous year is due to the full repurchase of all shares in our securities settlements subsidiary, ITS, at the end of 2007. While ITS' results were consolidated at equity last year, all of ITS' individual revenue and cost items are reported on a fully-consolidated basis this year. In addition, the lower allocation of costs to the customer segments and Global Markets owing to a decline in the number of transactions as well as the costs for the introduction of the flat tax on capital income had an impact on the development of administrative expenses in the Central Divisions.

Transactions with both positive and negative market values are taken into account in the determination of the nominal amounts. The stated positive market values of transactions represent the replacement values that may arise in the event of the default of all OTC counterparties, regardless of their individual credit rating. The values consist of current interest, foreign currency and equity/index-related transactions which include a settlement risk as well as corresponding market price risks. Netting agreements are not taken into account. As there is no counterparty risk on exchange traded products and short positions, the market values of these products are not shown. In the derivatives business there are significant concentrations with respect to the HSBC Group due to the close cooperation in the Global Markets segment.

Overall market risk potential	10.9	10.2

The market risk potential is calculated for all market risk categories with a standard internal model. To measure market risks in our trading book under normal market conditions we have used for many years a value-at-risk approach. We understand value-at-risk to be the potential loss which will, with 99 % probability, not be exceeded within one trading day, assuming unaltered trading positions, in the event of an unfavourable market trend. By taking correlations into consideration the overall market risk potential is lower than the sum of the risks per risk category.
